Michael Caine's Moving Picture Show:

New York Magazine, 1989-03-27 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Michael Caine's Moving Picture Show Michael Caine, 1988 Michael Caine one of Hollywood's busiest and most successful stars has delved into his vast collection of stories and trivia in this fascinating irresistible compendium of anecdotes and tidbits about Tinseltown and its stars from the earliest days of silent film to today's world of million dollar extravaganzas Illustrated Motion Picture Almanac, 2007 Michael Caine's Moving Picture Show Michael Caine, 1989 Movie Anecdotes Peter Hay, 1991-12-12 Hollywood Walter Winchell quipped is where they shoot too many movies and not enough actors Always looking for an angle always scheming always the scene of clashing egos the movie industry is where they place you under contract instead of observation and if you don't have anything nice to say write it down In 1940 I had my choice between Hitler and Hollywood French director Ren Clair recalled and I preferred Hollywood just a little In Movie Anecdotes Peter Hay treats us to a delightful ride through the world that has captivated audiences for almost a century with stories that are often hilarious sometimes tragic and always entertaining He takes us from the rough and tumble early days when one studio paid Pancho Villa 25 000 to launch his attacks only in daylight after a film crew had set up to the studio era when Joan Crawford refused to cross the street on the MGM lot except in a chauffeured limousine to the shenanigans of today's global industry Here are stories about all the legends Charlie Chaplin Greta Garbo John Barrymore Mae West Lucille Ball Marilyn Monroe Errol Flynn Humphrey Bogart Bette Davis Judy Garland Sophia Loren John Wayne and of course Ronald Reagan There are the great directors from D W Griffith Hitchcock and Eisenstein to Kurosawa Bergman Visconti Huston Ford and Woody Allen And Hay has selected tales of the writers the wits and the grand moguls including perhaps the largest collection of Goldwynisms both genuine and apocryphal Along with the laughter this volume recreates the conflicts that have torn the movie world from battles over money and contracts to discrimination divorces and scandals Colorful incredible bitter funny the stories about moviemaking are as fantastic as the pictures themselves Now they have been gathered together in an irresistible bouquet that is certain to delight every movie buff and provide fascinating insights for serious students of film Film, 1990 A Critical History of History in Moving Pictures John N. Dunbar Ph.D., 2014-03-17 In the first book of its kind in the English language historian Dr John Dunbar provides an overview of attempts throughout film history to put historical topics on screen in the United States and Great Britain The earliest attempts were biographic films about famous people and some great epic films such as Gone With the Wind that were not claimed to be accurate histories of a period World War Two paved the way for post war developments through the evolution of the documentary film that were often accurate portrayals of events in the war After WW 2 a number of social political technical and economic developments opened the way for the making of historically accurate films The dissolution of the Studio System in Hollywood the disappearance of film censor boards the arrival of television and later the internet the appearance of greater market segments than those traditionally served by motion picture all opened up market opportunities for films of greater historical accuracy than had traditionally been available The emergence of film makers and production companies dedicated to the accurate telling of history now engages the resources of professional historians in the making of films of unequalled accuracy As items in the modern world of media literacy and political discourse these films play an important role in the sustenance of the open society in which the ideals of the European Enlightenment can be continually realized

Film editing - history, theory and practice Don Fairservice, 2019-01-04 The first ever comprehensive examination of the film editor's craft from the beginning of cinema to the present day Of all the film making crafts editing is the least understood Using examples drawn from classic film texts this book clarifies the editor's role and explains how the editing process maximises the effectiveness of the filmed material Traces the development of editing from the primitive forms of early cinema through the upheavals caused by the advent of sound to explore the challenges to convention that began in the 1960s and which continue into the twenty first century New digital technologies and the dominance of the moving image as an increasingly central part of everyday life have produced a radical rewriting of the rules of audio visual address It is not a technical treatise instructive and accessible this historically based insight into filmmaking practice will prove invaluable to students of film and also appeal to a much wider readership

International Television & Video Almanac Quigley Publishing,2005 America ,1913 Secular Magic and the Moving Image Max Sexton,2017-12-14 The power of the moving image to conjure marvelous worlds has usually been to understand it in terms of move magic On film a fascination for enchantment and wonder has transmuted older beliefs in the supernatural into secular attractions But this study is not about the history of special effects or a history of magic Rather it attempts to determine the influence and status of secular magic on television within complex modes of delivery before discovering interstices with film Historically the overriding concern on television has been for secular magic that informs and empowers rather than a fairytale effect that deceives and mystifies Yet shifting notions of the real and the uncertainty associated with the contemporary world has led to television developing many different modes that have become capable of constant hybridization The dynamic interplay between certainty and indeterminacy is the key to understanding secular magic on television and film and exploring the interstices between them Sexton ranges from the real time magic of street performers such as David Blaine Criss Angel and Dynamo to Penn and Teller s comedy magic to the hypnotic acts of Derren Brown before finally visiting the 2006 films The Illusionist and The Prestige Each example charts how the lack of clear distinctions between reality and illusion in modes of representation and presentation disrupt older theoretical oppositions Secular Magic and the Moving Image not only re evaluates questions about modes and styles but raises further questions about entertainment and how the relations between the program maker and the audience resemble those between the conjuror and spectator By re thinking these overlapping practices and tensions and the marking of the indeterminacy of reality on media screens it becomes possible to revise our understanding of inter medial relations
