Public Prosecutor:

Shifting Perspectives on the European Public Prosecutor's Office Willem Geelhoed, Leendert H. Erkelens, Arjen W.H. Meij, 2017-12-19 This book provides answers to the following questions Is there a bright future ahead for a European Public Prosecutor's Office If so is the regulation establishing the office sufficiently clear and balanced to attain that goal Moreover will the office be able to effectively fight fraud now damaging the EU's budget and will it respect the fundamental rights of the parties involved Included are issues ranging from EU substantive and procedural criminal law combatting EU fraud the distribution of competences in European law enforcement EU fundamental rights to forum choice The book's aim is to inform academics policy makers and criminal law practitioners about key issues surrounding the attribution of prosecutorial powers to an entirely remodelled European Union body Doing so it sheds light on this body as fundamentally changed by the Council which will undoubtedly have a greater impact on the European criminal justice system than the European Arrest Warrant ever did Dr Willem Geelhoed is Assistant Professor in criminal law and criminal procedure at the University of Groningen The Netherlands and Drs Leendert H Erkelens and Prof Mr Arjen W H Meij are both Visiting Research Fellow at the T M C Asser Instituut in The Hague in The Netherlands while the latter is also Honorary Professor at the University of Luxembourg

The European Public Prosecutor's Office L. H. Erkelens, A.W.H. Meij, M. Pawlik, 2014-09-18 In 2013 the European Commission launched its legislative proposal to create a European Public Prosecutor's Office The proposal provoked fierce debates politically as well as on the academic level Many national parliaments opposed and submitted formally their grievances to the Commission Negotiations on the proposal between Member States are still ongoing The T M C Asser Instituut held the first international conference on this unprecedented proposal This book reflects the main results of that conference It provides a concise background of and reasoning for the introduction of this new EU body entrusted with far reaching judicial powers disclosing important legal and policy implications Within its hitherto limited scope the existing system of judicial cooperation between EU Member States will change fundamentally directly affecting the functioning of national courts and public prosecutions offices How will this evolve This book will help answering fundamental questions involved

The European Public Prosecutor's Office Lorena Bachmaier Winter, 2018-11-02 This book explores the European Public Prosecutor's Office EPPO the creation of which was approved in the Regulation adopted by the Justice and Home Affairs JHA Council on 12 October 2017 The EPPO will be an independent European prosecution office tasked with investigating and prosecuting those crimes defined in the recently adopted Regulation 2017/1371 on combating fraud against the Union's financial interests by means of criminal law As such it will be a new actor on the EU landscape governed by the principle of loyal cooperation with the national prosecuting authorities This work clarifies some of the challenges that member states will have to face when dealing with a supranational prosecution authority In addition it provides guidelines on how to implement the present Regulation while respecting the fundamental rights of defendants in criminal proceedings The book is of special interest in so far as the analysis and perspective of academics is completed with the contributions of legal experts who have either been involved in the negotiations to establish the European public prosecutor or will be closely linked as public prosecutors to the functioning of the future European public prosecutor's office

Public Prosecutors in the United States and Europe Gwladys Gilliéron, 2014-04-14 This research examines the role of prosecutors within the United States and in Switzerland and is completed by an overview of the prosecution institutions in France and Germany The research recognizes that despite seemingly very different legal traditions and structures prosecutors in these systems are similar enough that each system might learn from the others Drawing upon the experiences of other nations this research proposes solutions to the problems identified in connection with the position and powers of public prosecutors in the United States Furthermore it outlines the problems related to the increase of prosecutorial power and the lessons the European criminal justice systems surveyed can draw from the experience in the US In terms of methodology this research not only considers formal legal provisions but also systematic structural factors academic literature and statistics revealing how the law and governing principles actually work in practice

A Handbook for Public Prosecutors D. Chipeta, 2009-05-15 This is the third edition of A Handbook for Public Prosecutors It takes into account multiple changes in the Tanzania law since publication of the first and second editions in 1978 and 1982 respectively and the new Criminal Procedure Act of 1985 A Handbook for Public Prosecutors is written primarily for Public Prosecutors However it is sufficiently comprehensive to be useful to those who are fresh on the Bench or the Bar and to investigators of crime as well as to those who are required to do examinations in Criminal Law Criminal Procedure and the Law of Evidence in order to advance in their careers While it is based on the Tanzania Penal Act Criminal Procedure Act the Evidence Act and other statutes readers in other East African countries will have no difficulty in finding relevant and equivalent provisions of applicable legislation which are invariably identical to those in their countries This book provides guidance to public prosecutors and others on basic principles of Criminal Law Criminal Procedure and the Law of Evidence and the art of prosecuting cases

The role of public prosecutors outside the criminal justice system - Recommendation CM/Rec(2012)11 and explanatory memorandum Council of Europe, 2014-01-01

Recommendation CM Rec 2012 11 on the role of public prosecutors outside the criminal justice system complements Recommendation Rec 2000 19 on the role of public prosecution in the criminal justice system which was adopted in autumn 2000 Together these two recommendations set European standards for prosecutorial activities with a comprehensive set of principles defining the status powers and practice of the public prosecution service for all areas of law in a modern democratic State Whatever the nature of their responsibilities whether they be criminal civil administrative law or other it behooves public prosecutors to carry them out in full accordance with the rule of law human rights and other principles which are fundamental to all democratic societies This recommendation draws upon a number of sources as well as on the practice of the prosecution services of many Council of Europe member States that enjoy extensive powers outside the criminal justice system A report prepared in 2008 at the request of the Consultative Council of European Prosecutors CCPE of the Council of Europe not only illustrated the diversity among legal systems but also showed that public prosecutors in most of the Council of Europe s 47 member States are vested with duties that extend beyond the criminal justice system of their countries Such powers are based on the various branches of law with the aim of protecting the public interest as well as the rights and legitimate interests of individuals especially members of socially vulnerable population groups Overall the recommendation represents a step forward in strengthening the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms as the manner in which public prosecutors exercise their role inside and outside the criminal justice system is crucial to the protection of these rights and freedoms

Report from the Select Committee on Public Prosecutors ,1855 The German Prosecution Service Shawn Marie Boyne,2013-11-19 Acclaimed as the the most objective prosecutors in the world the German prosecution service has long attracted the attention in the past of comparative law scholars At first glance the institutional position and statutory mandate of German prosecutors indicate that that reputation is well deserved Unfortunately the introduction of charge bargaining has opened the door to criticism that German prosecutors have abandoned their role of objective decision makers Using interview data collected from interviews with German prosecutors themselves as well as quantitative data the book uses the actual voices of German prosecutors to show how real world constraints rather than changes in the law undermine the ability of German prosecutors to objectively seek the truth The book will take readers behind closed doors where prosecutors discuss case decisions and unveil the realities of practice As a result it will critically revise previous studies of German prosecution practices and offer readers a well researched ethnographic analysis of actual German decision making practices and the culture of the prosecution service Unlike prosecutors in America s adversarial system whom critics claim are driven by a conviction mentality and gamesmanship German prosecutors are institutionally positioned to function as at least semi judicial officials dedicated to finding a case s objective truth The book argues that organizational incentives and norms rather than the boundaries of the law determinately shapes how prosecutors investigate and prosecute crime in Germany

judgment was rendered in the last of the series of 12 Nuernberg war crimes trials which had begun in October 1946 and were held pursuant to Allied Control Council Law No 10 Far from being of concern solely to lawyers these trials are of especial interest to soldiers historians students of international affairs and others The defendants in these proceedings charged with war crimes and other offenses against international penal law were prominent figures in Hitler s Germany and included such outstanding diplomats and politicians as the State Secretary of the Foreign Office von Weizsaecker and cabinet ministers von Krosigk and Lammers military leaders such as Field Marshals von Leeb List and von Kuechler SS leaders such as Ohlendorf Pohl and Hildebrandt industrialists such as Flick Alfried Krupp and the directors of I G Farben and leading professional men such as the famous physician Gerhard Rose and the jurist and Acting Minister of Justice Schlegelberger In view of the weight of the accusations and the far flung activities of the defendants and the extraordinary amount of official contemporaneous German documents introduced in evidence the records of these trials constitute a major source of historical material covering many events of the fateful years 1933 and even earlier to 1945 in Germany and elsewhere in Europe The Nuernberg trials under Law No 10 were carried out under the direct authority of the Allied Control Council as manifested in that law which authorized the establishment of the Tribunals The judicial machinery for the trials including the Military Tribunals and the Office Chief of Counsel for War Crimes was prescribed by Military Government Ordinance No 7 and was part of the occupation administration for the American zone the Office of Military Government OMGUS Law No 10 Ordinance No 7 and other basic jurisdictional or administrative documents are printed in full hereinafter The proceedings in these trials were conducted throughout in the German and English languages and were recorded in full by stenographic notes and by electrical sound recording of all oral proceedings The 12 cases required over 1 200 days of court proceedings and the transcript of these proceedings exceeds 330 000 pages exclusive of hundreds of document books briefs etc Publication of all of this material accordingly was quite unfeasible This series however contains the indictments judgments and other important portions of the record of the 12 cases and it is believed that these materials give a fair picture of the trials and as full and illuminating a picture as is possible within the space available Copies of the entire record of the trials are available in the Library of Congress the National Archives and elsewhere In some cases due to time limitations errors of one sort or another have crept into the translations which were available to the Tribunal In other cases the same document appears in different trials or even at different parts of the same trial with variations in translation For the most part these inconsistencies have been allowed to remain and only such errors as might cause misunderstanding have been corrected

Criminal Legalities and Minorities in the Global South George B. Radics, Pablo Ciocchini, 2023-01-24 This book explores how the law and the institutions of the criminal justice system expose minorities to different types of violence either directly through discrimination and harassment or indirectly by creating the conditions that make them vulnerable to violence from other groups of society It draws on empirical insights across a broad array of communities and locales including Afghanistan Colombia Pakistan India Malawi Turkey Brazil Singapore Puerto Rico and the Philippines It examines the challenges of protecting those at the margins of power especially those whom the law is often used to oppress The chapters explore intersecting marginal identities influenced by four factors rebuilding after violent regimes economic interest behind the violence entrenched cultural biases and criminalisation of diversity It provides scholars from the Global North with important lessons when attempting to impose their own solutions onto nations with a different history and context or when applying their own laws to migrants from the Global South nations explored in this book It speaks to legal and social science scholars in the fields of law sociology criminology and social work

The Global Decline of the Mandatory Death Penalty Andrew Novak, 2016-03-16 Historically at English common law the death penalty was mandatory for the crime of murder and other violent felonies Over the last three decades however many former British colonies have reformed their capital punishment regimes to permit judicial sentencing discretion including consideration of mitigating factors Applying a comparative analysis to the law of capital punishment Novak examines the constitutional jurisprudence and resulting legislative reform in the Caribbean Sub Saharan Africa and South and Southeast Asia focusing on the rapid retreat of the mandatory death penalty in the Commonwealth over the last thirty years The coordinated mandatory death penalty challenges which have had the consequence of greatly reducing the world's death row population represent a case study of how a small group of lawyers can sponsor human rights litigation that incorporates international human rights law into domestic constitutional jurisprudence ultimately harmonizing criminal justice regimes across borders This book is essential reading for anyone interested in the study and development of human rights and capital punishment as well as those exploring the contours of comparative criminal justice
