Leadership and the Rise of Great Powers Xuetong Yan, 2020-12-22 A leading foreign policy thinker uses Chinese political theory to explain why some powers rise as others decline and what this means for the international order Why has China grown increasingly important in the world arena while lagging behind the United States and its allies across certain sectors Using the lens of classical Chinese political theory Leadership and the Rise of Great Powers explains China s expanding influence by presenting a moral realist theory that attributes the rise and fall of great powers to political leadership Yan Xuetong shows that the stronger a rising state s political leadership the more likely it is to displace a prevailing state in the international system Yan shows how rising states like China transform the international order by reshaping power distribution and norms and he considers America s relative decline in international stature even as its economy education system military political institutions and technology hold steady Leadership and the Rise of Great Powers offers a provocative alternative perspective on the changing dominance of states

Superpower, China? Historicizing Beijing's New Narratives Of Leadership And East Asia's Response Thereto

Niv Horesh, Hyun Jin Kim, Peter Mauch, 2014-10-27 This book sets out to answer how China's rise can best be understood from both East Asian and Western perspectives It also assesses the prospect of realignment away from the US hegemony in

East Asia in light of persistent regional rivalries Throughout the book the authors show that for China's neighbours as well as for its own intellectuals historicizing the country's rise provides one way of understanding its current ascendant trajectory on the one hand and acute social problems on the other To which historical precedent should one turn Did Japanese Prime Minister Abe Shinzo get it right when he recently likened the contemporary Sino-Japanese relationship to that of Germany and Britain on the eve of World War I Is Harvard Law School's Noah Feldman correct in his assertion that China and the United States are on the verge not of a Cold War but of a Cool War in which a classic struggle for power is unfolding at the same time as economic cooperation is becoming deeper The authors examine these questions and also focus on other observations that becloud China's rise
