The collection of Italian medieval sculpture in The Metropolitan Museum of Art and The Cloisters began with the acquisition in 1908 of a Romanesque column statue today the Museum's holdings comprise more than seventy works dating from the ninth to the late fifteenth century The birthplaces of these works range from Sicily to Venice some typify local styles others illustrate the intense artistic exchanges taking place within Italy and between Italy and the wider world Technological advances of the last decades have made it possible to determine more precisely the materials and techniques from which works of art are made the history of their alteration and the mechanisms of their deterioration Using such techniques scholars have been able to ascertain for example that sculptures previously thought to be modern works carved in the medieval manner were in fact completely authentic This innovative volume represents a watershed in the study of sculpture a collaborative dialogue between an art historian and a conservator between art history and art science that deepens our understanding of the object we see while illuminating its elusive enigmatic history From publisher's description European Clocks and Watches in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Clare Vincent, Jan Hendrik Leopold, Elizabeth Sullivan, 2015-11-25 Among the world's greatest technological and imaginative achievements is the invention and development of the timepiece. Examining for the first time The Metropolitan Museum of Art's unparalleled collection of European clocks and watches created from the late Renaissance through the nineteenth century, this fascinating book enriches our understanding of the origins and evolution of these ingenious works. It showcases fifty-four clocks, watches, and other timekeeping devices, each represented with an in-depth description and new photography of the exterior and the inner mechanisms. Among these masterpieces is an ornate sixteenth-century celestial timepiece that accurately predicts the trajectory of the sun, moon, and stars; an eighteenth-century longcase clock by David Roentgen that shows the time in the ten most important cities of the day; and a nineteenth-century watch featuring a penetrating portrait of Czar Nicholas I of Russia. Created by the best craftsmen in Austria, England, Flanders, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, and Switzerland, these magnificent timepieces have been selected for their remarkable beauty and design, as well as their sophisticated mechanics. Built upon decades of expert research, this publication is a long overdue survey of these stunning visual and technological marvels. Egyptian Art in the Age of the Pyramids Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999 The Egyptian Old Kingdom c. 2650–2150 BC was an era of extraordinary artistic achievement, the period that gave us the Sphinx and the pyramids, as well as a rich legacy of private tombs, wall paintings, reliefs, statuary, jewelry, and decorative arts. This book, the companion volume to a major traveling exhibition organized by New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Louvre in Paris, showcases the most impressive assemblage of Egyptian art and artifacts since the Tutankhamun exhibition of the late 1970s. Scholarly essays and 650 illustrations bring to life a remarkable panoply of Old Kingdom objects: temple and tomb reliefs, striking gold jewelry, handsome stone vessels, monumental statues, stelae, and exquisite statuettes. Together, text and images create a stunning tribute to the world of the Pharaohs. Publisher's description A Political History of the World Jonathan Holslag, 2018-10-25 A three thousand year history of the world that examines the causes of war and the search for peace. In three thousand years of history, China has spent at least eleven centuries at war. The Roman Empire was in conflict during at least 50 per cent of its lifetime. Since 1776, the United States has spent over one hundred years at war. The dream of peace has been universal in the history of humanity. So why have we so rarely been able to achieve it? In A Political History of the World, Jonathan Holslag has produced a sweeping history of the world from the Iron Age to the present that investigates the causes of conflict between empires, nations, and peoples, and the attempts at diplomacy and cosmopolitanism. A bird's-eye view of three thousand years of history, the book illuminates the forces shaping world politics from Ancient Egypt to the Han Dynasty, the Pax Romana to the rise of Islam, the Peace of Westphalia to the creation of the United Nations. This truly global approach enables Holslag to search for patterns across different eras and regions and explore larger questions about war, diplomacy, and power. Has trade fostered peace? What are the limits of diplomacy? How does environmental change affect stability? Is war a universal sin of power? At a time when the threat of nuclear war looms again this is a much needed history intended for students of international politics and anyone looking for a background on current events Glass in the Collections of the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),1982 European Sculpture, 1400-1900, in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Ian Wardropper,2011 This beautiful book features masterpieces of sculpture in the collection of the Metropolitan Museum dating from the Renaissance through the nineteenth century Celebrated works by the great European sculptors including Luca and Andrea della Robbia Juan Martinez Montañés Gianlorenzo Bernini Jean Antoine Houdon Bertel Thorvaldsen Antoine Louis Barye Jean Baptiste Carpeaux Edgar Degas and Auguste Rodin are joined by striking new additions to the collection notably Franz Xaver Messerschmidt's remarkable bust of a troubled and introspective man The ninety two selected examples are diverse in media marble bronze wood terracotta and ivory and size ranging from a tiny oil lamp fantastically conceived and decorated by the Renaissance bronze sculptor Riccio to Antonio Canova's eight foot high Perseus with the Head of Medusa executed in the heroic Neoclassical style Incorporating information from the latest scholarly research and recent conservation studies sculpture specialist Ian Wardropper discusses the history and significance of the highlighted works each of which is reproduced with glorious new photography

Transforming the Church Interior in Renaissance Florence Joanne Allen,2022-05-05 Before the late sixteenth century the churches of Florence were internally divided by monumental screens that separated the laity in the nave from the clergy in the choir precinct Enabling both separation and mediation these screens were impressive artistic structures that controlled social interactions facilitated liturgical performances and variably framed or obscured religious ritual and imagery In the 1560s and 70s screens were routinely destroyed in a period of religious reforms irreversibly transforming the function meaning and spatial dynamics of the church interior In this volume Joanne Allen explores the widespread presence of screens and their role in Florentine social and religious life prior to the Counter Reformation She presents unpublished documentation and new reconstructions of screens and the choir precincts which they delimited Elucidating issues such as gender patronage and class her study makes these vanished structures comprehensible and deepens our understanding of the impact of religious reform on church architecture "French Sculpture Following the Franco-Prussian War, 1870-80" Michael Dorsch,2017-07-05 French Sculpture Following the Franco Prussian War 1870-80 investigates the role played by the trope of the strong woman fallen man in re-establishing morale among the French people following the Franco Prussian War The study explores how certain French sculptors including Falguières Merci Barrias and Rodin presented this recent history of defeat in commemorative monuments that increasingly dominated public space across France during the final decades of the nineteenth century Though it focuses on French nationalism and the commemoration of war or as is the case with the French following the Franco Prussian War the commemoration of defeat this volume also examines shifts in gender roles in the latter half of the nineteenth century and the impact of military defeat on relations between the sexes The book probes the aesthetic discourse of the period concerning the merits of traditional allegorical sculpture versus new fangled realist sculpture in depicting modern life Drawing on extensive archival research Michael Dorsch gives a voice to the sculptures he discusses restoring these often ignored works to their proper place in history Picasso in the
