Risking Old Age In America:

Risking Old Age In America Richard J. Margolis, 2019-06-18 Originally published in 1990 Research into the provision made for the 30 million Americans aged sixty five and up whom society calls old      The New Politics of Old Age Policy Robert B. Hudson, 2005 The successor to Robert Hudson's The Future of Age Based Public Policy this volume offers a variety of perspectives on these policy issues that directly effect America's aging population particularly the relative merits of using chronological age to determine eligibility for government programs      Aging, Social Inequality, and Public Policy Fred C. Pampel, 1998-02-25 Author Fred C. Pampel treats age as a component of social inequality which gives rise to the three major themes of the text diversity in the experience of individuals differences in public policy and variations across nations Comparison of the United States with other nations is a central component of the book providing a greater understanding of the larger forces that shape old age      The Graying of the World Laura Katz Olson, 1994 This unique book studies America's frail older population relative to the elderly in ten other nations It contains a cross national assessment of approaches to long term care for the elderly and explains the nature and extent of current and future problems related to caring for the functionally impaired elderly By studying and analyzing the ongoing struggles of other nations in their attempts to cope with growing populations of frail elderly readers in the U S can expand the parameters of their own national debate on the subject The Graying of the World shows the political economic and social context in which decisions on elder care are based and evaluates how successful various countries programs have been Chapters outline alternative approaches taken by disparate types of national systems highlighting unique and creative solutions to provide useful information on new and alternative ways to respond to personal and public issues related to elder care The elderly and their care in Finland France Germany Great Britain Israel Japan People's Republic of China Sweden and Yugoslavia are discussed as are the elderly in Canada and the United States Chapters cover the following topics for each country the increasing number of frail elderly and their costly health needs the current and future role of the state in elder care the current and future role of the family in elder care types of support services offered for the elderly including in home care community based care and institutional care the relationship of a nation's political economy to its attitude and policy on long term care innovative approaches to elder care Practitioners decision makers and the concerned general public will all find The Graying of the World an interesting and informative book that expands the discussion of health care options available for the elderly As such the book is also a helpful text for undergraduate and beginning graduate students of gerontology public policy and comparative politics as well as for social service practitioners It provokes much needed conversation on developing a healthcare plan for the future that meets the needs of a large elderly population      Aging and Adult Development in the Developing World Frank E. Eyetsemitan, James T. Gire, 2003-02-28 Most studies of human development in developing societies have focused on the childhood stage and in a few cases exploration has extended up to adolescence since this age group represents about half the population in developing societies The developed world however is experiencing a surge in the elderly population and this has spurred its study There is growing recognition that studies are needed in order to understand aging in all contexts and to discover how the experience may differ in developing and developed societies In this book the authors discuss the appropriateness or inappropriateness of applying Western theories and perspectives to studies of aging in the developing world The present study critically examines the major theories in the area of aging and adult development covering such domains as the physical psychological and social aspects of aging death and dying and social and public policies Applying the concepts of individualism and collectivism as well as the global and environmental dimensions of the developing world the authors have earmarked the theories that seem suitable only to the developed world and those that appear to be universally relevant

Critical Perspectives on Aging Meredith Minkler, Carroll Estes, 2020-11-25 This unique volume brings together 20 critical essays on aging within the context of the broad social political and economic factors that help shape and determine the realities of growing old Rather than viewing aging in isolation it explores the social creation of old age dependency and the profound influence of race gender and social class on what it means to grow old It looks too at such topics as the biomedicalization of aging the role of business and the media in changing societal images of the old the fact and fiction behind senior power the multibillion dollar nursing home industry and the role of advanced capitalist nations in creating economic dependency among elders in the Third World

Services to the Aging and Aged Paul K. Kim, 2021-03-04 This series attempts to address the topic of aging from a wide variety of perspectives and to make available some of the best gerontological thought and writings to researchers professional practitioners and students in the field of aging as well as in other related areas This volume is an invaluable resource for those persons seeking a broad comprehensive coverage of current public policies and service programs for the elderly Besides dealing with present gerontological services it also explores the emerging challenges that these services must face in the future One of the outstanding features of the book is that its contributors include some of the most prominent authorities in the field of gerontology This is an exceptionally important and timely volume and is a much needed addition to the literature on aging

Aging Harry R. Moody, 2006-01-13 Welcome to the world's most unique and dynamic textbook on aging Widely praised and adopted in previous editions the Fifth Edition of Aging once again presents key issues in an engaging and accessible fashion Organized unlike any other traditional textbook author Harry R. Moody presents basic concepts followed by controversies supported by carefully chosen adapted readings The result is the most captivating introduction to gerontology available today

Families in Later Life Alexis Walker, 2001-01-22 The introductory essays and readings drawn from both literature and social science research vividly illustrate the diversity of aging experiences both within and across American families diversity conditioned by social space historical time and individual biography Eleanor Palo Stoller Selah Chamberlain Professor of Sociology Case Western Reserve University Families in Later Life is the only textbook on the subject that addresses the diversity of aging experiences in society by race gender and social class and in a form which combines insight from the humanities as well as the social sciences Includes a balance between empirical selections and literary pieces keeping students interested and engaged while still introducing them to solid research Every social science article included has been carefully edited so those students learn and enjoy their reading to the maximum extent possible Framing Essays by the Editors Questions for Discussion and a complete Index make this book even more useful for teaching

Gerontological Nursing

Mary M. Burke, Susan Sherman, 1993 This book makes a compelling argument for an immediate and comprehensive shift in the nursing education curriculum from an acute care to a gerontological nursing care focus It is important reading for deans and faculty in schools of nursing administrators in long term care facilities and community health agencies and for practicing nurses caring for the elderly

Voices and Visions of Aging

Robert Kastenbaum, PhD, Thomas R. Cole, PhD, W. Andrew Achenbaum, PhD, Patricia L. Jakobi, PhD, 1992-11-15 A critical gerontology requires more than a simple elaboration of existing humanistic scholarship on aging This exceptional new work introduces a basis for genuine dialogue across humanistic scientific and professional disciplines Among the topics addressed are industrial employment retirement life styles of older women and biological research From philosophical reflections on the third age to critical perspectives on institutional adaptations to an aging society this book presents a wide range of provocative thought

Remainder of Their Days

Carolyn J. Rosenthal, Jon Hendricks, 2021-04-14 First published in 1993 This present volume co edited by two sociologists Jon Hendricks of the United States and Carolyn Rosenthal of Canada focuses on a comparative cross national discussion of social policies of the United States and Canada especially those related to health care The uniqueness of this work lies in the fact that it views family experiences from both a Canadian and an American perspective In addition this book not only fills a gap in our knowledge of social policies but contributes to our understanding of how these policies shape and effect the lives of older families in both countries

Old Age and American Slavery David Stefan Doddington, 2023-11-16 Old Age and American Slavery explores how antebellum southerners Black and white adapted to resisted or failed to overcome changes associated with old age both real and imagined Slavery was a system of economic exploitation and a contested site of personal domination both of which were affected by concerns with age In examining how individuals families and communities felt about the aging process and dealt with elders David Stefan Doddington emphasizes the complex social relations that developed in a slave society In connecting old age to the arguments of Black activists abolitionists enslavers and their propagandists the book reveals how representations of old age and experiences of aging spoke to wider struggles relating to mastery paternalism resistance and survival in slavery The book asks us to rethink long standing narratives relating to networks of solidarity in the American South and it illuminates the violent and exploitative nature of American slavery

Perspectives on the Future of the Sociology of Aging Panel on New Directions in Social Demography, Social Epidemiology, and the Sociology of Aging, Committee on Population, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Research Council, 2013-02-14 The population of the United States is growing inexorably older With birth rates historically low and life expectancy continuing to rise the age distribution of the population in the United States is growing steadily older This demographic shift is occurring at a time of major economic and social changes which have important implications for the growing elderly population Other changes such as the move away from defined benefit toward defined contribution retirement plans changes in some corporate and municipal pension plans as a result of market pressures and the 2008 financial crisis precipitated by the crash of the housing market all have economic implications for older people They are also likely to make it more difficult for certain groups of future retirees to find their retirements at the level that they had planned and would like To deal effectively with the challenges created by population aging it is vital to first understand these demographic economic and social changes and to the extent possible their causes consequences and implications Sociology offers a knowledge base a number of useful analytic approaches and tools and unique theoretical perspectives that can be important aids to this task The Panel on New Directions in Social Demography Social Epidemiology and the Sociology of Aging was established in August 2010 under the auspices of the Committee on Population of the National Research Council to prepare a report that evaluates the recent contributions of social demography social epidemiology and sociology to the study of aging and seeks to identify promising new research in these fields Perspectives on the Future of the Sociology of Aging provides candid and critical comments that will assist the institution in making the final published volume as sound as possible and to ensure that the volume meets institutional standards for objectivity evidence and responsiveness to the study charge      Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1991      LIFE ,1939-02-06
