Rienzi Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton, 1910 Historisk roman fra Rom i 1300 tallet med Cola di Rienzo f 1351 som hovedperson RIENZI THE LAST OF THE ROMAN T Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton, 180, 2016-08-29 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Rienzi Edward Bulwer Lytton Lytton, Baron, 2014-02-08 The celebrated name which forms the title to this work will sufficiently apprise the reader that it is in the earlier half of the fourteenth century that my story opens It was on a summer evening that two youths might be seen walking beside the banks of the Tiber not far from that part of its winding course which sweeps by the base of Mount Aventine The path they had selected was remote and tranquil It was only at a distance that were seen the scattered and squalid houses that bordered the river from amidst which rose dark and frequent the high roof and enormous towers which marked the fortified mansion of some Roman baron On one side of the river behind the cottages of the fishermen soared Mount Janiculum dark with massive foliage from which gleamed at frequent intervals the grey walls of many a castellated palace and the spires and columns of a hundred churches on the other side the deserted Aventine rose abrupt and steep covered with thick brushwood while on the height from concealed but numerous convents rolled not unmusically along the quiet landscape and the rippling waves the sound of the holy bell Of the young men introduced in this scene the elder who might have somewhat passed his twentieth year was of a tall and even commanding stature and there was that in his presence remarkable and almost noble despite the homeliness of his garb which consisted of the long loose gown and the plain tunic both of dark grey serge which distinguished at that time the dress of the humbler scholars who frequented the monasteries for such rude knowledge as then yielded a scanty return for intense toil His countenance was handsome and would have been rather gay than thoughtful in its expression but for that vague and abstracted dreaminess of eye which so usually denotes a propensity to revery and contemplation and betrays that the past or the future is more congenial to the mind than the enjoyment and action of the present hour The younger who was yet a boy had nothing striking in his appearance or countenance unless an expression of great sweetness and gentleness could be so called and there was something almost feminine in the tender deference with which he appeared to listen to his companion His dress was that usually worn by the humbler classes though somewhat neater perhaps and newer and the fond vanity of a mother might be detected in the care with which the long and silky ringlets had been smoothed and parted as they escaped from his cap and flowed midway down his shoulders
