Mfantsipim and the Making of Ghana A. Adu Boahen, 1996 Winner of The Noma Award for Publishing in Africa The jury cited the book as no ordinary history book It is a fascinating story elegantly told by a meticulous historian in a beautifully produced volume The author a major historian and political figure skilfully presents the story of the making of modern Ghana through the life history of one school The author illuminates how western education has refined and changed the destiny of Ghanaian families from the school and the contribution of the school to nation building through the excellence of the products of the school The history of the school is set against the background of the history of Ghana in general and a completely new light is thrown on a turning point in Ghana's history the 1948 riots and their aftermath The History of Ghana Roger S. Gocking, 2005-06-30 Gocking provides a historical overview of Ghana from the emergence of precolonial states through increasing contact with Europeans that led to the establishment of formal colonial rule by Great Britain at the end of the 19th century Colonial rule transformed what was known as the Gold Coast economically socially and politically but it contained the seeds of its own demise After World War II an increasingly more effective nationalist movement challenged British rule and in 1957 Ghana became independent Independence brought its own challenges the most important of which was the inability to maintain political stability Within the space of 24 years there were four military coups and the collapse of three republics Ghana's Fourth Republic established in 1993 has dealt with the legacy of instability inherited from the past as it moves towards a more stable future A timeline photographs maps and an appendix of biographies of notable figures in the history of Ghana are included Students and adults alike will find this book to be highly effective in describing the often turbulent and tumultuous history of this country History of Ashanti by Otumfuo, Nana Osei Agyeman Prempeh II Tom C McCaskie, 2022-12-31 A history of Asante from the late 17th century to the 1930s authorized and produced by the 12th Asantehene Osei Agyeman Prempeh II Perhaps the single longest historical work produced by a ruler of any sub-Saharan African society this is an indigenous account of the three hundred year history of a still vigorous African polity

Global Perspectives on Boarding Schools in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Daniel Gerster, Felicity Jensz, 2022-11-14 In the nineteenth and twentieth centuries thousands of pupils attended boarding schools in various places across the globe. Their experiences were vastly different yet they all had in common that they were separated from their families and childhood friends for a period of time in order to sleep eat learn and move within the limited spatial sites of the boarding school. This book frames these boarding schools as a global and transcultural phenomenon that is part of larger political and social developments of European imperialism the Cold War and independence movements. Drawing together case studies from colonial South Africa colonial India Dutch Indonesia early twentieth century Nigeria Fascist Spain Ghana Nazi Germany nineteenth century Ireland North America and the Soviet Union this edited collection examines the ways in which boarding schools extracted pupils from their original social background in order to train mold and shape them so that they could fit into the perceived position in broader society. The book makes the broader argument that framing boarding schools as a global phenomenon is imperative for a deepened understanding of the global and transnational networks that linked people as well as ideas and practices of education and childhood in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries.

Dignity of Labour for African Leaders Shoko Yamada, 2018-04-12 From 1910 to the 1930s educating Africans was a major preoccupation in the metropole and in the colonies of imperial Britain This richly researched book untangles the discourse on education for African leaders which involved diverse actors such as colonial officials missionaries European and American educationists or ideologues in Africa and diaspora The analysis is presented around two foci of decision making one is the Memorandum on Education Policy in British Tropical Africa issued by the British Colonial Office in 1923 another is the Achimota School established on the Gold Coast Colony present day Ghana as a model school in 1927 Ideas brought from different sources were mingled and converged on the areas where the motivations of actors have coincided The local and the global was linked through the chains of discourse interacting with global economic political and social concerns The book also vividly describes how the ideals of colonial education were realized in Achimota School
