Matthew Arnold Carl Dawson, John Pfordresher, 2013-10-31 The Critical Heritage gathers together a large body of critical sources on major figures in literature Each volume presents contemporary responses to a writer's work enabling students and researchers to read for themselves for example comments on early performances of Shakespeare's plays or reactions to the first publication of Jane Austen's novels The carefully selected sources range from landmark essays in the history of criticism to journalism and contemporary opinion and little published documentary material such as letters and diaries Significant pieces of criticism from later periods are also included in order to demonstrate the fluctuations in an author's reputation Each volume contains an introduction to the writer's published works a selected bibliography and an index of works authors and subjects The Collected Critical Heritage set will be available as a set of 68 volumes and the series will also be available in mini sets selected by period in slipcase boxes and as individual volumes Twenty-First Century

Perspectives on Victorian Literature Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2014-03-06 Victorian literature's fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Brontë sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole Tiresian Poetics Ed Madden, 2008 Blind seer articulate dead and mythic transsexual the figure of Tiresias has always represented a liminal identity and forms of knowledge associated with the crossing of epistemological and ontological boundaries In twentieth century literature the boundaries crossed and embodied by Tiresias are primarily sexual and the liminal and usually prophetic knowledge associated with Tiresias is based in sexual difference and sexual pleasure Indeed in literature of the twentieth century Tiresias has come to function as a cultural shorthand for queer sexualities This book argues for the emergence of a Tiresian poetics at the end of the nineteenth century As Victorian and modernist writers reimagined Ovid's tale of sex change and sexual judgment they also created a poetics that grounded artistic or performative power in figures of sexual difference most often a feminized often homosexual male body which this study links to the developing discourses of homosexuality and sexual identity

The Powers of Distance Amanda Anderson, 2018-06-05 Combining analysis of Victorian literature and culture with forceful theoretical argument The Powers of Distance examines the progressive potential of those forms of cultivated detachment associated with Enlightenment and modern thought Amanda Anderson explores a range of practices in nineteenth century British culture including methods of objectivity in social science practices of omniscience in artistic realism and the complex forms of affiliation in Victorian cosmopolitanism Anderson demonstrates that many writers including George Eliot John Stuart Mill Charlotte Brontë Matthew Arnold and Oscar Wilde thoughtfully address the challenging moral questions that attend stances of detachment In so doing she offers a revisionist account of Victorian culture and a tempered defense of detachment as an ongoing practice and aspiration The Powers of Distance illuminates its historical object of study and provides a powerful example for its theoretical argument showing that an ideal of critical detachment underlies the ironic modes of modernism and postmodernism as well as the tradition of Enlightenment thought and critical theory Its broad understanding of detachment and cultivated distance together with its focused historical analysis will appeal to theorists and critics across the humanities particularly those working in literary and cultural studies feminism and postcolonialism Original in scope and thesis this book constitutes a major contribution to literary history and contemporary theory

Signs for the Times Chris Brooks, 2016-07-01 First published in 1984 Signs for the Times explores imaginative and creative relationships between three major areas of mid Victorian arts literature painting and architecture Through the detailed critical analysis of particular novels prose writings paintings and buildings Chris Brooks establishes a fusion of realistic and symbolic values that he sees as central to the Victorian creative imagination He argues that the creative achievement of the mid nineteenth century needs to be seen far more as a whole than it has previously and that fundamental imaginative terms are common to art and architecture to major theoretical writers such as Carlyle Ruskin and Ruskin as well as to the central literary figure of Dickens All those interested in literature art or architecture will welcome this interpretation of symbolic realism within the mid Victorian world

The English Poets: Wordsworth to Rossetti. 2d ed., rev Thomas Humphry Ward, 1888

Reading Human Nature Joseph Carroll, 2011-03-01 As the founder and leading practitioner of literary Darwinism Joseph Carroll remains at the forefront of a major movement in literary studies Signaling key new developments in this approach Reading Human Nature contains trenchant theoretical essays innovative empirical research sweeping surveys of intellectual history and sophisticated interpretations of specific literary works including The Picture of Dorian Gray Wuthering Heights The Mayor of Casterbridge and Hamlet Evolutionists in the social sciences have succeeded in delineating basic motives but have given far too little attention to the imagination Carroll makes a compelling case that literary Darwinism is not just another school or movement in literary theory It is the moving force in a fundamental paradigm change in the humanities a revolution Psychologists and anthropologists have provided massive evidence that human motives and emotions are rooted in human biology Since motives and emotions enter into all the products of a human imagination humanists now urgently need to assimilate a modern scientific understanding of human nature Integrating evolutionary social science with literary humanism Carroll offers a more complete and adequate understanding of human nature

The Nation ,1888 Writing the Poetry of Place in Britain, 1700–1807 Elizabeth R. Napier,2022-11-30 This book discusses the intrusion often inadvertent of personal voice into the poetry of landscape in Britain 1700 1807 It argues that strong conventions such as those that inhere in topographical verse of the period invite original poets to overstep those bounds while also shielding them from the repercussions of self expression Working under cover of convention in this manner and because for many of these poets place is tied in significant ways to personal history poets of place may launch unexpected explorations into memory personhood and the workings of consciousness This book thus supplements past largely political readings of landscape poetry turning to questions of self articulation and self expression in order to argue that the autobiographical impulse is a distinctive and innovative feature of much great eighteenth century poetry of place Among the poets under examination are Pope Thomson Duck Gray Goldsmith Crabbe Cowper Smith and Wordsworth
