Riding the Limiteds' Locomotives Howard G. Hill,1972 A Treatise on the Law of Carriers Robert Hutchinson,1906 Baltimore and Ohio Employes Magazine ,1929 Dixie Limited Joseph R. Millichap,2014-10-17 In the South railroads have two meanings they are an economic force that can sustain a town and they are a metaphor for the process of southern industrialization Recognizing this duality Joseph Millichap s Dixie Limited is a detailed reading of the complex and often ambivalent relationships among technology culture and literature that railroads represent in selected writers and works of the Southern Renaissance Tackling such Southern Renaissance giants as Thomas Wolfe Eudora Welty Robert Penn Warren and William Faulkner Millichap mingles traditional American and Southern studies in their emphases on literary appreciation and evaluation in terms of national and regional concerns with contemporary cultural meaning in terms of gender race and class Millichap juxtaposes Faulkner s semi autobiographical families with Wolfe s fiction which represents changing attitudes toward the Southern Other Faulkner s later fiction is compared to that of Warren Welty and Ellison and Warren s later poetry moves toward the contemporary post Southernism of Dave Smith These disparate examples suggest the subject of the final chapter the continuing search for post Southern patterns of persistence and change that reiterate reject and perhaps reconfigure the Southern Renaissance As we enter the twenty first century that we recall how much the twentieth century South was shaped by railroads built in the nineteenth century It is also important that we recognize how much our future will be determined by the technological and cultural tracks we lay Nameplates John Jackson,2018-05-15 s A4 Pacifics are arguably the most famous locomotives ever built a status cemented by Mallard s record breaking run on the 3rd July 38 And yet only a year later the glamorous streaks seemed likely to be cast into obscurity by the coming of another world war So for only four exhilarating years they were allowed to flourish as their creator had intended and in that time captured the imagination of railwaymen and public alike With the help of previously unpublished material the author analyses the complex evolution of the A4s a project that began in 1911 when Gresley was appointed as Locomotive Superintendent of the Great Northern Railway It is a story with many strands to consider war peace and war again engineering and art politics and business recession and social change the growth of the media and consumerism the struggle for professional reputations and a growing deeply damaging international rivalry All these elements are captured in the story of the A4s in the heady days before conflict ended their brief golden age and Gresley s life came to an end Mines and

Griffin, 2005-02 Texas Ranger Jim Blawczyk is riding the El Paso Limited en route to a routine assignment until the train is wrecked and robbed Barely escaping the flaming wreckage of the train Blawczyk sets out to track down the outlaws responsible for such wanton death and destruction What at first appears to be an isolated train robbery leads the Ranger to a much larger plot to destroy the Texas Pacific Railroad Not only having to try and stop the renegades determined to destroy the railroad Blawczyk also finds himself the target of a mysterious dry gulcher Just ahead Sam Jim sighed in relief as a flash of lightning revealed a low cliff with several good sized boulders scattered at its base We'll rest for the night We've stuck it out through worse pard You'll be Jim's voice stopped short as a bullet split the air alongside his head followed by the sharp crack of a rifle He ripped at his reins yanking Sam around Get outta here fast Sam Can't see where those shots are comin from Give it all you got he shouted as bullets ripped the air As lightning flickered and the rifle snarled again the Ranger threw up his hands and slewed out of the saddle to lie sprawled in the mud Sam reared and galloped down the trail then halted and turned nickering questioningly at the prone form of his rider Mallard Don Hale, 2019-09-02 Just over eighty years ago on the East Coast main line the streamlined A4 Pacific locomotive Mallard reached a top speed of 126mph a world record for steam locomotives that still stands Since then millions have seen this famous locomotive resplendent in her blue livery on display at the National Railway Museum in York Here Don Hale tells the full story of how the record was broken from the nineteenth century London Scotland speed race and surprisingly traces Mallard's futuristic design back to the Bugatti car and the influence of Germany's nascent Third Reich which propelled the train into an instrument of national prestige He also celebrates Mallard's designer Sir Nigel Gresley one of Britain's most gifted engineers Mallard is a wonderful tribute to one of British technology's finest hours The Southeastern Reporter, 1922
