Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World Liam Matthew Port Cities in Asia and Europe Brockey, 2016-12-05 Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World is a collection of essays on the cities of the Portuguese empire written by the leading scholars in the field The volume like the empire it analyzes has a global scope and a chronological span of three centuries The contributions focus on the social political and economic aspects of city life in settlements as far apart as Rio de Janeiro Mozambique Island and Nagasaki Despite the seeming and real disparities between the colonial cities located in South America Africa and Asia this volume demonstrates that they possessed a range of commonalities Beyond their shared language these cities had similar social religious and political institutions that shaped their identities In many cases the civic bodies analyzed in these essays such as the city councils or the Miseric rdias charitable brotherhoods no less than the convents and houses of Catholic religious orders contributed more to making these cities Portuguese than their allegiance to the crown in Lisbon Rather than dividing the globe into Atlantic and Indian Ocean spheres Portuguese Colonial Cities in the Early Modern World takes the novel approach of bringing together analyses of the social history of these cities in order to stress their shared aspects as well as to suggest paths for fruitful comparisons By encouraging further scholarship in this rich yet understudied subject this collection will not only further comparisons between cities found within the Portuguese empire but also raise important issues that will be of interest to historians of other European empires as well as urban historians generally The Rise and Growth of the Colonial Port Cities in Asia Colonial Port Cities in Asia Dilip K. Historical Archaeology of Early Modern Colonialism in Asia-Pacific Maria Cruz Berrocal, Cheng-hwa Tsang, 2017-12-28 The essential source for scholarly reassessment of the Asia Pacific region s diverse and significant archaeology and history James P Delgado coauthor of The Maritime Landscape of the Isthmus of Panama Underpins a nuanced picture of Asia Pacific that shows how the activities of the Chinese and Japanese in East Asia the spread of Islam from South Asia and the efforts of the Iberians and especially the Spanish from southern Europe ushered in a world of complex interaction and rapid and often profound change in local regional and wider cultural patterns Ian Lilley editor of Archaeology of Oceania Australia and the Pacific Islands The history of Asia Pacific since 1500 has traditionally been told with Europe as the main player ushering in a globalized capitalist world But these volumes help decentralize that global history revealing that preexisting trade networks and local authorities influenced the region before and long after Europeans arrived In the volume The Southwest Pacific and Oceanian Regions case studies from Alofi Vanuatu the Marianas Hawaii Guam and Taiwan compare the development of colonialism across different islands Contributors discuss human settlement before the arrival of Dutch French British and Spanish explorers tracing major exchange routes that were active as early as the tenth century They highlight rarely examined sixteenth and seventeenth century encounters between indigenous populations and Europeans and draw attention to how cross cultural interaction impacted the local peoples of Oceania The volume The Asia Pacific Region looks at colonialism in the Philippines China Japan and Vietnam emphasizing the robust trans regional networks that existed before European contact Southeast Asia had long been influenced by Buddhist Hindu and Muslim traders in ways that helped build the region s ethnic and political divisions Essays show the complexity and significance of maritime trade during European colonization by investigating galleon wrecks in Manila Japan's porcelain exports and Spanish coins discovered off China's coast Packed with archaeological and historical evidence from both land and underwater sites impressive in geographical scope and featuring perspectives of scholars from many different countries and traditions these volumes illuminate the often misunderstood nature of early colonialism in Asia Pacific Port Cities and Intruders Michael N. Pearson, 2002-10-14 Selected by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title In Port Cities and Intruders historian Michael Pearson explores the role of port cities and their orientation relations between the coast and the interior the place of the coast in the world economy and the impact of the Portuguese in the early modern period Cities of the Global South Reader Faranak Miraftab, Neema Kudva, 2014-10-10 The Cities of the Global South Reader adopts a fresh and critical approach to the field of urbanization in the developing world. The Reader incorporates both early and emerging debates about the diverse trajectories of urbanization processes in the context of the restructured global alignments in the last three decades Emphasizing the historical legacies of colonialism the Reader recognizes the entanglement of conditions and concepts often understood in binary relations first third worlds wealth poverty development underdevelopment and inclusion exclusion By asking whose city whose development the Reader rigorously highlights the fractures along lines of class race gender and other socially and spatially constructed hierarchies in global South cities The Reader's thematic structure where editorial introductions accompany selected texts examines the issues and concerns that urban dwellers planners and policy makers face in the contemporary world These include the urban economy housing basic services infrastructure the role of non state civil society based actors planned interventions and contestations the role of diaspora capital the looming problem of adapting to climate change and the increasing spectre of violence in a post 9 11 transnational world The Cities of the Global South Reader pulls together a diverse set of readings from scholars across the world some of which have been written specially for the volume to provide an essential resource for a broad interdisciplinary readership at undergraduate and postgraduate levels in urban geography urban sociology and urban planning as well as disciplines related to international and development studies Editorial commentaries that introduce the central issues for each theme summarize the state of the field and outline an associated bibliography They will be of particular value for lecturers students and researchers making the Cities of the Global South Reader a key text for those interested in understanding contemporary urbanization processes Portuguese, Dutch and Chinese in Maritime Asia, c.1585 - 1800 George Bryan Souza, 2024-10-28 This collection of 13 essays deals with a range of topics concerning Portuguese Dutch and Chinese merchants commodities and commerce in maritime Asia in the early modern period from c 1585 1800 They are based on exhaustive research and careful analysis of diverse sets of archival materials found around the globe Written by a leading authority on global maritime economic history and the history of European Expansion each individual essay addresses a topic of fundamental importance to those interested in knowing more about what merchants did with which resources and under what conditions and how they did it what were the commodities that were incorporated into local regional intra regional and global economies and what was the role and function of early modern maritime trade and commerce in economic development in general and especially in Asia in the early modern era from c 1585 1800 A number of them in particular relate the individual or collective merchant experience to specific European Portuguese and Dutch imperial projects and their contestation amongst themselves and their indigenous neighbours over portions of the period Collectively they form an exposition of a utilitarian view of human activity under a wide ranging different set of circumstances and conditions but with similar patterns of behaviors and responses that are largely independent from ethnic racial or religious stereotyping The work therefore should raise new issues and avenues of research concerning these agents and objects in European Expansion Asian and Global History Ports, Cities, and Global Supply Chains James Wang, Daniel Olivier, Theo Notteboom, Brian Slack, 2017-03-02 Global trends in policy and technology related fields are rapidly reshaping the port industry worldwide International in scope this volume provides multidisciplinary insights into the role port cities adopt in dealing with global supply chains Throughout the book concepts of strategic management supply chain management port and transport economics and economic and transport geography are applied to offer an in depth understanding of the processes underlying global supply chains and associated spatial and functional dynamics in port cities The book also discusses policy outcomes and implications relevant to port cities positioned in different segments of global supply chains Migrants and the Making of the Urban-Maritime World Christina Reimann, Martin Öhman, 2020-09-03 This volume explores the mutually transformative relations between migrants and port cities Throughout the ages of sail and steam port cities served as nodes of long distance transmissions and exchanges Commercial goods people animals seeds bacteria and viruses technological and scientific knowledge and fashions all arrived in and moved through these microcosms of the global Migrants made vital contributions to the construction of the urban maritime world in terms of the built environment the particular sociocultural milieu and contemporary representations of these spaces Port cities in turn conditioned the lives of these mobile people be they seafarers traders passers through or people in search of a new home By focusing on migrants their actions and how they were acted upon the authors seek to capture the contradictions and complexities that characterized port cities mobility and immobility acceptance and rejection nationalism and cosmopolitanism diversity and homogeneity segregation and interaction The book offers a wide geographical perspective covering port cities on three continents Its chapters deal with agency in a widened sense considering the activities of individuals and collectives as well as the decisive impact of sailing and steamboats trains the built environment goods or microbes in shaping urban maritime spaces Tagliacozzo, 2024-10-29 A sweeping account of how the sea routes of Asia have transformed a vast expanse of the globe over the past five hundred years powerfully shaping the modern world In the centuries leading up to our own the volume of traffic across Asian sea routes an area stretching from East Africa and the Middle East to Japan grew dramatically eventually making them the busiest in the world The result was a massive circulation of people commodities religion culture technology and ideas In this book Eric Tagliacozzo chronicles how the seas and oceans of Asia have shaped the history of the largest continent for the past half millennium leaving an indelible mark on the modern world in the process Paying special attention to migration trade the environment and cities In Asian Waters examines the long history of contact between China and East Africa the spread of Hinduism and Buddhism across the Bay of Bengal and the intertwined histories of Islam and Christianity in the Philippines The book illustrates how India became central to the spice trade how the Indian Ocean became a British lake between the seventeenth and nineteenth centuries and how lighthouses and sea mapping played important roles in imperialism The volume ends by asking what may happen if China comes to rule the waves of Asia as Britain once did A novel account showing how Asian history can be seen as a whole when seen from the water In Asian Waters presents a voyage into Mediterranean Port Cities Eyüp Özveren, Filiz Yenişehirlioğlu, Tülin Selvi a past that is still alive in the present Ünlü, 2023-06-28 This book studies the change in Mediterranean port cities from the nineteenth century when they flourished as a result of international economic relations and advances in transportation technology through the twentieth century when the nation states were at their prime time This trajectory with two distinct parts belongs as a whole to what we call the modern times Whereas in the first phase Mediterranean port cities became hubs of spontaneous urban complexity and social diversity thanks to reciprocal relations that made them the places of cultural exchange where people from different parts of the Mediterranean met one another during the second because of the interruption of such connectivities and major demographic changes the same cities experienced by way of massive migration they became less and less unlike other cities with which they shared the same geography in general and the nation state territory in particular Over the last few decades with a new round of globalization port cities increasingly find themselves facing new opportunities and connectivities the realization of which would make them once again different albeit in variegated ways and to degrees Our narrative foregrounds contexts and connectivities with specific attention paid to mobility fragility and precarity The purpose of this book is to highlight commonalities of and differences among the select Mediterranean port cities with a focus on the role of social actors changing economic relations and spatial characteristics and practices The Route to European Hegemony Ruby Maloni, 2021-04-18 The advent of the Europeans was crucial in transforming the contours of Maritime Asia The commercial situation in the Indian Ocean was impacted in many ways over the longue duree from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries To offset the adverse balance of trade and to maximize profits the Europeans imposed their own coercive and monopolistic systems along the existing trade routes Systematic exploitation of economic opportunities in Asia by Europeans began with the coming of the Portuguese followed by other European maritime powers It culminated with Britannia ruling the Asian waters with warships and a strong merchant marine A study of the operational and ideological motivations that propelled the European powers activities in the Indian Ocean can help to construct a coherent interpretation of the foundations of empire that were being laid at first insidiously and later aggressively This book analyses the mechanism and implications of Europe's sustained engagement in Intra Asian trade which is as an essential context to the establishment of colonial empires Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka Reframing Singapore Derek Thiam Soon Heng, Syed Muhd. Khairudin Aljunied, 2009 Over the past two decades Singapore has advanced rapidly towards becoming a both a global city state and a key nodal point in the international economic sphere These developments have caused us to reassess how we understand this changing nation including its history population and geography as well as its transregional and transnational experiences with the external world This collection spans several disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and draws on various theoretical approaches and methodologies in order to produce a more refined understanding of Singapore and to reconceptialize the challenges faced by the country and its peoples Doing Global History Roland Wenzlhuemer, 2019-10-31 The field of Global History has experienced an unprecedented boom in the last two decades and carved itself deeply into the practice of historical research Despite this its conceptual foundations have rarely been explored This introduction to what Global History is brings together theory and practice with 6 key concepts delivered through 6 accessible case studies Re evaluating the central concerns and key approaches in the field it offers an up to date discussion of the foundations of Global History its guiding questions and principal methods at work Doing Global History offers students valuable insights into the ways general concepts can be used and applied when doing historical research The 6 concepts connections actors structures space time and transit and their accompanying examples will not only help readers to get a solid grasp of what global history means but will stimulate further engagement in the field Wenzhuemer successfully shows that global history is best considered as a perspective not a theory or paradigm and guides the reader through ways it can be used in practice to draw new and exciting conclusions Tailored for classroom and student use this book will be invaluable to advanced undergraduates and postgraduates of Global History
