Archaeology David Robinson, 2017-06-30 Eighteen papers and six abstracts from the ninth symposium of the Association of Environmental Archaeology held at Roskilde Denmark in 1988 Literature Review on Residues of Anticoagulant Rodenticides in Non-Target Animals, 2010 Anticoagulant rodenticides are the principal means of controlling pest rodents in the Nordic countries Due to the intrinsic properties of second generation anticoagulants i.e. extremely slow elimination from the body and high toxicity they are prone to accumulate in the non target species which consume poisoned rodents Despite wide use there are no published studies on occurrence of residues of anticoagulant rodenticides in the non target animals in the Nordic countries This review of publicly available studies was aimed to find out which anticoagulant substances are found and in which species The concentrations are reported as well as the proportion of exposed animals We have further compiled a list of species that could potentially be exposed to anticoagulant rodenticides in the Nordic countries The review shows that anticoagulant residues have been found everywhere they have been measured and secondary exposure to second generation anticoagulants is common among certain avian and mammalian predators The results call for initiation of measurements of anticoagulant rodenticides also in the Nordic countries

Virtual Menageries Jody Berland, 2024-11-26 The close interdependency of animal emissaries and new media from early European colonial encounters with the exotic to today's proliferation of animals in digital networks From cat videos to corporate logos digital screens and spaces are crowded with animal bodies In Virtual Menageries Jody Berland examines the role of animals in the spread of global communications Her richly illustrated study links the contemporary proliferation of animals on social media to the collection of exotic animals in the formative years of transcontinental exploration and expansion By tracing previously unseen parallels across the history of exotic and digital menageries Berland shows how and why animals came to bridge peoples territories and technologies in the expansion of colonial and capitalist cultures Berland's genealogy of the virtual menagerie begins in 1414 when a ruler in Bengal sent a Kenyan giraffe to join a Chinese emperor's menagerie It maps the beaver's role in the colonial conquest of Canada and examines the appearances of animals in early moving pictures The menagerie is reinvented for the digital age when image and sound designers use parts or images of animals to ensure the affective promise and commercial spread of an emergent digital infrastructure These animal images are emissaries that enliven and domesticate the ever expanding field of mediation Virtual Menageries offers a unique account of animals and animal images as mediators that encourage complicated emotional economic and aesthetic investment in changing practices of connection
