Rogers, Mary Ann Rogers, 1985 This study addresses itself to the formal in the topological sense aspect of literature and literary words and concludes that if logos discursive language and mythos literary language are indeed contiguous complementary forms they are then essentially no different from those forms with which the painter or sculptor deals in the formation of his art object Choreographing Relations Petra Sabisch, 2011 Choreographing Relations undertakes the experiment of a conceptual site development of contemporary choreography by means of practical philosophy Guided by the radically empiricist question What Can Choreography Do the book investigates the performances of Antonia Baehr Juan Dominguez Xavier Le Roy and Eszter Salamon and the philosophical works of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari It establishes a relation between these practitioners as an encounter
