Postcolonial Hauntologies: African Women's Discourses of the Female Body Ayo A. Coly, 2019-06-01 Postcolonial Hauntologies is an interdisciplinary and comparative analysis of critical literary visual and performance texts by women from different parts of Africa While contemporary critical thought and feminist theory have largely integrated the sexual female body into their disciplines colonial representations of African women's sexuality haunt contemporary postcolonial African scholarship which by maintaining a culture of avoidance about women's sexuality generates a discursive conscription that ultimately holds the female body hostage Ayo A. Coly employs the concept of hauntology and ghostly matters to formulate an explicative framework in which to examine postcolonial silences surrounding the African female body as well as a theoretical framework for discerning the elusive and cautious presences of female sexuality in the texts of African women In illuminating the pervasive silence about the sexual female body in postcolonial African scholarship Postcolonial Hauntologies challenges hostile responses to critical and artistic voices that suggest the African female body represents sacred ideological discursive ground on which one treads carefully if at all Coly demonstrates how ghosts from the colonial past are countered by discursive engagements with explicit representations of women's sexuality and bodies that emphasize African women's power and autonomy

Milestones in African Literature Toyin Falola, 2024-07-31 Milestones in African Literature offers an accessible guide to ten key moments in African literature. It traces literature in Africa through forms and genres as well as social and political changes. Toyin Falola embraces the richness of African literature and considers the oral tradition, pre-colonial literature, apartheid, print media, and digital literature, postcolonialism, and migration literature. He explores the realities of African people by drawing from and highlighting peoples' convictions, spirituality, and pasts. The book reveals African literature's capacity to convey cultural, social, and political messages through storytelling while depicting the social structures and cultural norms that shape these experiences through the examination of perspectives and literary works of African authors. Milestones in African Literature is the ideal resource for undergraduate and graduate students interested in African literatures. It will also be invaluable for teachers and researchers aiming to strengthen their knowledge.

Adaptation and Cultural Appropriation Pascal Nicklas, Oliver Lindner, 2012-05-29

Hamlet by Olivier Kaurismäki or Shepard and Pride and Prejudice in its many adaptations show the virulence of these texts and the importance of aesthetic recycling for the formation of cultural identity and diversity. Adaptation has always been a standard literary and cultural strategy and can be regarded as the dominant means of production in the cultural industries today. Focusing on a variety of aspects such as artistic strategies and genre but also marketing and cultural politics, this volume takes a critical look at ways of adapting and appropriating cultural texts across epochs and cultures in literature, film, and the arts.
