Bougainville before the conflict Anthony J Regan,Helga M Griffin,2015-08-03 One of the most beautiful island groups of the Pacific Bougainville has a remarkable history Tragically it is as the site of devastating civil conflict that Bougainville is perhaps best known In exploring the rich environmental cultural and social heritage of Bougainville before the conflict this collection provides an insight into the long term causes of the crisis In doing so it surveys such topics as Bougainville s prehistory and traditional cultures the impact of German and Australian colonialism the attempts by disparate local cultures to find a common identity the assertion of political autonomy in the face of coercion to integrate with Papua New Guinea and contemporary efforts to resolve conflict and plan a viable future A landmark collaboration between expert commentators on Bougainville and Bougainvilleans themselves this volume provides a comprehensive picture for those seeking to understand Bougainville s history and future directions Bougainville before the conflict was published in association with the State Society and Governance in Melanesia Project which is supported by The Australian National University and the Commonwealth of Australia Rethinking Women's Roles Denise O'Brien,Sharon W. The Languages and Linguistics of the New Guinea Area Bill Palmer,2017-12-04 The Languages and Linguistics of the New Guinea Area A Comprehensive Guide is part of the multi volume reference work on the languages and linguistics of all major regions of the world The island of New Guinea and its offshore islands is arguably the most diverse and least documented linguistic hotspot in the world home to over 1300 languages almost one fifth of all living languages in more than 40 separate families along with numerous isolates Traditionally one of the least understood linguistic regions ongoing research allows for the first time a comprehensive guide Given the vastness of the region and limited previous overviews this volume focuses on an account of the families and major languages of each area within the region including brief grammatical descriptions of many of the languages The volume also includes a typological overview of Papuan languages and a chapter on Austronesian Papuan contact It will make accessible current knowledge on this complex region and will be the standard reference on the region It is aimed at typologists endangered language specialists graduate and advanced undergraduate students and all those interested in linguistic diversity and understanding this least known linguistic region Gender, Kinship and Power Mary Jo Maynes,Ann Waltner,Birgitte Soland,Ulrike Strasser,2014-01-27 Through twenty engaging essays exploring cultures ranging from ancient Judaic civilization to contemporary Brazil Gender Kinship and Power places important contemporary issues related to kinship such as parental responsibility and female headed households in their proper comparative and historical framework Religions of Melanesia Garry Trompf, 2006-09-30 Melanesia boasts over one quarter of the world's distinct religions and presents the most complex religious panorama on earth. The region is famous for its unusual new religious movements that have adapted traditional beliefs to modernity in surprising ways. As the first bibliographical survey to comprehensively cover the entire region, Religions of Melanesia is an invaluable research aid for anyone interested in this growing field. Trompf's work is a complete listing of scholarly publications and provides readable and concise descriptions that will clearly guide the researcher toward the most relevant sources. This survey covers 2188 entries organized topically and regionally. Trompf covers such subjects as traditional and modern belief systems and the emergent indigenous Christianity that has taken root. Regional coverage includes Irian Jaya, Papua New Guinea, Solomon Islands, Vanuatu, New Caledonia, and Fiji Dealing with Inequality Marilyn Strathern, 1987-12-10 This 1987 volume comprises ten essays by anthropologists who interrogate the nature of social inequality between the sexes in societies mostly in Melanesia Schooling, Conflict and Peace in the Southwestern Pacific David Oakeshott, 2024-11-27 Bringing concepts from critical transitional justice and peacebuilding into dialogue with education, this book examines the challenges youth and their teachers face in the post-conflict settings of Bougainville and Solomon Islands. Youth in these places must reconcile with the violent past of their parents' generation while also learning how to live with people once on opposing sides. This book traces how students and their teachers form connections to the past and each other that cut through the forces that might divide them. The findings illustrate novel ways to think about the potential for education to assist post-conflict recovery Matriliny and Mortuary Feasting Among the Sursurunga of New Ireland, Papua New Guinea Alexander H. Bolyanatz, 1994 Ibss: Anthropology: 1975 International Committee for Social Science, 1978-08-24 First published in 1978, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company Islands of Hope Paul D'Arcy, Daya Dakasi Da-Wei Kuan, 2023-05-25 In the Pacific as elsewhere, indigenous communities live with the consequences of environmental mismanagement and over-exploitation but rarely benefit from the short-term economic profits such actions may generate within the global system. National and international policy frameworks ultimately rely on local community assent. Without effective local participation and partnership, these extremely imposed frameworks miss out on millennia of local observation and understanding and seldom deliver viable and sustained environmental, cultural, and economic benefits at the local level. This collection argues that environmental sustainability, indigenous political empowerment, and economic viability will succeed only by taking account of distinct local contexts and cultures. In this regard, these Pacific indigenous case studies offer islands of hope for all communities marginalised by increasingly intrusive and increasingly rapid technological changes and by global dietary, economic, political, and military forces with whom they have no direct contact or influence Saltwater Sociality Katharina Schneider, 2012-02-01 The inhabitants of Pororan Island, a small group of saltwater people in Papua New Guinea, are intensely interested in the movements of persons across the island and across the sea both in their everyday lives as fishing people and on ritual occasions From their observations of human movements they take their cues about the current state of social relations Based on detailed ethnography this study engages current Melanesian anthropological theory and argues that movements are the Pororans predominant mode of objectifying relations Movements on Pororan Island are to its inhabitants what roads are to mainlanders on the nearby larger island and what material objects and images are to others elsewhere in Melanesia The Metamorphoses of Kinship Maurice Godelier,2012-03-03 With marriage in decline divorce on the rise the demise of the nuclear family and the increase in marriages and adoptions among same sex partners it is clear that the structures of kinship in the modern West are in a state of flux In The Metamorphoses of Kinship the world renowned anthropologist Maurice Godelier contextualizes these developments surveying the accumulated experience of humanity with regard to such phenomena as the organization of lines of descent sexuality and sexual prohibitions In parallel Godelier studies the evolution of Western conjugal and familial traditions from their roots in the nineteenth century to the present The conclusion he draws is that it is never the case that a man and a woman are sufficient on their own to raise a child and nowhere are relations of kinship or the family the keystone of society Godelier argues that the changes of the last thirty years do not herald the disappearance or death agony of kinship but rather its remarkable metamorphosis one that ironically is bringing us closer to the traditional societies studied by ethnologists

Papua New Guinea John Connell,2005-07-28 Since 1975 the economy of Papua New Guinea has focused on mineral rather than agricultural production as previously This is the first book to look at these changes in a complex rapidly evolving nation from an economic perspective

Circulation in Population Movement (Routledge Revivals) Murray Chapman,R. Mansell Prothero,2013-09-05 First published in 1985 this collection of essays deals with processes of population movement and how they have operated over time It is also about people Melanesian s who number some five million and inhabit the region stretching from the Indonesian province of Irian Jaya to the Independent State of Fiji Standard work on Movement in third world societies has emphasized migration involving a shift in residence from one domicile to another at the expense of the interchange of people between diverse places and different circumstances Many moves as from villages and towns are circulatory they begin at go away from but ultimately end in the same dwelling place and community This book focuses on the full range of territorial mobility especially circulation and its meanings for the people involved This volume brings together indigenous scholars foreign field researchers and international authorities from many of the social sciences anthropology demography economics geography and sociology It presents a set of multicultural statements about the mobility of particular peoples within a region of the third world This collection about specifically Melanesian issues aims to stimulate broader visions among population scholars and it underlines the pressing need for more theoretical and empirical work on a volatile yet neglected category of population movement

The Anthropology of Moralities Monica Heintz,2009 Anthropologists have been keenly aware of the tension between cultural relativism and absolute norms and nowhere has this been more acute than with regards to moral values Can we study the Other s morality without applying our own normative judgments How do social anthropologists keep both the distance required by science and the empathy required for the analysis of lived experiences The plurality of moralities has not received an explicit and focused attention until recently when accelerated globalization often resulted in the collision of different value systems Observing describing and assessing values cross culturally the authors propose various methodological approaches to the study of moralities illustrated with rich ethnographic accounts thus offering a valuable guide for students of anthropology sociology and cultural studies and for professionals concerned with the empirical and cross cultural study of values Anthropology in the Mining Industry Glynn Cochrane, 2017-01-14 This book outlines how Rio Tinto one of the world s largest miners redesigned and rebuilt relationships with communities after the rejection of the company during Bougainville s Civil War Glynn Cochrane recalls how he and colleagues utilized their training as social anthropologists to help the company to earn an industry leadership reputation and competitive business advantage by establishing the case for long term on the ground smoke in the eyes interaction with people in local communities around the world despite the appeal of maximal efficiency techniques and quicker easier answers Instead of using ready made formulaic toolkits Rio Tinto relied on community practitioners to try to accommodate local preferences and cultural differences This volume provides a step by step account of how mining companies can use social anthropological and ethnographic insights to design ways of working with local communities especially in times of upheaval Bougainville 1988-98 Karl Claxton, 1998 Kastom, property and ideology Siobhan McDonnell, Matthew Allen, Colin Filer, 2017-03-22 The relationship between customary land tenure and modern forms of landed property has been a major political issue in the Spearhead states of Melanesia since the late colonial period and is even more pressing today as the region is subject to its own version of what is described in the international literature as a new land rush or land grab in developing countries This volume aims to test the application of one particular theoretical framework to the Melanesian version of this phenomenon which is the framework put forward by Derek Hall Philip Hirsch and Tania Murray Li in their 2011 book Powers of Exclusion Land Dilemmas in Southeast Asia Since that framework emerged from studies of the agrarian transition in Southeast Asia the key question addressed in this volume is whether land transformations in Melanesia are proceeding in a similar direction or whether they take a somewhat different form because of the particular nature of Melanesian political economies or social institutions The contributors to this volume all deal with this question from the point of view of their own direct engagement with different aspects of the land policy process in particular countries Aside from discussion of the agrarian transition in Melanesia particular attention is also paid to the growing problem of land access in urban areas and the gendered nature of landed property relations in this region
