Public Secondary Education for Negroes in North Carolina Hollis Moody Long,1932     Black Wilmington and the North Carolina Way John L. Godwin,2000 In this gripping narrative of the development of the Civil Rights movement in North Carolina Dr John L Godwin brings to life the infamous case of the Wilmington Ten and the subsequent allegations of conspiracy Through extensive research and interviews he seeks to uncover some of the truth behind the actual events of the 1972 trial while at the same time drawing readers in with the compelling details of the movement s origins in North Carolina and its ultimate outcome in one community Dr Godwin underscores his effort with a comprehensive exploration of the Civil Rights movement through the eyes of the locality comparing it incisively to the earlier protests of the 1960s His portrait joins that of scholars who have sought to describe the transformation brought about by black leadership on the local and state level recounting both its victories and the frustrated hopes of local activists in addition to how the new conservatism ultimately succeeded in co opting the movement For Wilmington this is set against the background of North Carolina politics and civic culture highlighting the role of Benjamin Chavis and his rise to national prominence Filled with pictures that personalize this troubled era of American history Dr Godwin s book is an essential resource not only to historians but also to students of public policy     Public Secondary Education for Negroes in North Carolina, Etc Hollis Moody LONG,1932

Sanders,2024-10-15 A Forgotten Migration tells the little known story of segregation scholarships awarded by states in the US South to Black students seeking graduate education in the pre Brown v Board of Education era Under the Plessy v Ferguson decision decades earlier southern states could provide graduate opportunities for African Americans by creating separate but equal graduate programs at tax supported Black colleges or by admitting Black students to historically white institutions Most did neither and instead paid to send Black students out of state for graduate education Crystal R Sanders examines Black graduate students who relocated to the North Midwest and West to continue their education with segregation scholarships revealing the many challenges they faced along the way Students that entered out of state programs endured long and tedious travel financial hardship racial discrimination isolation and homesickness With the passage of Brown in 1954 segregation scholarships began to wane but the integration of graduate programs at southern public universities was slow In telling this story Sanders demonstrates how white efforts to preserve segregation led to the underfunding of public Black colleges furthering racial inequality in American higher education     Negro Year Book ,1922     Bibliography on Education of the Negro Comprising Publications from January, 1928 to December, 1930 ,1931     North Carolina ,1939     Nursery Schools Cecil Branner Hayes,Elise Henrietta Martens,Florence Cornelia Fox,James Frederick Abel,Julian Edward Butterworth,Marie Margaret Ready,Mary Dabney Davis,Mrs. Katherine Margaret (O'Brien) Cook,Nathan William Newsom,Walter Herbert Gaumnitz,1932     Vocational Division Bulletin ,1961
