Seeing First Facts:

Phenomenal Consciousness Dimitris Platchias,2014-12-05 How can the fine grained phenomenology of conscious experience arise from neural processes in the brain How does a set of action potentials nerve impulses become like the feeling of pain in one s experience Contemporary neuroscience is teaching us that our mental states correlate with neural processes in the brain However although we know that experience arises from a physical basis we don t have a good explanation of why and how it so arises The problem of how physical processes give rise to experience is called the hard problem of consciousness and it is the contemporary manifestation of the mind body problem This book explains the key concepts that surround the issue as well as the nature of the hard problem and the several approaches to it It gives a comprehensive treatment of the phenomenon incorporating its main metaphysical and epistemic aspects as well as recent empirical findings such as the phenomenon of blindsight change blindness visual form agnosia and optic ataraxia mirror recognition in other primates split brain cases and synaesthesia

Morality and Metaphysics Charles Larmore,2021-06-17 In this book Charles Larmore develops an account of morality freedom and reason that rejects the naturalistic metaphysics shaping much of modern thought Reason Larmore argues is responsiveness to reasons and reasons themselves are essentially normative in character consisting in the way that physical and psychological facts facts about the world of nature count in favor of possibilities of thought and action that we can take up Moral judgments are true or false in virtue of the moral reasons there are We need therefore a more comprehensive metaphysics that recognizes a normative dimension to reality as well Though taking its point of departure in the analysis of moral judgment this book branches widely into related topics such as freedom and the causal order of the world textual interpretation the nature of the self self knowledge and the concept of duties to ourselves

Fake, Fact, and Fantasy Maire Messenger Davies, 2013-11-05 Based on a study examining the meaning of the term media literacy in children this volume concentrates on audiovisual narratives of television and film and their effects It closely examines children s concepts of real and unreal and how they learn to make distinctions between the two It also explores the idea that children are protected from the harmful effects of violence on television by the knowledge that what they see is not real This volume is unique in its use of children s own words to explore their awareness of the submerged conventions of television genres of their functions and effects of their relationship to the real world and of how this awareness varies with age and other factors Based on detailed questionnaire data and conversations with 6 to 11 year old children carried out with the support of a fellowship at the Annenberg School for Communication University of Pennsylvania the book eloquently demonstrates how children use their knowledge of real life of literature and of art in intelligently evaluating the relationship between television s formats and the real world in which they live Noncommissioned Officers' Manual James Alfred Moss,1917 Parliamentary Debates Ceylon.
