Nursing Support For Families Of Dying Patients:

Nursing Support for Families of Dying Patients Rosemary McIntyre, 2001-11-28 When a patient has an advanced disease considerable demands are placed on the whole family Whilst coping with their own profound emotions close relatives commonly have to support their loved ones through a range of treatments as the disease progresses through stages of remission and recurrence until finally a shift to a palliative mode of treatment must be faced In such situations family roles and relationships are likely to be disrupted and family members coping resources can be stretched to the limit It is clear from this that by the time the terminal stage of the patient's illness is reached the family may have travelled a long and difficult road and close relatives are likely to be emotionally vulnerable and in need of support This study explores the needs of relatives of terminally ill patients and the concerns of nurses who provide care in the hospital The research data is used to design implement and evaluate clinical standards for improved family support

Palliative Care Jean Lugton, Rosemary McIntyre, 2006-01-04 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States Palliative Care The Nursing Role is an introductory text for nurses and other health care professionals who deliver palliative care across a range of settings It lays a clear foundation of knowledge focusing on the needs and perspectives of patients and families who face the challenge of advanced incurable illness The style is highly accessible yet challenges readers to analyze key issues that present within palliative care Covering the wide range of care provision in hospices hospitals and patients homes the book draws widely from practice based examples to explain and expand upon theoretical issues Research evidence underpins each of the chapters Guided activities encourage readers to reflect in a focused way on their clinical experience and current practice This new edition has been fully updated to reflect ongoing developments and shifting trends in palliative care education and practice It will suit the needs of both pre and post qualifying students seeking to develop their knowledge and is well suited to practitioners working within either generalist or specialist palliative care settings or within acute or community settings as well as those studying a range of palliative care educational curricula The authors have a wide range of experience in palliative care and all are actively engaged in practice and or education A clear broad based approach offers a thorough introduction for the non specialist nurse Written and edited by an experienced team of nurses working in this field grounding it in current practice Learning outcomes listed at the start of each chapter aid learning and comprehension Reflective practice activities and an outline of CPD is especially useful for students working independently Case histories recommended reading lists and references provide a solid evidence base for clinically based practice and facilitate further study Thoroughly revised and updated to reflect changes in policy direction A new chapter on pain and symptom management Revised content reflects the recent shift in the evidence base concerning spirituality Includes psychosocial issues of loss for the patient their family and careers
