Writings Jesse Jose, 2013-02-12 The time frame of these stories collected in this book written in my column A Cup O Kapeng Barako has a span of four years The beginning chapters began in the year of 2012 when President Barack Obama was campaigning for his re election ending in the final chapters when Obama in year 2008 ran for the presidency of the United States But this book is not solely or merely about my opinions on politics It's also about my take on current events and my Barako thoughts on people and things that affected me personally This book also contained conversations with people through emails who came into my life during those four years Some of those conversations were heated and hated but some were also tender and kind But beneath them all laughter abounds For I write my column primarily for fun meant only to be read by friends and comrades and fellow Barakos If at times I get corny or my Pilipino English gets atrocious they are puns intended unintended and unintended as in batu batu sa langit tamaan wag magagalit For my mainstream readers and friends that means stones stones thrown up in the air don't get mad if they fall on your hair As y'all can see I am a wanna be humorist dyoking a lot Some stories in this book also contained glimpses of my personal life portions of which are also hilariously funny but tender and expressing love in places Okey ngarud happy reading Dear Readers JJ Our Father Jonathan D. Keaton, Ernest S. Lyght, 2012-03-01 Ernest Lyght and Johnathan Keaton are fathers and United Methodist

Bishops who have come together to share their firsthand experience of the responsibilities trials and joys of fatherhood With God the Father as their example Bishops Lyght and Keaton take a look at their own fathers themselves as fathers and the lack of fathers in the homes of African American families They lift up examples given to us by Jesus of how fathers can nurture hold accountable and affirm those around them in the same way God does Michael Jackson and the Quandary of a Black Identity Sherrow O. Pinder,2021-08-01 In Michael Jackson and the Quandary of a Black Identity Sherrow O Pinder explores the ways in which the late singer s racial identification process problematizes conceptualizations of race and the presentation of blackness that reduces blacks to a bodily mark Pinder is particularly interested in how Michael Jackson simultaneously performs his racial identity and posits it against strict binary racial definitions neither black nor white While Jackson s self fashioning deconstructs and challenges the corporeal notions of natural bodies and fixed identities negative readings of the King of Pop fuel epithets such as weird or freak subjecting him to a form of antagonism that denies the black body its self determination Thus for Jackson racial identification becomes a deeply ambivalent process which leads to the fragmentation of his identity into plural identities Pinder shows how Jackson as a racialized subject is discursively confined to a third space a liminal space of ambivalence Sound of the Crowd: a Discography of the '80s (Fourth Edition) Steve Gestures of Music Theater Dominic Symonds, Millie Taylor, 2014-02 Gestures of Music Theatre: The Performativity of Song and Dance offers new cutting edge essays focusing on song and dance as performative gestures that not only entertain but also act on audiences and performers. The chapters range across musical theatre, opera, theatre and other artistic practices from Glee to Gardzienice, Beckett to Disney Broadway to Turner Prize winning sound installation. The chapters draw together these diverse examples of vocality and physicality by exploring their affect rather than through considering them as texts. The book's contributors derive methodologies from many disciplines. Resisting discrete discipline based enquiry, they share methodologies and performance repertoires with discipline based scholarship.
