Risks and Reconstruction Michael M. Cernea,Chris McDowell,2000-01-01 This book offers a multidimensional comparative analysis of two large groups of the world s displaced populations resettlers uprooted by development and refugees fleeing military conflicts or natural calamities The authors explore common central issues the condition of being displaced the risks of impoverishment and destitu tion the rights and entitlements of those uprooted and most important the means of reconstruction of their livelihoods Adapt de l Introduction

Development-Induced Displacement and Resettlement Irge Satiroglu,Narae Choi,2015-04-10 Every year millions of people are displaced from their homes livelihoods and communities due to land based development projects There is no limit to what can be called a development project They can range from small scale infrastructure or mining projects to mega hydropower plants can be public or private well planned or rushed into Knowledge of development induced displacement and resettlement DIDR remains limited even after decades of experience and research Many questions are yet unanswered What is success in resettlement Is development without displacement possible or can resettlement be developmental Is there a global safeguard policy or do we need an international right not to be displaced This book revisits what we think we know about DIDR Starting with case studies that challenge some of the most widespread preconceptions it goes on to discuss the ethical aspects of DIDR The book assesses the current laws policies and rights governing the sector and provides a glimpse of how the displaced people defend themselves in the absence of effective governance and safeguard mechanisms This book is a valuable resource for students and researchers in development studies population and development and migration and development

30 Years after the Lake Nyos Disaster Henry Ngenyam Bang,2016-07-30 This book is based on empirical research about the Lake Nyos Disaster and examines contemporary challenges within natural hazards disaster risk vulnerability resettlement risk perception disaster management and relocation decisions in Cameroon It brings the ramifications of the LND to the fore analysing not only the continuing social vulnerabilities risks in the affected populations but also ongoing efforts to rehabilitate the affected area This treatise is further enriched by theoretical concepts models in disasters along with an analysis that integrates the results findings with the theories that underpin them Based on the research results the author has produced a new disaster model that informs Relocation Decisions

Environment and Resettlement Politics in China Gørild Heggelund,2017-07-05 The Three Gorges dam currently being constructed on the Yantgze River in China is controversial both inside and outside China particularly because of the large number of people to be resettled officially 1 2 million and the environmental impacts Using material previously unavailable in any Western language it analyses the Chinese discussions over policy making for the resettlement process and impacts It concludes that the environment and resettlement policies have been linked in a new way in this project However despite these positive developments it argues that the social impacts from resettlement have not yet reached a high level of political attention and that the Chinese authorities need to acknowledge that resettlement has social costs The book provides an understanding of the social political and economic factors of one of the largest and most controversial development projects currently being implemented It also sheds light on China's policy making procedures and political priorities over the past decade The Amorites and the Bronze Age Near East Aaron A. Burke, 2021 A diachronic yet nuanced study of Amorite identity from Mesopotamia to Egypt over a millennium of Bronze Age history The Economics and Politics of Resettlement in India: JAIN, BALA, 2006 The Economics and Politics of Resettlement in India comprises fourteen well researched and relevant essays by academicians researchers and practitioners with extensive knowledge and experience of the resettlement and rehabilitation R R processes in India These essays provide valuable insights into R R practices and experiences from a variety of developmental fields including road projects dams mining forests and farmlands It will be a useful for policy makers NGOs and journalists working in the field of development induced displacement in India students and scholars Refugees and Forced Migration in the Horn and Eastern Africa Johannes Dragsbaek Schmidt, Leah Kimathi, Michael Omondi Owiso, 2019-05-13 This volume sheds new light on the refugees and forced migration at the Horn of Africa and East Africa Adopting a multidisciplinary perspective it traces historical structural and geopolitical factors to reveal the often brutal uprooting of people in a region that hosts more than three million refugees and almost six million internally displaced persons IDPs By doing so it enriches our understanding of the socio economic geopolitical and humanitarian causes and implications of migration and population displacement The book is divided into five parts focusing on different drivers of involuntary displacement and people's uprooting The first part covers geopolitical conflicts rooted partly in the colonial and Cold War geographies The second part then focuses on security aspects and conflicts while the third looks at encampment and refugee policies as well as refugee agencies Part four highlights issues of forced repatriation and human trafficking Lastly part five analyzes the dynamics of refugee camps

Refugees Worldwide Doreen Elliott, Uma A. Segal, 2012-08-03 Utilizing international perspectives this unprecedented collection of essays from leading authorities on refugee studies spotlights the realities and challenges of the global refugee population With increasing changes in the socio political climate of the world as well as with the rising numbers of natural disasters people of all ethnicities and nationalities are frequently forced from their homes and their homelands While there is a substantial body of work that addresses refugee policies post traumatic stress disorder and other specific issues there have been few attempts to understand refugee health or comprehend overall refugee adaptation until now This is the first work to address refugee issues worldwide addressing the psychological health human rights political public policy law economic social and personal aspects of this universal problem Refugees Worldwide also includes examples of first person refugee stories from around the world eye opening information not available in any other work Drawing on the expertise of myriad international researchers theoreticians and practitioners from representative nations around the world this four volume set effectively speaks to a number of refugee issues from a truly global perspective Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina, Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet, 2013-07-18 This volume presents new theoretical approaches methodologies subject pools and topics in the field of environmental anthropology Environmental anthropologists are increasingly focusing on self reflection not just on themselves and their impacts on environmental research but also on the reflexive qualities of their subjects and the extent to which these individuals are questioning their own environmental behavior Here contributors confront the very notion of natural resources in granting non human species their subjectivity and arguing for deeper understanding of nature and wilderness beyond the label of ecosystem services By engaging in interdisciplinary efforts these anthropologists present new ways for their colleagues subjects peers and communities to understand the causes of and alternatives to environmental destruction This book demonstrates that environmental anthropology has moved beyond the construction of rural small group theory entering into a mode of solution based methodologies and interdisciplinary theories for understanding human environmental interactions It is focused on post rural existence health and environmental risk assessment on the realm of alternative actions and emphasizes the necessary steps towards preventing environmental crisis

African Land Rights Systems Aquiline Tarimo, 2014-06-16 This book from ethical interdisciplinary and African perspectives unveils the root causes of the increasing land disputes Its significance lies upon the effort of presenting a broad overview founded upon a critical analysis of the existing land related disputes It is a perspective that attempts to evaluate the renewed interest in evolving theories of land rights by raising questions that can help us to understand better differences underlying land ownership systems conflict between customary and statutory land rights systems and the politics of land reform Other dimensions explored in the book include the market influence on land grabbing and challenges accompanying trends of migration resettlement and integration The methodology applied in the study provides a perspective that raises questions intended to identify areas of contention dispute and conflict The study which could also be categorized as a critical assessment of the African land rights systems is intended to be a resource for scholars activists and organizations working to resolve land related disputes

Development-induced Displacement and Human Rights in Africa Romola Adeola, 2020-09-21 Within the context of the 2009 Kampala Convention this book examines how a balance can be struck between the imperative of development projects and the rights of persons likely to be displaced in Africa Following independence many African states embarked on large scale development projects such as dams urban renewal and extraction of natural resources and have had to grapple with how to protect displaced communities while implementing development projects These projects were considered a panacea for Africa s development and the economic interests of the majority were often considered over and above the interests of the minority of people who were displaced by these projects This book

examines how a balance can be struck between the imperative of development and the rights of displaced persons within the context of the African Union Convention on the Protection and Assistance of Internally Displaced Persons in Africa the Kampala Convention Romola Adeola analyses the obligations that are placed on African states by the Kampala Convention in the context of development induced displacement This book will be of interest to scholars of human rights law forced migration African Studies and development The Migration-Displacement Nexus Khalid Koser, Susan Martin, 2011-09-01 The migration displacement nexus is a new concept intended to capture the complex and dynamic interactions between voluntary and forced migration both internally and internationally Besides elaborating a new concept this volume has three main purposes the first is to focus empirical attention on previously understudied topics such as internal trafficking and the displacement of foreign nationals using case studies including Afghanistan and Iraq the second is to highlight new challenges including urban displacement and the effects of climate change and the third is to explore gaps in current policy responses and elaborate alternatives for the future Internal Displacement and the Law Walter Kälin, 2023-06-26 The world faces more than 60 million people displaced by armed conflict and disasters as of 2022 Climate change is set to trigger large scale displacement in the future Internal Displacement and the Law discusses to what extent the present law can contribute to preventing responding to and resolving internal displacement and protecting the rights of these internally displaced persons IDPs It also identifies its weaknesses and examines ways to improve action The book s analysis reflects the realities of internal displacement and the challenges faced by displaced individuals and communities their hosts governments and international actors Assessing the UN Guiding Principles on Internal Displacement and the Kampala Convention on the Protection and Assistance of Internally Displaced Persons in Africa this enlightening volume investigates the relevance of international human rights and humanitarian law to the problem of displacement with an eye toward durable solutions In line with its human rights approach this work promotes a narrative that based on the concept of sovereignty as responsibility emphasizes the primary responsibility of states to address the needs of IDPs and views them as citizens with rights and agency rather than as vulnerable beneficiaries of humanitarian action The author concludes that the body of relevant law amounts to an emerging legal regime on internal displacement whose substantive norms are largely adequate but which faces specific institutional challenges at domestic and international levels that weaken efforts to address the plight of IDPs

Social Networks and Migration in Wartime Afghanistan K. Harpviken, 2009-05-14 Drawing on fieldwork in the Herat area Afghanistan this book addresses migration patterns throughout three decades of war It launches a framework for understanding the role of social networks for people s responses to war and disaster as well as mobilizing or maintaining material resources for security and gathering information Refugee Rights David Hollenbach, 2008-04-30 Of the over 33 million refugees and internally displaced people in the world today a disproportionate percentage are found in Africa Most have been driven from their homes by armed strife displacing people into settings that fail to meet standards for even basic human dignity Protection of the human rights of these people is highly uncertain and unpredictable Many refugee service agencies agree advocacy on behalf of the displaced is a key aspect of their task But those working in the field are so pressed by urgent crises that they can rarely analyze the requirements of advocacy systematically Yet advocacy must go beyond international law to human rights as an ethical standard to prevent displaced people from falling through the cracks of our conflicted world Refugee Rights Ethics Advocacy and Africa draws upon David Hollenbach SJ s work as founder and director of the Center for Human Rights and International Justice at Boston College to provide an analytical framework for vigorous advocacy on behalf of refugees and internally displaced people Representing both religious and secular perspectives the contributors are scholars practitioners and refugee advocates all of whom have spent time on the ground in Africa The book begins with the poignant narrative of Abebe Feyissa an Ethiopian refugee who has spent over fifteen years in a refugee camp from hell Other chapters identify the social and political conditions integral to the plight of refugees and displaced persons Topics discussed include the fundamental right to freedom of movement gender roles and the rights of women the effects of war and the importance of reconstruction and reintegration following armed conflict The book concludes with suggestions of how humanitarian groups and international organizations can help mitigate the problem of forced displacement and enforce the belief that all displaced people have the right to be treated as their human dignity demands Refugee Rights offers an important analytical resource for advocates and students of human rights It will be of particular value to practitioners working in the field

Gender, Identity and Migration in India Nasreen Chowdhury, Paula Banerjee, 2022-02-10 The book focuses on voices of displaced women who constitute a critical part of the migration process through an unravelling of the engendered displacement It draws attention to the various processes methods and approaches by national and international human rights and humanitarian laws and principles and the experiences of the relevant communities organisations towards peaceful co existence The contributions to this volume embellish the argument that there is a direct correlation between an academic researcher s positionality methods and trajectories of critical knowledge production In particular feminist epistemologies with specific emphasis on post coloniality utilized in conjunction with scholarship related to transnational migration studies constitute a distinctly powerful vantage point for challenging methodological nationalism and the syndrome of seeing like the state in the area of forced migration studies

Resettlement in Asian Countries Mohammad Zaman, Reshmy Nair, Shi Guoqing, 2021-12-15 This book examines land acquisition and resettlement experience in Asian countries where nearly two thirds of the world s development induced displacement currently takes place Faced with the complexity of balancing legal frameworks and resettlement needs along with increasing demands for safeguarding displaced peoples in recent years many countries within Asia have adopted integrated land and resettlement laws This book presents a comparative review and assessment of the impact of the new land and resettlement laws and regulatory frameworks for expropriation compensation and resettlement Written by an international interdisciplinary team of experts from both practice and academia the book demonstrates the ongoing challenges and struggles associated with social and resettlement risk assessments the social and cultural exclusion of indigenous vulnerable groups in some countries and the lack of institutional capacity to adequately deal with resettlement management and administration The case studies and comparative analyses of laws and practices relating to expropriation compensation and resettlement make significant contributions to advancing resettlement knowledge and management practices The book will be useful as a reference for development practitioners and for researchers across the fields of global development political science Asian studies planning and law The book also has potential use as a resource for resettlement management training programs and graduatelevel courses seminars in development studies

Kakuma Refugee Camp Bram J. Jansen, 2018-06-15 Kenya s Kakuma refugee camp is one of the world s largest home to over 100 000 people drawn from across east and central Africa Though notionally still a temporary camp it has become a permanent urban space in all but name with businesses schools a hospital and its own court system Such places Bram J Jansen argues should be recognised as accidental cities a unique form of urbanization that has so far been overlooked by scholars Based on extensive ethnographic fieldwork Jansen s book explores the dynamics of everyday life in such accidental cities The result is a holistic socio economic picture moving beyond the conventional view of such spaces as transitory and desolate to demonstrate how their inhabitants can develop a permanent society and a distinctive identity Crucially the book offers important insights into one of the greatest challenges facing humanitarian and international development workers how we might develop more effective strategies for managing refugee camps in the global South and beyond An original take on African urbanism Kakuma Refugee Camp will appeal to practitioners and academics across the social sciences interested in social and economic issues increasingly at the heart of contemporary development

Disaster Upon Disaster Susanna M. Hoffma, Roberto E. Barrios, 2019-10-03 A consistent problem that confronts disaster reduction is the disjunction between academic and expert knowledge and policies and practices of agencies mandated to deal with the concern Although a great deal of knowledge has been acquired regarding many aspects of disasters such as driving factors risk construction complexity of resettlement and importance of peoples culture very little has become protocol and procedure Disaster Upon Disaster illuminates the numerous disjunctions between the suppositions realities agendas and executions in the field goes on to detail contingencies predicaments old and new plights and finally advances solutions toward greatly improved outcomes
