Metropolis Now Planning And The Urban In Contemporary Australia:

Metropolis Now Katherine Gibson, Sophie Watson, 1994-01-01 Metropolis now planning and the urban in contemporary Australia Planning in Indigenous Australia Sue Jackson, Libby Porter, Louise C. Johnson, 2017-07-28 Planning in settler colonial countries is always taking place on the lands of Indigenous peoples While Indigenous rights identity and cultural values are increasingly being discussed within planning its mainstream accounts virtually ignore the colonial roots and legacies of the discipline s assumptions techniques and methods This ground breaking book exposes the imperial origins of the planning canon profession and practice in the settler colonial country of Australia By documenting the role of planning in the history of Australia s relations with Indigenous peoples the book maps the enduring effects of colonisation It provides a new historical account of colonial planning practices and rewrites the urban planning histories of major Australian cities Contemporary land rights native title and cultural heritage frameworks are analysed in light of their critical importance to planning practice today with detailed case illustrations In reframing Australian planning from a postcolonial perspective the book shatters orthodox accounts revising the story that planning has told itself for over 100 years New ways to think and practise planning in Indigenous Australia are advanced Planning in Indigenous Australia makes a major contribution towards the decolonisation of planning It is essential reading for students and teachers in tertiary planning programmes as well as those in geography development studies postcolonial studies anthropology and environmental management It is also vital reading for professional planners in the public private and community sectors Australian urban land use planning Nicole Gurran, 2011 Urban and regional planning is increasingly central to public policy in Australia and internationally As cities and regions adapt to profound economic societal and technological shifts new urban and environmental problems are emerging from inadequate systems of transport and infrastructure to declining housing affordability biodiversity loss and human induced climate change Australian urban land use planning provides a practical understanding of the principles processes and mechanisms for strategic and proactive urban governance Substantially updated and expanded this second edition explains and compares the legislation policy and plan making development assessment and dispute resolution processes of Australia s eight state and territorial planning jurisdictions as well as the changing role of the Commonwealth in environmental and urban policy This new edition also extends the coverage of planning practice with a new chapter on planning for climate change a more detailed treatment of planning for housing diversity and affordability and a comprehensive analysis of the New South Wales planning system and its evolution over the last 30 years Nicole Gurran is an associate professor in the Urban and Regional Planning Program at the University of Sydney Her research focuses on comparative planning approaches to housing ecological sustainability and climate change Prior to joining the University of Sydney she practised as a planner in several state government roles focusing on local environmental plan making environmental management and housing policy She is on the Executive Board of the International Urban Planning and Environment Association Urban Planning in a Changing World Robert Freestone, 2000 Urban planning in today's world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years. Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world, this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning at the end of the millennium.

The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning Neil Sipe, Karen Vella, 2017-08-25 Where is planning in twenty-first century Australia? What are the key challenges that confront planning? What does planning scholarship reveal about the state of planning practice in meeting the needs of urban and regional Australians? The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning includes 27 chapters that answer these and many other questions that confront planners working in urban and regional areas in twenty-first century Australia. It provides a single source for cutting-edge thinking and research across a broad range of the most important topics in urban and regional planning. Divided into six parts, this handbook explores contexts of urban and regional planning in Australia, critical debates in Australian planning, planning policy, climate change, disaster risk and environmental management, engaging and taking planning action, planning education and research. This handbook is a valuable resource for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students in urban planning, built environment, urban studies and public policy, as well as academics and practitioners across Australia and internationally.

Landscapes Hilary P.M. Winchester, 2013-10-29 Landscapes is a timely and well-written analysis of the meaning of cultural landscapes. The book delves into the layers of meaning that are invested in ordinary landscapes as well as landscapes of spectacle and power. Landscapes is a powerful and vivid application of the new cultural geography to case studies not previously visited within cultural geography texts.

Technologies of InSecurity Katja Franko Aas, Helene Oppen Gundhus, Heidi Mork Lomell, 2008-08-21 Technologies of InSecurity examines how general social and political concerns about terrorism, crime, migration and globalization are translated into concrete practices of securitisation of everyday life. Who are we afraid of in a globalizing world? How are issues of safety and security constructed and addressed by various local actors and embodied in a variety of surveillance systems? Examining how various forms of contemporary insecurity are translated into and reduced to issues of surveillance and social control, this book explores a variety of practical and cultural aspects of technological control as well as the discourses about safety and security surrounding them. Insecurity is a politically and socially constructed phenomenon with a variety of meanings and modalities. And exploring the inherent duality and dialectics between our striving for security and the simultaneous production of insecurity, Technologies of InSecurity considers how mundane objects and activities are becoming bearers of risks which need to be neutralised. As ordinary arenas such as the workplace, the city centre, the football stadium, the airport and the internet are imbued with various notions of risk and danger and subject to changing public attitudes and sensibilities, the critical deconstruction of the nexus between everyday surveillance and insecurity pursued here provides important new insights about how broader political issues are translated into concrete and local practices of social control and exclusion

Text, Theory, Space Kate Darian-Smith, Liz

Gunner, Sarah Nuttall, 2005-08-04 Text Theory Space is a landmark in post colonial criticism and theory Focusing on two white settler societies South Africa and Australia the contributors investigate the meaning of the South as an aesthetic political geographical and cultural space Drawing upon a wide range of disciplines which include literature history urban and cultural geography politics and anthropology the contributors examine crucial issues including defining what the South encompasses investigating ideas of space history land and landscape claiming naming and possessing land national and personal boundaries questions of race gender and nationalism

Intelligent Environments P. Droege, 1997-03-20

The environment as modified and created by people is largely about the use of information its generation and exchange How do recent innovations in the technologies of information management and communication affect our use of space and place and the way we perceive and think about our surroundings This volume provides an international exploratory forum for the complex phenomenon of new information and communication technology as it permeates and transforms our physical world and our relation to it the architectural definition of our surrounding geographical space urban form and immediate habitats This book is a reader an attempt at registering disciplinary changes in context at tracing subtexts for which most mainstream disciplines have no established language The project is to give voice to an emerging meta discipline that has its logic across the specializations A wide range of professionals and academics report findings views and ideas Together they describe the architecture of a postmodern paradigm how swiftly mutating the proliferating technology applications have begun to interact with the construction and reading of physical space in architecture economics geography history planning social sciences transport visual art but also in the newer domains that have joined this spectrum through the very nature of their impacts information technology and telecommunications The space navigated in this volume is vast both in physical terms and in its virtual and analogous form It ranges from the space that immediately encompasses or is simulated to encompass the human body as in buildings and virtual tectonics to that of towns and regions We stay clear of molecular scale space and of dimensions that are larger than earth

Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2006-09-27

Home is a significant geographical and social concept It is not only a three dimensional structure a shelter but it is also a matrix of social relations and has wide symbolic and ideological meanings home can be feelings of belonging or of alienation feelings of home can be stretched across the world connected to a nation or attached to a house the spaces and imaginaries of home are central to the construction of people s identities An essential guide to studying home and domesticity this book locates home within wider traditions of thought It analyzes different sources methods and examples in both historical and contemporary contexts ranging from homes on the American frontier and imperial domesticity in British India to Australian suburbs multicultural London and South Asian diasporic homes The core argument of the book has three main parts that cut across each of its chapters home making identity and belonging homely and unhomely spaces Each chapter includes text boxes and exercises and is well illustrated with cartoons line drawings and photographs Outlining the social relations shaping and being influenced by the geographies of home and the imaginative as well as material importance of home this book will be a valuable reference for students of geography sociology gender studies and those interested in the home and domesticity

Research Handbook on Law and Utilitarianism Guillaume Tusseau,2024-10-03 The Research Handbook on Law and Utilitarianism sheds light on contemporary legal culture and the ways in which it interacts with theories of justice Guillaume Tusseau brings together an interdisciplinary range of scholars to analyse the utilitarian standpoint on legal disciplines and legal governance as well as the contribution of utilitarian arguments to current legal debates International Migration and Security Elspeth Guild,Joanne van Selm,2005-03-31 Every day newspapers in the Western world carry articles about illegal immigrants asylum seekers and other migrants The focus of these articles varies greatly from migrants as a threat to one or another important social or societal interest to migrants as an important asset to those same interests The tone is most often emotional whichever way the focus goes The overall impact is to confuse is migration good or bad In this book Guild and van Selm seek to investigate these value assessments regarding migrants in Europe the USA Canada and Australia While looking at issues such as security human rights legal systems identity racism welfare health and labour the authors also respond to critics of immigration Housing and Social Change Ray Forrest,James Lee,2003-09-25 This wide ranging exploration of the key contemporary relationships between social change and housing is both policy oriented and theoretical drawing on a group of internationally respected academics It is also multidisciplinary incorporating sociology economics social policy and human geography perspective Its international perspective is rooted in its examination of issues such as economic insecurity and instability social diversity financial and social exclusion sustainability privatisation and state legitimacy the interaction of the global and the local across three continents Urban Planning in a Changing World Freestone,2000-06-22 Urban planning in today s world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning a Place, Identity and Everyday Life in a Globalizing World Harvey Perkins,David C. Thorns,2017-09-16 How do our everyday environments inform our activities routines and encounters In what way has globalization affected the sites in which we work relax and interact Is there still a place for local identity in a globalized age This book examines the ways in which we use local spaces and global processes to shape our identities Showing how enhanced tourism communication developments and increased diversity have effected the way we live every day the text also explains how individuals communities and cities react to such globalizing forces on a local level Each chapter unravels complex connections between place identity and global processes and carefully outlines what core theory can tell us about key contemporary debates including surveillance environmental change and sustainability Taking examples from urban and rural life shopping malls and virtual worlds the book encourages us to look at our immediate surroundings in a sociological light Highlighting the interdependence of space and society in a rapidly changing world this text is essential reading for those studying place and identity in Sociology Cultural Studies Geography Urban Studies and Rural Studies A Companion to Feminist Geography Lise Nelson,Joni Seager,2025-07-28 A Companion to Feminist Geography captures the breadth and diversity of this vibrant and substantive field Shows how feminist geography has changed the landscape of geographical inquiry and knowledge since the 1970s Explores the diverse literatures that comprise feminist geography today Showcases cutting edge research by feminist geographers Charts emerging areas of scholarship such as the body and the nation Contributions from 50 leading international scholars in the field Each chapter can be read for its own distinctive contribution Visions of Suburbia Roger Silverstone,1997 On suburban life and popular culture Changing Suburbs Richard Harris,Peter Larkham,2003-09-02 The editors and contributors to this volume demonstrate how suburbs and the meaning of suburbanism change both with time and geographical location Here the disciplines of history geography and sociology together with subdisciplines as diverse as gender studies art history and urban morphology are brought together to reveal the nature of suburbia from the nineteenth century to the present day Feminist Perspectives on Equity and Trusts Susan Scott-Hunt,Hilary Lim,2013-06-17 Previous collections of essays on equity and trusts law have focused on doctrinal issues only occasionally giving a policy gloss or suggestion of social context and impact Although a critical approach can be glimpsed in journal articles and student texts this collection of essays draws together both feminist and critical material It is unique in being written by feminists in dealing with equity and trusts as a whole and in being written in the critical tradition Domicile and Diaspora Alison Blunt,2011-07-22 Domicile and Diaspora investigates geographies of home and identity for Anglo Indian women in the 50 years before and after Indian independence in 1947 The first book to study the Anglo Indian community past and present in India Britain and Australia The first book by a geographer to focus on a community of mixed descent Investigates geographies of home and identity for Anglo Indian women in the 50 years before and after Indian independence in 1947 Draws on interviews and focus groups with over 150 Anglo Indians as well as archival research Makes a distinctive contribution to debates about home identity hybridity migration and diaspora
