Private Prayers in Public Places Donald Shockley, 2003-12 Don Shockley may be the only person in America who likes to wait He has discovered that active waiting opens the door to spiritual experiences that are often humorous as well as serious and deep He believes that the key to prayer is not in the act of asking but in the art of listening For more than twenty five years he has transformed the necessity to wait into an opportunity to look listen and learn More often than not this distinctive form of meditation has been practiced in urban environments waiting rooms of doctors and dentists on buses planes and trains in bakeries coffee shops and college cafeterias in libraries parks and bars These spiritual interludes have been captured in exceptionally vivid writing you can see what the author is saying When the late Howard Thurman one of America s foremost spiritual thinkers saw some of the early pieces included in this book he said they were precisely on target and should be shared Over the years since these Private Prayers in Public Places have been well received when read before various groups and at long last they are now available in print Six sermons on the duty of public and private prayer and of keeping holy the Sabbath, etc Charles GARDENER (Rector of Sutton.), 1829 Private Women, Public Lives Bárbara Reyes, 2009-05-01 Through the lives and works of three women in colonial California Bárbara O Reyes examines frontier mission social spaces and their relationship to the creation of gendered colonial relations in the Californias She explores the function of missions and missionaries in establishing hierarchies of power and in defining gendered spaces and roles and looks at the ways that women challenged and attempted to modify the construction of those hierarchies roles and spaces Reyes studies the criminal inquiry and depositions of Barbara Gandiaga an Indian woman charged with conspiracy to murder two priests at her mission the divorce petition of Eulalia Callis the first lady of colonial California who petitioned for divorce from her adulterous governor husband and the testimonio of Eulalia P rez the head housekeeper at Mission San Gabriel who acquired a position of significant authority and responsibility but whose work has not been properly recognized These three women s voices seem to reach across time and place calling for additional more complex analysis and questions Could women have agency in the colonial Californias Did the social structures or colonial processes in place in the frontier setting of New Spain confine or limit them in particular gendered ways And were gender dynamics in colonial California explicitly rigid as a result of the imperatives of the goals of colonization
