Prioritising Business Processes Jens Ohlsson,Shengnan Han,2017-11-08 This book addresses business process prioritisation a problem in Business Process Management research that is often ill structured and complex The book introduces and describes the Prioritisation and Categorisation Method PCM

a novel approach well aligned with today's business needs and climate. It embraces an explorative approach to facilitating process innovation and designing new processes in dynamic environments. Three classic theories are employed as the basis for PCM and summarised here: Ackhoff's interactive planning, Winograd and Flores network of commitments and Simon's bounded rationality. In addition, the book features a tutorial on a web-based tool that facilitates the application of PCM together with two industry case studies that illustrate the method in practice and demonstrate its value.

An Introduction to the History of Project Management Y. C. Chiu, 2010. Project management applies knowledge, skills, tools and techniques to project activities in order to achieve defined requirements. It is the very deliberate orchestration of the areas of expertise to complete a specific project. Investigating the history of project management is to reach a comprehensive view of the historical development of the areas of expertise and their application to project activities. This research identifies six research topics based on the areas of project management expertise to guide data collection and the research process. In the contribution to architecture, the research regards building construction and engineering structures as the application area of project management. P 4 de la couv.

Advancing Student Experience in the Art and Design Curriculum William Platz, 2025-10-03. Advancing Student Experience in the Art and Design Curriculum. Project Based Learning will renew the critical attention paid to projects in the art and design curriculum and rigorously consider impacts on student experience. How exactly do we conceive of projects in the context of a post-secondary creative arts curriculum? Each chapter in this book confronts the project as a specific, potent and transformative site of learning with vast engagement potential for the contemporary student. What unites the project-based learning methods in this book is an emphasis on the motivated and purposeful activities of the learners that result in tangible making and doing. Craft-based learning, practice-based learning, experimental learning, design culturally informed practices and reconsideration of obsolete learning mechanisms all coalesce in this text and evidence the innovativeness and abiding power of project-based learning. Each author in this book describes a diverse experience of learning that serves as an exemplar of project-based learning and illuminates the histories, theories and dynamics of the method for teachers, learning designers, educational theorists and interdisciplinarians.

Research & Education in Design: People & Processes & Products & Philosophy Rita Almendra, João Ferreira, 2020-05-27. Design is about the creation of meaningful connections to solve problems and advance human wellbeing; the discipline has always explored the beneficial links between form and function, technology and meaning, beauty and utility, people and artefacts and problems and solutions among others. This book focuses on the crucial connection between design research and design education. Contemporary society grows increasingly hyper-complex and globally competitive. This state of affairs raises fundamental questions for both Design Education and Design Research. Should research skills be integrated into undergraduate courses? How can we modify design courses without compromising the positive aspects of the educational studio experience? Can the three cycles of higher education in design be combined into a creative and inquisitive educational continuum? To examine the relationship between research and education in Design we must address the topic of knowledge keeping in mind that the development and dissemination of new and useful knowledge is the core purpose of a University If we agree that design has its own things to know and ways to find out about them then design knowledge resides in people processes products and philosophy This book explores the intersection of these four areas with the aim of uncovering insights to advance the current state of the design discipline
