Pennine Journey The Story Of A Long Walk In 1938:

A pennine journey Alfred Wainwright, A Pennine Journey A. Wainwright, 2004-03-01 A fascinating story of a solitary walk through the Pennines taken by A Wainwright in September 1938 A Pennine Journey Alfred Wainwright, 1986-01-01 Pennine Journey A. Wainwright, 1988-01-05 The Life and Works of W.G. Collingwood Malcolm Craig, 2018-09-30 This well researched biography provides a comprehensive account of the life and works of William Gershom Collingwood 1854 1932 a nineteenth century polymath whose story should be better known He was a noted friend and colleague of John Ruskin whose secretary he later became Hadrian's Wall Richard Hingley, 2012-10-04 In Hadrian s Wall A Life Richard Hingley addresses the post Roman history of this world famous ancient monument Constructed on the orders of the emperor Hadrian during the 120s AD the Wall was maintained for almost three centuries before ceasing to operate as a Roman frontier during the fifth century The scale and complexity of Hadrian s Wall makes it one of the most important ancient monuments in the British Isles It is the most well preserved of the frontier works that once defined the Roman Empire While the Wall is famous as a Roman construct its monumental physical structure did not suddenly cease to exist in the fifth century This volume explores the after life of Hadrian s Wall and considers the ways it has been imagined represented and researched from the sixth century to the internet The sixteen chapters illustrated with over 100 images show the changing manner in which the Wall has been conceived and the significant role it has played in imagining the identity of the English including its appropriation as symbolic boundary between England and Scotland Hingley discusses the transforming political cultural and religious significance of the Wall during this entire period and addresses the ways in which scholars and artists have been inspired by the monument over the years Between the Atlantic and the Mediterranean: Responses to Climate and Weather Conditions throughout History Ian D. Rotherham (eds), Cristina Joanaz de Melo, Ana Isabel Queiroz, Luís Espinha da Silveira, 2013 Between the Atlantic and the Mediterranean brings together a set of case studies on living organisms adaptation to the evolution of the climate and adjustments to extreme weather conditions Aiming to go beyond concerns about recent and forthcoming climate change which have dominated research in environmental studies this book adopts a long term perspective on adaptations and adjustments to nature Although an important group of papers deal with the Portuguese territory and the Iberian Peninsula in which a complex mosaic of Atlantic and Mediterranean climates helped to shape landscapes and history the book has a broader geographical scope from England to Italy Contributions look at the distribution and numbers of animal species and material social cultural and religious responses to weather in the short term and to climate in the long term The common ground is the reaction of living organisms to natural hazards In the long term these are cyclical and nowadays predictable I Belong Here Anita Sethi, 2021-04-29 WINNER OF THE 2021 BOOKS ARE MY BAG READERS AWARD FOR NON FICTION SHORTLISTED FOR THE 2021 WAINWRIGHT PRIZE I knew in every bone of my body in every fibre of my being that I had to report what had happened not only for myself but to help stop anyone else having to go through what I did I knew I could not remain silent or still I could not stop walking through the world A journey of reclamation through the natural landscapes of the North brilliantly exploring identity nature place and belonging Beautifully written and truly inspiring I Belong Here heralds a powerful and refreshing new voice in nature writing Anita Sethi was on a journey through Northern England when she became the victim of a race hate crime The crime was a vicious attack on her right to exist in a place on account of her race After the event Anita experienced panic attacks and anxiety A crushing sense of claustrophobia made her long for wide open spaces to breathe deeply in the great outdoors She was intent on not letting her experience stop her travelling freely and without fear The Pennines known as the backbone of Britain runs through the north and also strongly connects north with south east with west it s a place of borderlands and limestone of rivers and scars of fells and forces The Pennines called to Anita with a magnetic force although a racist had told her to leave she felt drawn to further explore the area she regards as her home to immerse herself deeply in place Anita s journey through the natural landscapes of the North is one of reclamation a way of saying that this is her land too and she belongs in the UK as a brown woman as much as a white man does Her journey transforms what began as an ugly experience of hate into one offering hope and finding beauty after brutality Anita transforms her personal experience into one of universal resonance offering a call to action to keep walking onwards Every footstep taken is an act of persistence Every word written against the rising tide of hate speech such as this book is an act of resistance

The Moorlands of England and Wales Ian Gordon Simmons, 2003 This is a history of the moorlands and the part they have played in English and Welsh history over ten millennia Ian Simmons combines the perspectives of natural science archaeology social history and historical geography and draws on forty years of exploring and studying the moorlands Starting with a description of their origins and how they have changed under the impact of human and natural forces Simmons shows how perceptions of the moors have been influenced by writers artists and the media and how they have been inspired by the moors and how these perceptions have resulted in great changes in attitudes to moorland use and management The book begins by offering some concise understanding of the physical and natural characteristics of moorlands It then gives an account of how hunter gatherers of the Mesolithic period altered their surroundings using fire It describes how millennia of agricultural production wrought distinctive moorland landscapes and how these in turn were affected and sometimes transformed by industrialisation afforestation and changes in farming methods The renewed impetus in the twentieth century for environmental management and conservation brings the story near to the present The North Pennines Dartmoor and South Wales are the subject of detailed accounts that reveal the common characteristics of the moorlands as well as their marked contrasts Beyond the recent crises of overgrazing and the 2001 foot and mouth outbreak Ian Simmons lays out some possible futures for the moors British Book News ,1986 Circa ,1988 Encyclopedia of Geographical Features in World History James R. Penn,1997 An encyclopedia of geographical features in the Americas and Europe west of the Ural Mountains with historical and cultural significance Entries contain geological geographical and historical information plus cross references and bandw photos Some entries discuss myths and legends surrounding particular geographical features and deal with environmental issues Includes bandw maps For students of geology geography and history Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Cumulative Book Index ,1988 A world list of books in the English language The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1993 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Whitaker's Book List ,1988 Back to the Wall A Walker,2017-01-15 The story of a long ramble in the northern Pennines from Settle to Hadrian s Wall and back following a route first trodden by Alfred Wainwright in 1938
