Quarterly Essay 14 Mission Impossible Paul McGeough, 2004-06-01 In the second Quarterly Essay of 2004 Paul McGeough offers a dramatic account of why Iraq remains in chaos despite desperate American efforts to create a model democracy in the Middle East According to McGeough Iraq to this day remains a tribal society It cannot be governed without the cooperation of the true powers in the land the tribal and religious sheikhs Those who have ruled Iraq in the past including Saddam Hussein and the British before him understood this fact The Americans by contrast seem to have missed the point In Mission Impossible Paul McGeough enters the world of key Iraqi tribal and religious leaders There are vivid portraits of the sheikhs role in the fall and capture of Saddam as well as their part in the growing insurgency There are glimpses too of a history that once involved Lawrence of Arabia and Gertrude Bell and which pre dates Islam stretching back thousands of years Combining reportage and analysis in brilliant fashion this groundbreaking essay is well timed to coincide with the next major phase in Iraq s troubled history Throughout the history of their region the sheikhs have been the powerbrokers deciding who would reign between the great rivers the Tigris and the Euphrates Paul McGeough Mission Impossible AMERICAN NATIONAL SECURITY AND FOREIGN POLICY AN INTERNATIONAL PERSPECTIVE Samanga Amarasinghe, 2014-02-26 This is a qualitative historical study of the United States National Security and Foreign Policies which encompasses Global Functional and Regional policies and their long term and short term impacts on the various theaters of operations Insights on Literary Journalism Kevin M. Lerner, 2024-12-30 Bringing together ten chapters by some of the most important scholars of literary journalism around the world this book covers a range of topics that are key to understanding the role of literary journalism as both a practice and a topic of academic study Beginning with an introduction that situates literary journalism in its historical context the chapters go on to address the basic definitional problem of literary journalism the rhetorical strategies of literary journalists the negotiated roles of subjects and storytellers gender geography the role of literary journalism in fostering the public imagination and the role of literary journalism in education The chapters draw on contemporary and relatable case studies which help readers link broader themes with their practical applications This volume concludes with an Afterword by Bill Reynolds editor of Literary Journalism Studies which reflects on the preceding chapters and critically on the direction in which the field is heading in the near future Insights on Literary Journalism is highly recommended reading for advanced scholars and researchers of Literary Journalism as well as Literature and Media History Quarterly Essay 26 His Master's Voice David Marr, 2007-05-01 John Howard has the loudest voice in Australia He has cowed his critics muffled the press intimidated the ABC gagged scientists silenced NGOs censored the arts prosecuted leakers criminalised protest and curtailed parliamentary scrutiny Though touted as a contest of values this has been a party political assault on Australia s liberal culture In the name of balance the Liberal Party has muscled its way into the intellectual life of the country And this has happened because we let it happen Once again Howard has shown his superb grasp of Australia as it really is In His Master's Voice David Marr investigates both a decade of suppression and the strange willingness of Australians to watch with such little angst their liberties drift away More than any law any failure of the Opposition or individual act of bastardry over the last decade what's done most to gag democracy in this country is the sense that debating John Howard gets us nowhere David Marr His Master's Voice This is an essay born of despair an angry cry from the heart about the impoverishment of mainstream public debate in this country delivered with passion and eloquence Julianne Schultz Sydney Morning Herald Marr's analysis clearly delineates the national somnolence and the consequences for the country when its people are sedated power is unchecked the Age With customary eloquence it mourned an Australian public service cowed by the Prime Minister into abject fear and supine silence Peter Shergold Canberra Times David Marr is the multi award winning author of Patrick White A Life Panic and The High Price of Heaven and co author with Marian Wilkinson of Dark Victory He has written for the Sydney Morning Herald the Age and the Monthly been editor of the National Times a reporter for Four Corners and presenter of ABC TV's Media Watch He is also the author of five bestselling biographical Quarterly Essays

Quarterly Essay 16 Breach of Trust Raimond Gaita, 2004-12-01 In the fourth Quarterly Essay of 2004 Raimond Gaita confronts essential questions about politics as it is practised today What do politicians mean when they talk about trust Why is truthfulness important Are we as politically and morally divided as the Americans Does the war on terror authorise leaders to do things that once were considered beyond the pale Gaita argues for a conception of politics in which morality is not an optional extra He discusses why successful politicians must at times be economical with the truth but shows a way beyond cynicism on the one hand and moralising on the other Politics he says is conceivably a noble vocation as well as potentially a tragic one He looks closely at patriotism and its distortions and the temptation to betray our deepest values in the act of protecting ourselves Combining gentle evocation with gloves off argument Breach of Trust is a clarion call from one of Australia's leading thinkers I have never met anyone who believes that politicians should never lie But of course there are limits They are not set in the heavens but in culture Raimond Gaita Breach Of Trust

Bipolar Nation Peter Hartcher, 2007-03-01 In the first Quarterly Essay for 2007 Peter Hartcher discusses the fantasies and realities at the heart of our politics When our political leaders look at us what do they see What are the hopes fears and dreams of the Australian electorate and how might they be turned to election winning advantage What most fundamentally do we want in a prime minister In this scintillating and original essay Peter Hartcher investigates today's bipolar nation where Australians are more economically secure yet existentially as anxious as ever He explains how the Lucky Country and the Frightened Country will be the two grand themes of the election year and discusses how John Howard will set out to craft an election winning strategy on that basis He revisits Donald Horne's Lucky Country looks at the legacy of Paul Keating and analyses Kevin Rudd's many layered effort to out manoeuvre the Prime Minister The Lucky Country finally started to make its own luck and Howard has taken out a political monopoly on it The Frightened Country still harbours dark anxieties some old and some new Howard the necromancer of our national psyche conjures our fears to frighten us and then offers to banish them again to soothe us He understands the Bipolar Nation Peter Hartcher Bipolar Nation Quarterly Essay 21 What's Left? Clive Hamilton, 2006-03-01 In the first Quarterly Essay of 2006 Clive Hamilton throws out a challenge to Australia's party of social democracy to both its true believers and right wing machine men Will it be business as usual and creeping atrophy or will the Labor Party find a new way of talking to individualistic affluent Australia According to Hamilton Labor and the Left must acknowledge that the social democracy of old with its strong unions public ownership of assets and distinct social classes is dead Prosperity more than poverty is the dominant characteristic of Australia today Given this should governments confine themselves to stoking the fires of the economy and protecting the interests of wealth creators Or is there room for a political program that embodies new ideals but can also withstand economic scare tactics This is an original and provocative account of our present political juncture by a man of the Left who accuses the Left of irrelevance Any new progressive politics Hamilton argues will need to tap into the anxieties and aspirations of the nation find new ways to talk about morality and thereby address deeper human needs The Australian Labor Party has served its historical purpose and will wither and die as the progressive force of Australian politics Clive Hamilton What's Left Quarterly Essay 15

Latham's World Margaret Simons, 2004-09-01 In the third Quarterly Essay of 2004 Margaret Simons takes a long hard look at Mark Latham the self proclaimed club buster and the man who would be prime minister Few doubt Latham's intelligence and ambition but what will this amount to in government Simons argues that if Labor is elected it will not be business as usual Rather we can expect a reformist government in the spirit if not the letter of Latham's political tutor Gough Whitlam It is also likely to be a government that has little time for the totemic issues of the Labor elites This is an essay that takes the political pulse of the nation it is clear eyed probing anchored in observation and an original analysis of the political state of play It ventures into the murky world of Liverpool Council where Latham made enemies and ran the show It reserves harsh words for those in the media who have ignored Latham's ideas and community campaigning in favour of rumour mongering Above all it reveals Latham as a conviction politician and an acute thinker with a prescient understanding of how the urban fringe now drives the politics of the nation Mark Latham's arrival on the political scene has brought to an end the fictions that have dominated politics for the last ten years Margaret Simons Latham's World Quarterly Essay 24 No Fixed public support culminating in the battle for Gaza in 2007 and the current day political stalemate Kirkus Reviews starred review A pacey riveting and controversial book that has all the compulsion of a Le Carr novel John F Burns The New York Times A gem of leave no stone unturned reporting Foreign Affairs Infernal Triangle Paul McGeough,2011 It s been ten years since Al Qaeda demolished the World Trade Center in New York on 11 September 2001 One of the most pivotal events in the last fifty years it was a dramatic moment in which having previously vanquished the threat of Russian Communism the USA discovered that it had a new enemy to confront Islamic extremism And so began the September 11 decade Paul McGeough was in the streets of Manhattan on that fateful day in September 2001 No journalist has monitored more closely the fallout from those destructive minutes for Afghanistan for Iraq and for the never ending conflict between Israel and the Palestinians in The Levant Together these three locations are the Infernal Triangle from which America has been unable to extricate itself McGeough has enjoyed access to all the main players in these unfolding events But more than that he has been prepared to observe at close quarters both the fighters and the citizens involved recording their hopes and fears their triumphs and tragedies He has been present at the death of colleagues he joined the historic Peace Flotilla that attempted to bring supplies to Gaza Through his vivid and eloquent journalism we gain new insights into some of the most critical events of the last decade Australian Book Review ,2005 Timor-Leste William Binchy,2009 Timor Leste has had a troubled history and faces an uncertain future Having experienced colonization for centuries followed by the Indonesian occupation with all its abuses of human rights Timor Leste emerged as an independent state based on the rule of law and on respect for human rights The last few years have shown that no society is simple and that the complex influences of the past continue to shape political social and cultural realities This book examines the contemporary challenges for justice and human rights in the shadow of the past It approaches the task from a broad interdisciplinary perspective conscious of the need to integrate insights not only of scholars immersed in human rights international criminal justice and customary law but of others whose backgrounds are in international relations history anthropology demography sociology geography and ecology

Journalism Ethics Martin Hirst,Roger Patching,2007 Situating modern ethical dilemmas in a social and historical context this text encourages students to think critically about the theory and practice of journalism ethics It has been fully updated in every chapter with new examples and cases taken from yesterday s headlines Customary Justice and the Rule of Law in War-torn Societies Deborah Isser,2011 The major peacekeeping and stability operations of the last ten years have mostly taken place in countries that have pervasive customary justice systems which pose significant challenges and opportunities for efforts to reestablish the rule of law These systems are the primary if not sole means of dispute resolution for the majority of the population but post conflict practitioners and policymakers often focus primarily on constructing formal justice institutions in the Western image as opposed to engaging existing traditional mechanisms This book offers insight into how the rule of law community might make the leap beyond rhetorical recognition of customary justice toward a practical approach that incorporates the realities of its role in justice strategies Customary Justice and the Rule of Law in War Torn Societies presents seven in depth case studies that take a broad interdisciplinary approach to the study of the justice system Moving beyond the narrow lens of legal analysis the cases Mozambique Guatemala East Timor Afghanistan Liberia Iraq Sudan examine the larger historical political and social factors that shape the character and role of customary justice systems and their place in the overall justice sector Written by resident experts the case studies provide advice to rule of law practitioners on how to engage with customary law and suggest concrete ways policymakers can bridge the divide between formal and customary systems in both the short and long terms Instead of focusing exclusively on ideal legal forms of regulation and integration this study suggests a holistic and flexible palette of reform options that offers realistic improvements in light of social realities and capacity limitations The volume highlights how customary justice systems contribute to or detract from stability in the immediate post conflict period and offers an analytical framework for assessing customary justice systems that can be applied in any country
