The History of the Science-fiction Magazine Michael Ashley, 2000 Fourth volume in Mike Ashley's acclaimed set on the history of science fiction magazines This volume looks at the 1980s The Quarterly Review William Gifford, Sir John Taylor Coleridge, John Gibson Lockhart, Whitwell Elwin, William Macpherson, William Smith, Sir John Murray IV, Rowland

Edmund Prothero (Baron Ernle), George Walter Prothero, 1901 Migrants and Race in the US Philip Kretsedemas, 2013-10-23 This book explains how migrants can be viewed as racial others not just because they are nonwhite but because they are racially alien This way of seeing makes it possible to distinguish migrants from a set of racial categories that are presumed to be indigenous to the nation In the US these indigenous racial categories are usually defined in terms of white and black Kretsedemas explores how this kind of racialization puts migrants in a quandary leading them to be simultaneously raced and situated outside of race Although the book focuses on the situation of migrants in the US it builds on theories of migrants and race that extend beyond the US and makes a point of criticizing nation centered explanations of race and racism These arguments point toward the emergence of a new field visibility that has transformed the racial meaning of nativity migration and migrant ethnicity It also situates these changing views of migrants in a broader historical perspective than prior theory explaining how they have been shaped by a changing relationship between race and territory that has been unfolding for several hundred years and which crystallizes in the late colonial era A Crooked Path
