catholic_will When, in 1511, Michelangelo finally completed the ceiling fresco of the Sistine Chapel, which is considered one of the most famous works in the history of art, the cardinals responsible for caring for works stayed for hours to watch and admire the magnificent fresco. After the analysis, they met with the master of the arts, Michelangelo and, without shame, tried to fix a gap!

Discontent, of course, was not for the entire work, but for a detail, apparently not important. Michelangelo had designed the panel of man's creation with the fingers of God and Adam, touching each other. Cardinals asked that there should be no touch, but that both fingers should be kept separated and more: that God's finger was always tended to the fullest, but that Adam's finger should contract the last phalanx. A simple detail but with a surprising meaning: God is there, but the decision to seek it depends on man, if he wants, he'll stretch his finger, he'll touch him, but if he doesn't want, he can go a lifetime without looking for him.

The last phalanx of Adam's finger contracts therefore represents free will.

That's pretty neat
