The Poetics and Politics of Diaspora Jerome C. Branche, 2014-08-21 This book studies the creative discourse of the modern African diaspora by analyzing poems novels essays hip hop and dub poetry in the Caribbean England Spain and Colombia and capturing diasporan movement through mutually intersecting axes of dislocation and relocation and efforts at political group affirmation and settlement or location Branche's study connects London's multimillion dollar riots of 2011 and its antecedents associated with the West Indian settler community to the discontent and harrowing conditions facing black immigrants to contemporary Spain as gateway to Fortress Europe It links the brutal massacres that target Colombia's dispossessed and displaced poor and mainly black throwaway citizens victims of the drug trade and neoliberal expansionism to older Caribbean stories that tell of the original spurts of capitalist greed and the colonial cauldron it created at the center of which lay the slave trade In revisiting the question of what really has awaited Afro descendants at the end of the Middle Passage this volume brings transatlantic slavery the making of weak postcolonial states that bleed people and the needle's eye of racial identification together through a close reading of rappers black radicals dub poetry and novelists from Europe Africa and the Americas Branche at once demonstrates the existence of an archive of Afro modern diasporan discursive production and just as importantly points toward a historically rooted theoretical framework that would contain its liberatory trajectory

Apartheid and Anti-Apartheid in Western Europe Knud Andresen, Sebastian Justke, Detlef Siegfried, 2020-12-12 This edited collection examines how Western European countries have responded and been influenced by the apartheid system in South Africa The debate surrounding apartheid in South Africa underwent a shift in the second half of the 20th century with long held positive racist European opinions of white South Africans slowly declining since decolonisation in the 1960s and the increase in the importance of human rights in international politics While previous studies have approached this question in the context of national histories more or less detached from each other this edited collection offers a broader insight into the transnational and entangled histories of Western European and South African societies The contributors use exemplary case studies to trace the change of perception covering a plurality of reactions in different societies and spheres from the political and social to the economic and cultural At the same time the collection emphasizes the interconnections of those reactions to what has been called the last overtly racist regime George Frederickson of the twentieth century
