Nuit Dambre:

French Prose in 2000, 2021-10-18 French Prose in 2000 stems in some important measure from work presented in September 1998 at the International Colloquium on French and Francophone Literature in the 1990 s held at Dalhousie University A good number of papers given at that time and since revisited in the light of exchanges join here certain others specifically written for the purposes of this book Together they constitute a wide ranging and modally varied interrogation of the current state of French and francophone prose writing its multifaceted manners its richly divergent fascinations its many theoretical or philosophical groundings The book thus ceaselessly moves its attention from fictional biography to the roman noir from the writing of Glissant and Chamoiseau to that of the tonnants voyageurs from the powerful discourse of women such as Chawaf or Cond Ernaux or Germain Sallenave or Kristeva to that of writers as diverse in their modes as Le Clézio and Quignard Duras and Renaud Camus All chapters focus however in near exclusive measure on the prose production of the last ten or twelve years

Harper's Bazaar, 1929 Délibérations Et Mémoires de la Société Royale Du Canada Royal Society of Canada, 1889 The New World, 1919 Jeering Dreamers John Anzalone, 1996 The re emergence in recent years of Villiers de l'Isle Adam as a key figure in fin de siècle literature can be attributed in large part to the intense interest his prescient l'Eve future 1886 has generated among scholars In effect the novel confronts with breathtaking focus central taboos and ambivalences about the decadent period It posits an inescapable mechanistic linkage between desire and technology it suggests the constructed nature of gender it casts woman down so as to exalt her even as it intimates the arbitrariness and fragility of the empowerment prerogatives implicit in such an operation It is this mine for the study of fin de siècle mentalities that the present volume explores Begun at the 1992 NCFS colloquium at Binghamton University as a collective project of the Friends of Villiers Jeering Dreamers brings together 13 essays by Villiers scholars from both sides of the Atlantic Their work promises in the words of the eminent Villiers scholar Alan Raitt to clarifier l'Eve future d'un jour nouveau ou plus exactement de plusieurs jours nouveaux writers As early as the 12th century women troubadours in the south of France were writing poems French women continued writing through the ages their number increasing as education became more available to women of all classes And yet of the great number of works by women writers who preceded the current feminist movement very few have survived A few writers such as Marie de France George Sand and Simone de Beauvoir became part of the canon But critics mostly male had judged the works of only a few women writers worthy of recognition As part of the feminist move to reclaim women writers and to rethink literary history scholars in French literature began to take a new look at women writers who had been popular during their lifetimes but who had not been admitted into the canon This reference book provides extensive information about French women writers and the world in which they lived Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for authors literary genres such as the novel poetry and the short story literary movements such as classicism realism and surrealism life cycle events particular to women such as menstruation and menopause events and institutions which affected women differently than men such as revolutions wars and laws on marriage divorce and education The volume spans French literature from the Middle Ages to the present and covers those writers who lived and worked mainly in France The entries are written by expert contributors and each includes bibliographical information The entries focus on each writer s awareness of how her gender shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers Le Parfait Joaillier, ou Histoire des pierreries A.B.
