Invisible No More Pedro Noguera, Aída Hurtado, Edward Fergus, 2013-06-17 Latino men and boys in the United States are confronted with a wide variety of hardships that are not easily explained or understood They are populating prisons dropping out of high school and are becoming overrepresented in the service industry at alarming degrees Young Latino men especially have among the lowest wages earned in the country a rapidly growing rate of HIV AIDS and one of the highest mortality rates due to homicide Although there has been growing interest in the status of men in American society there is a glaring lack of research and scholarly work available on Latino men and boys This groundbreaking interdisciplinary volume edited by renowned scholars Pedro Noguera Aída Hurtado and Edward Fergus addresses the dearth of scholarship and information about Latino men and boys to further our understanding of the unique challenges and obstacles that they confront during this historical moment The contributors represent a cross section of disciplines from health criminal justice education literature psychology economics labor sociology and more By drawing attention to the sweeping issues facing this segment of the population this volume offers research and policy a set of principles and overarching guidelines for decreasing the invisibility and thus the disenfranchisement of Latino men and boys Latina/o Sexualities Marysol Asencio, 2010 Latina/os are currently the largest minority population in the United States They are also one of the fastest growing Yet we have very limited research and understanding of their sexualities Instead stereotypical images flourish even though scholars have challenged the validity and narrowness of these images and the lack of attention to the larger social context Gathering the latest empirical work in the social and behavioral sciences this reader offers us a critical lens through which to understand these images and the social context framing Latina/os and their sexualities. Situated at the juncture of Latina/o studies and sexualities studies, Latina/o Sexualities provides a single resource that addresses the current state of knowledge from a multidisciplinary perspective. Contributors synthesize and critique the literature and carve a separate space where issues of Latina/o sexualities can be explored given the limitations of prevalent research models. This work compels the current wave in sexuality studies to be more inclusive of ethnic minorities and sets an agenda that policy makers and researchers will find invaluable.

Sexuality, Women, and Tourism Susan Frohlick, 2013. This book is the first to focus on why and how foreign Western women engage in cross border sexual and intimate relations as tourists travelling or temporarily dwelling in a Central American country. The book combines descriptions of women's travels and sexual relations across racial and class boundaries with feminism, postcolonial theory and poststructuralist theories of gender and sexuality to show how tourism as a wide range and set of desires serves as a central shaping force in the formation of women's sexual subjectivities in contemporary life in postindustrial capitalism. In doing so it offers new insights into how tourist women express heterosexuality shaped by gender, race, class and identities.

Mucho Macho Chris Girman, 2013-12-16. Quality research uniquely enhanced by the author's personal experience. In one of the first books to examine machismo from the perspective of Latin American and Latino men, Chris Girman relies on a compelling combination of ethnographic research and personal experience to explain how macho men like the author himself regulate and sustain same sex erotic encounters. Girman incorporates his own sexual experiences with a variety of Latin men into the book, infusing his writing with the unique perspective and vivid description that can only be related by someone who has lived the research he writes about. While most of the literature on Latin American male same sex desire ignores the significance of the male body in its investigation, this book shows why it is essential to focus on the macho male body and re-evaluates so-called machismo to forge a more nuanced description of Latin American masculinity. Girman incorporates his own sexual experiences with a variety of Latin American men into the book infusing his writing with the unique perspective and vivid descriptions that can only be related by someone who has lived the research he writes about. With this book you will become familiar with various kinds of Latin American homosexual behavior. Here is a glimpse at what you will find inside Machismo Practice. Theorists and Macho Performance summarizes previous research on Latin American male homosexuality and defines the author's concept of machismo and Latin American masculinity. Head Hands Balls and Ass shows why focusing on the body as living matter rather than metaphor as is done in so many other books on sexuality is the ideal point of entry into the study of Latin American male homosexuality and masculinity. This chapter focuses on specific regions of the macho body: head, hands, balls, and ass to explain how machismo actually promotes rather than denies sexual encounters between men. It also shows the importance of the Latin American family as a variable that structures the manner and frequency in which homosexual encounters occur. The Dominican Tiguere and Hegemonic Masculinities takes a specific look at a very peculiar form of hegemonic masculinity relying on cunning more than strength to come out on top that is indigenous to the Dominican Republic. This chapter also tells the stories of five of the author's sexual encounters in that nation and discusses the tiguere style of masculine performance. Desire in a Costa Rican Prison analyzes the ways in which desire, power, and pleasure are constituted in the Latin American prison environment. Historical Representations of Same Sex Desire examines two short stories: El Matadero by Esteban Echeverría and Comienzo el Desfile by Reinaldo Arenas which highlight male eroticism as important concepts within discourses on national identity. Both stories conceptualize same sex desire within specific historical moments and demonstrate how male homosexuality emerges and represents itself not in contrast to the dominant discourse but within that discourse itself. Familiar: Familial Voices by Latino Men Speak Out documents the voices of gay identified Latino men living in Central Texas who have come to love other Latino, Black, and Anglo men in the context of very full lives. These men reveal their conceptions of identity, race, performance, resistance, family, pleasure, desire, masculinity, silence, and place. Performing Matter: Masculinity, the Male Body, and the Evocation of the Non-Real defies the notion that written representations can capture the lived realities of Heterogender Homosexuality in Honduras. Manuel Fernández-Alemany, Stephen O. Murray, 2002. This ethnography of the sexual culture of males who have sex with males in the lower class part of San Pedro Sula, Honduras, shows that the analytic distinction between gender and sexuality is inoperative for Honduran men. It provides original research and innovative analysis of Latin American sexual culture and the gendering of Latino sexualities and based on the views of lower class Hondurans challenges the heralding of globalization as liberation. The collaboration between a Latin American anthropologist and an American comparativist sociologist is particularly novel and noteworthy for including the perspectives on homosexuality of the young men, hombres, who penetrate those classified as homosexuals and makes important contributions to Latin American studies, gender studies, cultural studies, and to understanding sexual cultures. The Mentor Jay Quinn, 2014-04-23. Examine a moving personal narrative about
