People Of Power A Philippine Worldview Of Spirit Encounters:

People of Power John P. McAndrew, 2001 Situating the first person accounts of spirit encounters from Davao and Davao Oriental provinces within the context of a Philippine worldview of indigenous religion and healing this book examines five central themes acquiring personal power remembering one's debt of gratitude healing as an efficacious power competing with the power of others and the localization of religious beliefs It likewise explores the affinity of localized Philippine religion to the emerging ecological worldview of the universe

The Way of the Cross Julius Bautista, 2019-09-30 Every year during Holy Week in the Philippine province of Pampanga hundreds of men and women undergo acts of excruciating self-inflicted pain in ways that evoke the Way of the Cross the torment and crucifixion that Christ endured in the last days of his earthly existence Because these Passion rituals are officially disavowed by the Filipino Roman Catholic Church most observers view them as irrational and extremist mimicry of Christ's painful ordeal Even scholars conventionally depict them as theatrical spectacle or macabre examples of Filipino folk religion But what conditions enable ritual actors to submit to such extreme pain What justifications do they give for going against official prohibitions What outcomes do they seek in channeling Christian piety in this way This book addresses these questions through its in depth analyses of three interconnected ritual acts the pabasa a days long communal chanting of Christ's Passion story the pagdaram the public self flagellation of hundreds of devotees and the pamamaku king krus in which steel nails are driven through the palms and feet of ritual practitioners as part of a street play performed in front of tens of thousands of spectators Author Julius Bautista suggests that such ritual acts manifest the embodied physicality of a suffering selfhood that facilitates the expression of heartfelt sentiments of pity empathy trust and bereavement By emphasizing these outwardly focused human sensibilities as the wellsprings of ritual agency he demonstrates that Passion rituals are reinterpretations of the very idea and experience of pain hardship and suffering and premised on an appeal for a certain kind of divine intimacy The author draws on a decade of in depth and often exclusive interviews with a host of local stakeholders including ritual practitioners clerics scholars and government officials and his own participation in a Passion play Ethnographic insight is considered alongside primary and secondary archival sources including unpublished locally produced oral historical accounts and a survey of relevant media coverage The Way of the Cross makes a welcome contribution to the anthropology of religion by examining the unique ontological contexts in which ritual agents experience God's involvement in their lives

Land and Cultural Survival Jayantha Perera, 2009-09-01 Development in Asia faces a crucial issue the right of indigenous peoples to build a better life while protecting their ancestral lands and cultural identity An intimate relationship with land expressed in communal ownership has shaped and sustained these cultures over time But now public and private enterprises encroach upon indigenous peoples traditional domains extracting minerals and timber and building dams and roads Displaced in the name of progress indigenous peoples find their identities diminished their livelihoods gone Using case studies from Cambodia India

Malaysia and the Philippines nine experts examine vulnerabilities and opportunities of indigenous peoples Debunking the notion of tradition as an obstacle to modernization they find that those who keep control of their communal lands are the ones most able to adapt Context and Expressions of Filipino Spirituality, 2004 Philippine Quarterly of Culture and Society, 2003 Fundamentalism and Pluralism in the Church Dennis T.
