Michael Ondaatje: Haptic Aesthetics and Micropolitical Writing Milena Marinkova, 2011-07-14 This study of selected literary and cinematic works by Michael Ondaatje investigates the political potential of the Canadian author's aesthetics Contributing to current debates about affect and representation ideology critique and the artwork trauma and testimony this book uses the concept of the haptic to demonstrate how Ondaatje's multisensory fluid and historically inflected writing can forge an enabling relationship between audience author and text This is where Ondaatje's micropolitics often misconstrued as ideologically suspect aestheticism emerges a praxis that intimates how one can write and read politically with a difference

Michael Ondaatje Leslie Mundwiler, 1984 In a survey that includes Ondaatje's fiction poetry and films Mundwiler proposes a pervasive tension in the writing between the filmic and the poetic and an implicit critique of conventional concepts of history Michael Ondaatje Lee Spinks, 2013-07-19 Michael Ondaatje is the first comprehensive and fully up to date study of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre Starting from Ondaatje's beginnings as a poet this volume offers an intensive account of each of his major publications including The Collected Works of Billy the Kid Coming Through Slaughter In The Skin of a Lion and The English Patient drawing attention to the various contexts and intertexts that have informed his work The book contains a broad overview of Ondaatje's career for students and readers coming to his work for the first time It also offers an original reading of his writing which significantly revises conventional accounts of Ondaatje as a postmodern or postcolonial writer As the fullest account of Ondaatje's work to date Spinks's approach draws on a range of postcolonial theory and as well as being a landmark in Ondaatje scholarship makes a distinctive contribution to debates about postcolonial literature and the poetics of postmodernism Image & Imagination Martha Langford, 2005 A richly illustrated exploration of the imagination in photography featuring the work of over sixty international artists Michael Ondaatje Douglas Barbour, 1993 Today as his richly metaphorical texts enjoy international renown Ondaatje's fame is especially fascinating for he has neither followed trends nor played to any crowd instead fulfilling his wish to start each new book with a new vocabulary Unlike fellow writers Robert Kroetsch and George Bowering Ondaatje dislikes discussing theory it takes an appreciation as sharp and probing as Douglas Barbour's to enlighten us to the thoughts intentions and influences that have shaped Ondaatje's work his consistent movement into new territory and his masterful traversal through the modes of late modernism postmodernism and postcolonialism Barbour offers luminous readings of each of Ondaatje's books up to The English Patient 1992 a novel of international scope that is as much about the power of narratives as the power of passion Barbour illuminates Ondaatje's early alignment with Wallace Stevens and Robert Lowell as well as his later development in the Pound tradition Compromise and Resistance in Postcolonial Writing Alberto Fernández Carbajal, 2014-02-20 Compromise and Resistance in Postcolonial Writing offers a new critical approach to E M Forster's legacy It examines key themes in Forster's work homosexuality humanism modernism liberalism and their relevance to post imperial and postcolonial novels by important contemporary writers Do You Want to Be Happy and Write? Robert Lecker, 2023-09-01

Michael Ondaatje has achieved international prominence and recognition in a way that few other writers have let alone Canadian writers. This popularity is most pronounced for works of historical fiction such as The English Patient winner of the Golden Man Booker Prize and In the Skin of a Lion set in 1930s Toronto shortlisted for the Governor General's Award and winner of the Canada Reads competition in 2002. But Ondaatje has been writing for over fifty years and his innovative works include some of the most accomplished poetry in the English speaking world. Taking its title from a question in his poem Tin Roof Do You Want to Be Happy and Write reassesses Ondaatje's writing and the role of the poet from his troubled explorations of the self reflexive artist to his most recent novels. Comprehensive in both approach and coverage this new collection offers groundbreaking analysis informed by an understanding of Ondaatje's entire oeuvre placing early poetry collections like The Collected Works of Billy the Kid and There's a Trick with a Knife I'm Learning to Do alongside the full range of his novels and his extensive work as a literary editor. The book highlights the transnational postcolonial and diasporic issues that have become increasingly apparent in Ondaatje's work. Contributors explore key interests that have reappeared and been rethought across his fiction and poetry: the construction of identity, the nature of memory and its relation to family origins and history, the human body as a site of contestation and struggle, the contrast between Eastern and Western values and the Southeast Asian diaspora, the writer's responsibility in depictions of war, psychic trauma and genocide, and an ongoing fascination with the visual and the media of photography and film. An eclectic celebration of an iconic author, Do You Want to Be Happy and Write offers an authoritative reference point for scholars and students of literature and reveals new facets of a major author to his readers around the world.

Making and Seeing Modern Texts Jonathan Locke Hart, 2018-07-04. Making and Seeing Modern Texts explores the poetics of texts through a close reading and analysis across the genres of poetry, drama, fiction, non-fiction, travel literature and theory. This volume demonstrates that prose as much as poetry share the making and seeing of language, literary practice and theory. Genre then is presented as a guide that crosses multiple boundaries. This volume selects different ways to examine texts, discussing Michael Ondaatje's early poetry and examining narrative in Philip Roth's The Human Stain. The book examines images in poetry, narrative in fiction, prefaces in non-fiction, metatheatricality in drama and attempts to see the modern and postmodern in theory, all of which show us the complexities of modernity or later modernity. One of the innovations is that the author, a literary critic, theorist, poet and historian, takes his training in practice and theory and shows through examples of each how language operates across genres.

Constructions of Colonialism Ian J. McNiven, 1999-01-01. One of the most famous shipwreck sagas of the 19th century took place on the tropical coast of north east Australia. In 1836 the Stirling Castle was wrecked off the Queensland coast and many of the crew together with the captain's wife Eliza Fraser were marooned on Fraser Island. Early sensationalized accounts represent Mrs Fraser as an innocent white victim of colonialism and her Aboriginal captors as barbarous savages These first contact narratives of the white woman and her Aboriginal captors impacted significantly on England and the politics of Empire at an early stage in Australia's colonial history The text critically examines the Eliza Fraser episode by bringing together an interdisciplinary team of authors artists members of the Fraser Island Aboriginal community and academics in the areas of cultural and women's studies literature history anthropology archaeology the visual and creative arts This book Essays include feminist analyses of the incident investigations of textual and visual representations of Aboriginal people and considerations of the role played by Eliza Fraser as creative inspiration for the arts The text explores the constructions of Empire colonialism identity femininity savagery otherness captivity and survival

Cosmopolitan Minds Alexa Weik von Mossner, 2014-04-21 During World War II and the early Cold War period factors such as race gender sexual orientation or class made a number of American writers feel marginalized in U S society Cosmopolitan Minds focuses on a core of transnational writers Kay Boyle Pearl S Buck William Gardner Smith Richard Wright and Paul Bowles who found themselves prompted to seek experiences outside of their home country experiences that profoundly changed their self understanding and creative imagination as they encountered alternative points of views and cultural practices in Europe Asia and Africa Alexa Weik von Mossner offers a new perspective on the affective underpinnings of critical and reflexive cosmopolitanism by drawing on theories of emotion and literary imagination from cognitive psychology philosophy and cognitive literary studies She analyzes how physical dislocation and the sometimes violent shifts in understanding that result from our affective encounters with others led Boyle Buck Smith Wright and Bowles to develop new cosmopolitan solidarities across national ethnic and religious boundaries She also shows how in their literary texts these writers employed strategic empathy to provoke strong emotions such as love sympathy compassion fear anger guilt shame and disgust in their readers in order to challenge their parochial worldviews and practices Reading these texts as emotionally powerful indictments of institutionalized racism and national violence inside and outside of the United States Weik von Mossner demonstrates that our emotional engagements with others real and imagined are crucially important for the development of transnational and cosmopolitan imaginations

Science and Public Reason Sheila Jasanoff, 2012 This book offers an empirically detailed cross nationally comparative account of the institutional logics and practices through which modern democratic governments construct public reason that is the forms of evidence and argument designed to persuade publics that legal and policy decisions are founded on reliable knowledge and expertise

Imagining Justice Julie McGonegal, 2009-03 Discourses of forgiveness and reconciliation have emerged as powerful scripts for interracial negotiations in states struggling with the legacies of colonialism While such discourses can obscure or even perpetuate existing power relations they can also encourage remembrance reformulate notions of justice and ultimately bring about social transformation

Verbal-Visual Configurations in Postcolonial Literature Birgit Neumann, Gabriele Rippl, 2020-04-23 Examining a range of contemporary Anglophone texts this book opens up postcolonial and transcultural studies for discussions of visibility and vision It argues that the preoccupation with visual practices in Anglophone literatures addresses the power of images vision and visual aesthetics to regulate cultural visibility and modes of identification in an unevenly structured world The representation of visual practices in the imaginative realm of fiction opens up a zone in which established orders of the sayable and visible may be revised and transformed In 12 chapters the book examines narrative fiction by writers such as Michael Ondaatje Derek Walcott Salman Rushdie David Dabydeen and NoViolet Bulawayo who employ word image relations to explore the historically fraught links between visual practices and the experience of modernity in a transcultural context Against this conceptual background the examination of verbal visual relations will illustrate how Anglophone fiction models alternative modes of representation that reflect critically on hegemonic visual regimes and reach out for new more pluralized forms of exchange

Handbook of Anglophone World Literatures Stefan Helgesson, Birgit Neumann, Gabriele Rippl, 2020-09-07

Not Needing all the Words Annick Hillger, 2006-05-26

Not Needing all the Words looks at Ondaatje's work in relation to the post Cartesian idea of the modern subject as split and alienated Highlighting the distinction between aesthesis and logic Hillger traces the ways in which Ondaatje responds to the continuing process of silencing art in the modern age of reason
