New directions in parapsychology John Beloff, 1975

Parapsychology, Philosophy and the Mind Fiona Steinkamp, 2015-10-02 John Beloff is one of our foremost authorities in parapsychology. He is credited with an instrumental role in the acceptance of parapsychology into academia. On April 21 and 22, 2000, a two-day international conference was held by the Koestler Parapsychology Unit of the Psychology Department at the University of Edinburgh to celebrate Beloff's eightieth birthday. Most of the essays in this work were presented at this conference honoring John Beloff. All of the contributors have published a number of articles in mainstream philosophy, and their essays promote Beloff's greatest interest: a philosophical interaction with parapsychology. The book is divided into three sections, and each section has three papers. The papers in the first section, Parapsychology, Philosophy and the Mind, explore the mind-brain problem, parapsychology and the principle of closure, and a cross-cultural perspective on dualism and the self. The second section, Parapsychology, Self and Survival, looks at parapsychological phenomena and the sense of self, chrysalid therapy, and the problem of super psi. The third section, Parapsychology, Religion and Spirituality, features papers that discuss parapsychology and how it relates to Hume's view of miracles, to religion, and to the origin of the Copernican hypothesis.

An Introduction to Parapsychology, 5th ed. Harvey J. Irwin, Caroline A. Watt, 2007-03-07 This is a thoroughly updated and revised edition of our highly acclaimed university textbook on the science of parapsychology. The objective of this book is to provide an introductory survey of parapsychologists' efforts to explore the authenticity and bases of anomalous, apparently paranormal phenomena. It outlines the origins of parapsychological research and critically reviews investigations of extrasensory perception, psychokinesis, poltergeist phenomena, near-death and out-of-body experiences, and the evaluation of parapsychology as a scientific enterprise. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here.

New Frontiers of Human Science K. Ramakrishna Rao, V. Gowri Rammohan, 2002-01-01 Koneru Ramakrishna Rao has played a leading role in advancing parapsychology in the United States, India, and around the world, serving as president of both the Indian Academy of Applied Psychology and the U.S.-based Parapsychological Association. He founded the Journal of Indian Psychology and served as editor of the Journal of Parapsychology for nearly two decades. He has authored many books, including Basic Research in Parapsychology (second edition, 2001) and Consciousness Studies (2002). Thirteen essays collected here honor his contributions to the field; they are written by Rao's colleagues, students, and protégés on such topics as psychical research, prayer, and healing, consciousness, dreams, and clairvoyance. Also provided is a complete bibliography of Rao's published writings.

New Directions in Consciousness Studies Chris Nunn, 2015-10-16 New Directions in Consciousness Studies describes a range of fresh ideas which promise to significantly advance scientific understanding of human nature. Written in non-specialized language, the book draws upon concepts and research from history, philosophy, neuroscience, and physics to delineate new approaches to the study of consciousness. Early chapters deal with a range of ideas about our nature and suggest that mind can usefully be viewed as a type of dynamic landscape The account shows how our minds relate to their societies brains and bodies and how they differ from computers Later chapters develop a theory of the basis of consciousness SoS theory Using the physical concept of broken symmetry the author shows how conscious mind may be rooted in temporality a view that is supported by the occurrence of a wide range of anomalous phenomena Potentially valuable future lines of research are identified This is a unique and engaging book that will appeal to students and academics in the field of consciousness studies and other readers with an interest in consciousness The

New Age Martin Gardner,2011-03 Not since his Science Good Bad and Bogus has there been such a bountiful offering of the delightful combination of drollery and horse sense that has made Martin Gardner the undisputed dean of the critics of pseudoscience In The New Age Notes of a Fringe Watcher Gardner confronts new trends in pseudoscience and the paranormal from the much publicized past life exploits of Shirley MacLaine to the latest in perpetual motion machines from prime time preachers to the channeling mania of the past few years Many of these pieces were published in Gardner s column in the Skeptical Inquirer Others appeared in the New York Times The New York Review of Books Discover magazine and other publications Gardner has added forewords and or afterwords to most of the chapters to give background to bring recent developments to light or to include responses from his critics Destined to be a classic of skeptical literature this book will be a welcome treat for Gardner fans and a rewarding adventure for his new readers The Archetypal Process David

Griffin,1989 Archetypal Process is a pioneering study linking the ideas of process philosophy as developed by Alfred North Whitehead and Charles Hartshorne with the archetypal psychology of C G Jung and James Hillman This is the first work to examine the interconnections of these two modes of thought Archetypal Process examines the importance of cosmological thinking and the need to ground archetypal psychology in a metaphysical philosophical framework It treats the necessity for symbol and myth the nature of the spirit and language as a metaphorical vehicle of thought and finally it adds a much needed feminist perspective to the debate Dynamic Secularization William Sims Bainbridge,2017-05-11 This book discusses secularization arguing that it may be more complex and significant than is generally recognized Using a number of online exploration methods the author provides insights into how religion may be changing and how information technology might be energized in this process Working from the premise that the relationship between science and religion is complex the author demonstrates that while science has contradicted some specific religious beliefs science itself may have been facilitated by beliefs formed many centuries ago Science assists engineers in the development of powerful new technologies and asserts that the universe is based on a set of fundamental principles that can be understood by humans through the assistance of mathematics The challenging ideas discussed will benefit readers through sharing a variety of Internet based research methods and cultural discoveries The book provides a balance between quantitative methods illustrated by 24 tables of statistics and qualitative methods illustrated by 30 screenshots of computer generated virtual worlds Analysis interweaves with description creating a sense of involvement in the experience of exploring online realities at the same time as radical insights are shared The Psychophysiology of Mental Imagery Robert G. Kunzendorf, Anees Ahmad Sheikh, 2022-10-15 Serving to bridge the gap between differing approaches to psychology this new text provides some of the most compelling evidence yet for the subjective presence and objective efficacy of the mental image In this day and age of dissociation between physiological psychologists and other psychologists between cognitive scientist and mentalist between researchers and practitioners mental imagery and its psychophysiology pose some intellectually sticky problems and some promising resolutions that should bind together differing disciplines within psychology
