Managing Risks in the Railway System Konstantinos Tzanakakis, 2021-01-23 This book offers a comprehensive and practice-oriented guide to risk management with a special emphasis on the physical and environmental risks related to the operations of railway systems. It is intended to provide a roadmap for managing the risk by controlling safety. Starting with a concise historical introduction and by presenting basic concepts of risk management, the book describes in turn the railway systems and their complexity. Then it goes in depth into the process of risk management, describing the main elements from risk identification, analysis and assessment to risk monitoring and communication. Different risk assessment techniques are reviewed in detail and the main components of a risk management plan are presented. The book concludes with an introduction to health risk management, describing strategies for performing health risk assessments for staff in safety-critical positions. Based on the conviction that controlling safety is the main strategy in managing risk and on the fact that the systems we would like to control are complex ones, this book provides transport and safety engineers with the necessary knowledge to effectively manage the risks of the railway system.

Covid-19 and the Sociology of Risk and Uncertainty Patrick R. Brown, Jens O. Zinn, 2022-05-25 This book provides a global perspective on COVID-19, taking the heterogeneous realities of the pandemic into account. Contributions are rooted in critical social science studies of risk and uncertainty and characterized by theoretical approaches such as cultural theory, risk society theory, governmentality perspectives and many important insights from southern theories. Some of the chapters in the book have a more theoretical conceptual emphasis, while others are more empirically oriented, but all chapters engage in an insightful dialogue between the theoretical and the empirical in order to develop a rich, diverse and textured picture of the new challenge the world is facing and responding to. Addressing multiple levels of responses to the coronavirus as understood in terms of institutional and governance policies, media communication and interpretation and the sense-making and actions of individual citizens in their everyday lives, the book brings together a diverse range of studies from across 6 continents. These chapters are connected by a common emphasis on applying critical theoretical approaches which help make sense of and critique the responses of states, organisations and individuals to the social phenomena emerging amid the Corona pandemic.
