workers and legal students Queering Higher Education Louise Morley, Daniel Leyton, 2022-12-30 This interdisciplinary and international book subjects key areas of inclusion in the global knowledge economy to critical scrutiny from queer perspectivism Drawing on empirical data from diverse international contexts including Chile Finland Japan Malaysia India Afghanistan Bangladesh Nepal Pakistan Sri Lanka Ghana Tanzania South Africa and the UK this book examines sites of affective antagonisms fragility and friction and explores whether queer theory can provide alternative readings of contemporary pathways pedagogical and research cultures political economies and policy priorities with higher education Main themes covered include The Global Knowledge Economy and Epistemic Injustice Decolonisation Internationalisation Feminist Leadership Affirmative Action Queering the Political Economy of Neoliberalism Digitalisation of academic work Both comparative and illustrative this key text provides a comparative analysis that recognises epistemic diversity multiplicity of experiences and importantly the effect of comparative reason in constructing stratified universities world fields and excluded and marginal academic experiences It also takes into account the colonial historical entanglements in the ongoing formation and disavowal of the university and academic labour Queering Higher Education Troubling Norms in the Global Knowledge Economy is ideal reading for all those interested in queer theory and how it relates to higher education

Strategies for Supporting Inclusion and Diversity in the Academy Gail Crimmins, 2020-06-29 This book explores tried and tested strategies that support student and faculty engagement and inclusion in the academy These strategies are anchored by a brief exploration of the history and effects of exclusion and deprivege in higher education However while many publications exploring academic inequality focus on the causes and impacts of structural psychological and cultural exclusion based on racism sexism classism and ableism they rarely engage in interventions to expose and combat such de privilege Capturing examples of inclusive practices that are as diverse as student and faculty populations these strategies can be easily translated and employed by organisations collectives and individuals to recognise and combat social and academic exclusion within higher education environments Education Policy and Contemporary Politics Jack Demaine, 2016-01-03

Education policy is at the very top of the political agenda the proclaimed top priority of the New Labour government Yet Labour has inherited a quasi market education system and remains under the direction of reform during the coming year This book examines new directions on issues of selection and educational opportunity gender and racism and the question of school effectiveness and school improvements The politics for the National Curriculum and its assessment are explored alongside issues of lifelong learning and IT policy The book explores the key questions of the future reform of education in contemporary Britain with contributions from the leading experts in education education policy politics and sociology

Identity and Difference in Higher Education Pauline Anderson, Jenny Williams, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2001 This volume brings together contributions from a group of authors who explore the themes of identity and difference in the context of a range of power relationships within higher education Transfer of Learning in Professional and

Vocational Education Vivienne E Cree, Cathlin Macaulay, 2002-01-04 Combining an accessible presentation of the underlying theory of transfer of learning which explains how to put theory into practice this is a text which is relevant to teaching for transfer in any professional or vocational context The first part of the book looks at what transfer of learning means how it operates the implications for teaching issues such as assessment competence outcomes In the second part contributors present case studies from social work which show how specific teaching methods can be successfully used to make the maximum use of the student's previous experience These include personal construct psychology enquiry and action learning intentional observation critical incident analysis reflective diaries process recording information technology Information on each teaching method is presented in enough detail to allow the educator to go away and use it The Lives of Foster Carers Linda Nutt, 2006-09-27 The Lives of Foster Carers analyzes the contradictions conflicts and ambiguities experienced by foster carers arising from the interpenetrations of public bureaucracy and private family life Topics covered include social policy pertinent to childcare the history of foster care service available literature on the experience of foster carers public versus private domains in foster care motivations and roles of foster carers how foster carers perceive themselves and their foster children Based on a wide range of literature and in depth interviews with forty six foster carers this book provides a valuable insight into the concerns processes and experiences of foster carers in the UK Jargon free and accessible it will appeal to foster carers practitioners students and academics in social care youth work and childcare as well as policy makers in children's services

Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research Jane Ribbens, Rosalind Edwards, 1997-12-12 How can researchers produce work with relevance to theoretical and formal traditions and requirements of public academic knowledge while still remaining faithful to the experiences and accounts of research participants based in private settings Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research explores this key dilemma and examines the interplay between theory epistemology and the detailed practice of research It does this across the whole research process access data collection and analysis and writing up research It goes on to consider ways of achieving high standards of reflexivity and openness in the strategic choices made during research examining these issues for specific projects in an open and accessible style Particular themes examined are the research dilemmas that occur from feminist perspectives in relation to researching private and personal social worlds the position of the researcher as situated between public knowledge and private experience and the dilemmas raised for researchers seeking to contribute to academic discourse while remaining close to their knowledge forms

Single Mothers In International Context Simon Duncan, Rosalind Edwards, 2013-11-05 Single mothers caring for dependent children are an important and increasing population in industrialized countries In some single mothers are seen primarily as mothers and few have paid work in others they are regarded as workers and most have paid work and sometimes they are seen as an uneasy combination of the two with varying proportions taking up paid work This edited collection explores these variations focusing on the interaction between dominant discourses around single motherhood state policies towards single mothers the structure of the labour market at national and local levels and neighbourhood supports and constraints Analysing Families Alan Carling, Simon Duncan, Rosalind Edwards, 2005-07-05 While the family and its role continues to be a key topic in social and government policy much of the literature is concerned with describing the dramatic changes that are taking place By contrast Analysing Families directly addresses the social processes responsible for these changes how social policy interacts with what families actually do Topics covered include the relationship between morality and rationality in the family context the variety of contemporary family forms the purposes and assumptions of government interventions in family life the relationship between different welfare states and different ideas about motherhood Third Way thinking on families divorce and post divorce arrangements lone parenthood and step parenting the decision to have children the economic approach to understanding family process the legitimacy of state intervention in family life With contributions from the UK and North America Analysing Families provides the framework within which to understand an increasingly important element in social policy The Parent Track Christina DeRoche, Ellie D. Berger, 2017-02-24 The Parent Track provides an in depth understanding of parenting in academia from diverse perspectives gender age race ethnicity marital status sexual orientation and at different phases of a parent s academic career This collection not only arrives at a comprehensive understanding of parenthood and academia it reveals the shifting ideologies surrounding the challenges of negotiating work and family balance in this context Earlier research on parenting has documented the ways in which women and men experience and subsequently negotiate their roles as parents in the context of the workplace and the home Particular attention has been paid to the negotiation of familial and childcare responsibilities the division of labour the availability of family friendly policies social constructions of motherhood and fatherhood power relations and gender roles and inequality Studies on the experience of parenthood within the context of academia however have lacked diversity and failed to provide qualitative accounts from scholars of all genders at varying points in their academic careers who have or are planning to have children This book addresses that gap Improving Learning by Widening Participation in Higher Education Miriam David, Ann-Marie Bathmaker, Gill Crozier, Pauline Davis, Hubert Ertl, Alison Fuller, Geoff Hayward, Sue Heath, Chris Hockings, Gareth Parry, Diane Reay, Anna Vignoles, Julian Williams, 2009-09-18 Improving Learning by Widening Participation in Higher Education presents a strong and coherent rationale for improving learning for diverse students from a range of socio economic ethnic racial and gender backgrounds within higher education and for adults across the life course Edited by Miriam David the Associate Director of the ESRC s highly successful Teaching and Learning Research Programme with contributions from the seven projects on Widening Participation in Higher Education viz Gill Crozier and Diane Reay Chris Hockings Alison Fuller and Sue Heath Anna Vignoles Geoff Hayward and Hubert Ertl Julian Williams and Pauline Davis Gareth Parry and Ann Marie Bathmaker this book provides clear and comprehensive research evidence on the policies processes pedagogies and practices of widening or increasing participation in higher education This evidence is situated within the contexts of changing individual and institutional circumstances across the life course and wider international transformations of higher education in relation to the global knowledge economy Improving Learning by Widening Participation in Higher Education also considers the changing UK policy contexts of post compulsory education how socio economically disadvantaged students raced and gendered fare through schools and into post compulsory education the kinds of academic and vocational courses including Maths undertaken the changing forms of institutional and pedagogic practices within higher education how adults view the role of higher education in their lives This book based upon both qualitative studies and quantitative datasets offers a rare insight into the overall implications for current and future policy and will provide a springboard for further research and debate It will appeal both to policy makers and practitioners as well as students within higher education
