Promised End Eschatology In Theology And Literature:

The Promised End Paul S. Fiddes, 2000-10-03 This book brings Christian theology creative literature and literary critical theory into dialogue on the theme of the end Where appropriate it also considers recent scientific views on the nature of time Postmodern critical theorists and many other writers emphasize the open nature of endings but this book suggests that the mixture of openness and closure in Christian eschatology not only offers a coherent sense of an ending but may make it possible to construct endings in the here and now On the way to this conclusion the book provides an exegesis of novels plays and poems by such writers as John Fowles Julian Barnes Doris Lessing Samuel Beckett T S Eliot Virginia Woolf James Joyce and Shakespeare Among critical theorists postmodern and otherwise it considers especially the ideas of Frank Kermode Northrop Frye Jacques Derrida and Paul Ricoeur The author also examines the main themes of Christian eschatology such as death parousia resurrection human destiny and the nature of eternity and offers a critical view of the doctrines of the last things produced by major modern theologians including Jürgen Moltmann and Wolfhart Pannenberg Through this dialogue the book aims to form an image of the eternal wholeness of persons in the life of the triune God that takes seriously the deconstruction of images of domination

Modernism, Christianity and Apocalypse , 2014-10-30 Modernism Christianity and Apocalypse stages an encounter between the fields of Modernism and Christianity and Apocalypse Studies The modernist impulse to make it new to transform and reform culture is an incipiently apocalyptic one poised between imaginative representations of an Old Era or civilization and the experimental promise of the New Christianity figures in formative tension with the new but its apocalyptic paradigms continued to impact modernist visions of cultural revitalization In three sections tracing a rough chronology from the late nineteenth century fin de siècle via interwar conflicts and the rise of political religions to post 1945 anxieties such as the Bomb this thematic is explored in nineteen far ranging scholarly contributions outlining a distinctive and fresh interdisciplinary field of study

Literature and Theology Dr Heather Walton, 2013-06-28 This book explores current trends in the interdisciplinary study of literature and theology an area of academic activity that has developed dramatically in the past twenty years The field of study originated from the impetus to embrace the richness of imaginative resources in theological reflection and was stimulated by the re emergence of the sacred in contemporary theory Since the mid 90s critical theory has undergone a number of significant transformations theology has become a subject of public concern and the boundaries between sacred and cultural texts have become increasingly unstable This book brings together the work of leading scholars in the field with that of emerging voices Offering an important resource for the growing number of postgraduate courses exploring the relation between religion and culture in the contemporary context this book delineates current trends in interdisciplinary debate as well as tracing emerging configurations

Theology on a Defiant Earth Jonathan Cole, Peter Walker, 2022-11-01 Humanity operates like a force of nature capable of affecting the destiny of the Earth System This epochal shift profoundly alters the relationship between humankind and the Earth presenting the conscious thinking human animal with an unprecedented dilemma As human power has grown over the Earth so has the power of nature to extinguish human life The emergence of the Anthropocene has settled any question of the place of human beings in the world we stand inescapably at its center The outstanding question which forms the impetus and focus for this book remains What kind of human being stands at the center of the world And what is the nature of that world Unlike the scientific fact of human centeredness this is a moral question a question that brings theology within the scope of reflection on the critical failures of human irresponsibility Much of Christian theology has so far flunked the test of engaging the reality of the Anthropocene The authors of these original essays begin with the premise that it is time to push harder at the questions the Anthropocene poses for people of faith A Reformed Voice in the Ecumenical Discussion Martien Brinkman,2016-04-26 In A Reformed Voice in the Ecumenical Discussion Martien E Brinkman offers a critical account of the main international ecumenical developments of the last three decades He delivers a sketch of the Reformed contribution to the ecumenical dialogues dealing with issues like contextuality state church relations the ethical implications of baptism the church as sacrament of the kingdom and apostolic tradition He pleads for a stronger non Western input in the ecumenical discussions and emphasizes that in many contexts Indonesia India China the interreligious dialogue has become part of the inner Christian dialogue This study can be considered as a constructive contribution to the development of a hermeneutics of tradition and puts itself the critical question what is lost and found in translation A Catholic Reading Guide to Universalism Robert Wild,2015-08-14 This reading guide to some of the philosophical and theological literature on universalism offers practical help in providing informed material on a topic that is often treated in a superficial and unenlightened manner The reader may be surprised to learn that universalism was the predominant belief in the early centuries and that it has always been present in the Christian tradition Spurred on by Von Balthasar's book Dare We Hope That All Men Be Saved Robert Wild's guide provides current studies that support Von Balthasar's arguments that universalism is a legitimate hope for the Christian The Theological Turn in Contemporary Gothic Fiction Simon Marsden,2018-09-21 This study examines theological themes and resonances in post 1970 Gothic fiction It argues that contemporary Gothic is not simply a secularised genre but rather one that engages creatively and often subversively with theological texts and traditions This creative engagement is reflected in Gothic fiction's exploration of theological concepts including sin and evil Christology and the messianic resurrection eschatology and apocalypse Through readings of fiction by Gothic and horror writers including Stephen King Joyce Carol Oates Peter Straub William Peter Blatty and others this book demonstrates that Christianity continues to haunt the Gothic imagination and that the genre's openness to the mysterious numinous and non rational opens space in which to explore religious beliefs and experiences less easily accessible to more overtly realist forms of representation The book offers a new perspective on contemporary Gothic fiction that will be of interest to students and scholars of contemporary Gothic and of the relationship between literature and religion more generally Writing the Rapture Crawford Gribben, 2009-02-02 In this book Crawford Gribben offers the only full length history description and analysis of the rapture novel genre The late 1980s which saw a renaissance of the evangelical imagination culminated in the creation of the Left Behind series co authored by Tim La Haye and Jerry B Jenkins The novels in this series Gribben shows are astonishingly derivative borrowing entire characters and significant incidents from earlier books Analyzing the unexpected publishing success of the Left Behind novels he characterizes the series as a barometer of evangelical popular opinion Evangelicals, Worship and Participation Alan Rathe, 2016-04-22 In discussions of worship the term participation covers a lot of ground It refers not only to concrete acts in gathered liturgy but also to some of the loftiest claims of Christian theology In this book Alan Rathe probes the ways in which North American evangelicals have in recent years regarded the landscape of participation Rathe presents a broad review of evangelical worship literature through a lens borrowed from medieval theology This brings into surprising focus not only evangelical understandings but also evangelical identities and the historical traditions they reflect and offers fresh perspectives on such current theological concerns as God s triunity missio Dei and the practical theology of participation Offering a fresh contribution to a young but important discipline the liturgically informed study of evangelical worship practice this book reconnects the evangelical tradition to the Great Tradition and in the process re appropriates classic concepts that are full of promise for contemporary ecumenical dialogue Revelation 21-22 in Light of Jewish and Greco-Roman Utopianism Eric J. Gilchrest, 2013-05-01 In Revelation 21 22 in Light of Jewish and Greco Roman Utopianism Eric J Gilchrest offers a creative and compelling reading of Revelation 21 22 as understood through the lens of ancient utopianism The work is in two parts beginning with a detailed portrait of ancient utopianism based on Greco Roman and Jewish traditions The portrait sketches the topography of the utopian landscape which includes a thorough account of various traditions using fourteen utopian topoi or motifs The author then moves to a description of Revelation s new Jerusalem in light of these two utopian traditions With sensitivity to how this text would have been read by each utopian perspective the author constructs a unique reading of a classic passage that highlights the variety of ways the text originally may have been heard
