Our Stories The Experiences Of Black Professionals On Predominantly White Campuses:

Our Stories Mordean Taylor-Archer, Sherwood E. Smith, 2002 Our Stories provides an important opportunity for the reader to hear the voices of African American individuals often absent from the education conversation. These voices provide a greater awareness and clearer understanding of the level of personal and professional challenges that Black professionals and students working and studying on predominately white campuses must successfully navigate. Understanding the complexity of these concerns should create a greater awareness and sensitivity to the issues confronting black professionals in higher education. The writers represent a cross section of black professionals in various positions at colleges and universities throughout the United States. From publisher description

OUR STORIES: THE EXPERIENCES OF BLACK PROFESSIONALS AND PREDOMINANTLY WHITE CAMPUSES. , 2021 The Experiences of Black Women Diversity Practitioners in Historically White Institutions Johnson, Tristen Brenaé, 2022-12-19 In recent decades historically white institutions have advanced their focus on diversity equity and inclusion practices within their organizations. Today many organizations feature diversity practitioners within their workforce. Despite this many historically white institutions such as education business and healthcare organizations still face systemic racism from within. In the wake of the dual pandemics of COVID 19 and systemic racism it is essential for historically white institutions to listen to the experiences of Black women diversity practitioners so that they may implement the necessary changes to promote a more diverse inclusive and equitable environment. The Experiences of Black Women Diversity Practitioners in Historically White Institutions centers on Black women's experiences before during and after the dual pandemics at historically white higher education corporate America and healthcare institutions and how these experiences have affected their ability to perform their jobs. The stories and research provided offer crucial information for institutions to look inward at the cultures and practices for their organizations that directly impact Black women diversity practitioners. Covering topics such as guidance in leadership Black woman leadership and mindfulness training this premier reference source is an essential resource for higher education staff and administration Black women diversity practitioners administration leaders in business hospital administration libraries students and educators of higher education researchers and academicians

Intersectionality and Higher Education W. Carson Byrd, Rachele J. Brunn-Bevel, Sarah M. Ovink, 2019-05-03 Though colleges and universities are arguably paying more attention to diversity and inclusion than ever before to what extent do their efforts result in more socially just campuses? Intersectionality and Higher Education examines how race ethnicity class gender sexuality sexual orientation age disability nationality and other identities connect to produce intersected campus experiences. Contributors look at both the individual and institutional perspectives on issues like campus climate race class and gender disparities LGBTQ student experiences undergraduate versus graduate students faculty and staff from varying socioeconomic backgrounds students with disabilities undocumented students and the intersections of two or more of these topics. Taken together this volume presents an evidence backed vision of how the twenty first century higher education landscape should evolve in order to meaningfully support all participants reduce marginalization and reach for equity and equality Understanding and Teaching U.S. Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender History Leila J. Rupp, Susan K. history of African Americans Among the topics treated in each edition of the annual Index are gender issues literature education business discrimination health care and the arts Interviews obituaries and book and drama reviews are also included The Index is international in scope including African countries and regions but its emphasis is on the extraordinary diversity of the African American experience Untold Stories of Black Leadership in Higher Education W. Franklin Evans, 2023-07-20 Higher education leadership continues to shift as new individuals move into positions of authority and management within the ranks of academia These new leaders that come from within the academic and teaching ranks share their stories experiences and challenges of not only being black gifted and educated but they speak very candidly about their journey to becoming more seasoned proficient and skilled The narratives and encounters they share provide meaningful insight into the realm of black leadership at the college level and constitute a guide and tool for handling conflict and change as an academic leader Amplifying Black Undocumented Student Voices in Higher Education Felecia S.

Russell, 2024-04-15 This book centers a qualitative study exploring the experiences of 15 Black undocumented students and the author's own experiences as a Black DACA Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals recipient highlighting the invisibility and lack of belonging Black undocumented students face in the undocumented community and the United States at large Access and success within higher education for undocumented students cannot be achieved unless those implementing policies understand the full context of the community Through both an interpretative phenomenological approach and biographical memoir this volume makes meaning of the experiences of undocuBlack students a group who do not often see themselves being represented in the immigrant narrative It argues that without visibility undocuBlack students are rarely the beneficiaries of advocacy and become targets of overcriminalization The stories told here examine the intersection of race and identity in determining positioning within society with the goal of contributing awareness and promoting more inclusive practices among higher education communities This text offers an important new perspective for faculty and administrators policymakers upper level undergraduate and graduate students as well as general readers with an interest in Black and immigrant narratives and the undocumented experience as an academic subject Campus Activities Programming, 2002

Still Working While Black Antione D. Tomlin, 2023-06-01 Just as the first edited volume of this book Working While Black The Untold Stories of Student Affairs Practitioners examined student affairs professionals narratives and how they navigate their professional experiences this one has a similar aim This new volume birthed from the overwhelmingly positive feedback and massive interest from other Black professionals needing to share and tell their stories So with that in mind a goal of this book is to share more of the untold stories of Black student affairs practitioners by Black student affairs practitioners Tomlin 2022 p X This book crafted from an asset based approach chapter authors share the challenges and opportunities they have experienced due to being a Black while working as a student affairs practitioner Additionally chapter authors provide poignant advice on how current and potential student affairs professionals can successfully navigate the field

Authors within the book are from various student affairs areas and have a wide range of knowledge expertise and lived experiences. Such areas include Greek Life, Residence Life, Athletics, International Student Support, Diversity Access, Career Services, Financial aid, Enrollment, and more. Given the depth and breadth of experiences and expertise, each chapter will provide poignant suggestions for student affairs practitioners across the nation and institutions looking to understand these experiences to support their employees better. College campuses and spaces operate as models of the greater society. Therefore, all of the challenges and issues of racism, discrimination, and anti-Blackness are present (Rankin et al. 2017). While students experience these challenges first hand, so do the folks hired to support students: the student affairs practitioners. Kanagala and Oliver (2019) claimed that for institutions of higher education to be equitable and inclusive, college administrators, faculty, and staff, including student affairs professionals, must attend to the needs of students, especially students with multiple marginalized identities. p. 410. I argue the same is accurate in creating more equitable and inclusive spaces for student affairs employees. Student affairs practitioners: Blackness must be accepted to move toward equity and inclusivity. So this book roars: student affairs and white colleagues, please respect our Blackness. Our Blackness is a part of our story, not yours. Tomlin (2022) p. 176. Higher education institutions can learn much from the stories shared in this book that can inform the recruitment and retention of Black professionals. Thus, Still Working While Black: The Untold Stories of Student Affairs Practitioners is a must read for all higher education professionals and institutions looking for strategies to support Black student affairs practitioners.

The Routledge Companion to African American Theatre and Performance

Kathy Perkins, Sandra Richards, Renée Alexander Craft, Thomas DeFrantz, 2018-12-07. The Routledge Companion to African American Theatre and Performance is an outstanding collection of specially written essays that charts the emergence, development, and diversity of African American Theatre and Performance from the nineteenth century African Grove Theatre to Afrofuturism. Alongside chapters from scholars are contributions from theatre makers, including producers, theatre managers, choreographers, directors, designers, and critics. This ambitious Companion includes a Timeline of African American theatre and performance. Part I: Seeing ourselves onstage explores the important experience of Black theatrical self-representation. Analyses of diverse topics, including historical dramas, Broadway musicals, and experimental theatre, allow readers to discover expansive articulations of Blackness. Part II: Institution building highlights institutions that have nurtured Black people both on stage and behind the scenes. Topics include Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs), festivals, and Black actor training. Part III: Theatre and social change surveys key moments when Black people harnessed the power of theatre to affirm community realities and posit new representations for themselves and the nation as a whole. Topics include Du Bois and African Muslims, women of the Black Arts Movement, Afro-Latinx theatre, youth theatre, and operatic sustenance for an Afro future. Part IV: Expanding the traditional stage examines Black performance traditions that privilege Black worldviews, sense-making rituals, and innovation in everyday life. This section explores performances that prefer the space of the kitchen classroom club or field This book engages a wide audience of scholars students and theatre practitioners with its unprecedented breadth More than anything these invaluable insights not only offer a window onto the processes of producing work but also the labour and economic issues that have shaped and enabled African American theatre Chapter 20 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Professional Education at Historically Black Colleges and Universities Tiffany Fountaine Boykin, Adriel Hilton, Robert Palmer, 2017-08-07 This book focuses on the significant role that professional education programs play at historically Black colleges and universities HBCUs and these programs impact on society Chapter authors discuss the contexts and experiences of students who have attended these programs including their relationships with faculty research opportunities professional growth personal enrichment and institutional support Taking into account social supports identity development and doctoral student socialization patterns this book sheds light on what development and status of such professional education programs mean for future research and practice while emphasizing issues of race oppression and marginalization

Dismantling Constructs of Whiteness in Higher Education Teresa Y. Neely, Margie Montañez, 2022-09-30 This book offers counternarratives from People of Color POC engaged in varied departments faculties and institutions in higher education to interrogate and challenge the construct of whiteness as an ideological form reproduced across campuses throughout the United States Documenting individuals lived experiences the text uses narratives personal stories and autoethnographic approaches to explore how social and racial injustices manifest themselves at both a macro and micro level through structures and ideologies of whiteness as well as personal and group interactions This book divided into four valuable parts offers reconceptualizations of racial diversity in higher education and further explores identity politics within the academy to ultimately posit that a varied approach is necessary to combat the equally varied ideological forms of whiteness This text will benefit scholars academics and students in the fields of higher education race and ethnicity studies and academic librarianship more broadly Those involved with the multicultural education education policy and politics and equality and human rights in general will also benefit from this volume

Our Stories II Sherwood Smith, Mordean Taylor-Archer, 2006-01-01 American Book Publishing Record, 2002

Embracing and Enhancing the Margins of Adult Education, 2004 Queen Mothers Rhonda Jeffries, 2019-08-01 Black women's experiences functioning as mothers teachers and leaders are confounding and complex Queen Mothers from Ghanaian tradition are revered as the leaders of their matrilineal families and the teachers of the high chiefs Miller 2013 Stoeltje 1997 Conversely the influence of the British Queen Mother on Black women in the Americas translates as a powerless title of discourtesy Characterized as a deviant figure by colonialists the Black Queen Mother's role as disruptive agent was created by White domination of Black life Masenya 2014 and this branding persists among contemporary perceptions of Black women who function as the mother teacher or leader figure in various spaces Nevertheless Black women as cultural anomalies were suitable to mother others for centuries in their roles as chattel and domestic servants in the United States Dill 2014 Lawson 2000 Lewis 1977 and Rodriguez 2016 provide explorations of the devaluation of Black women in roles of power with these effects wide ranging from economic and family security professional and business development healthcare maintenance political representation spiritual enlightenment and educational achievement This text interrogates contexts where Black women function as Queen Mothers and contests the trivialization of their manifold contributions The contributed chapters explore The myriad experiences of Black women mothering teaching and leading their children families and communities how spirituality has influenced the leadership styles of Black women as mothers and teachers and how Black women are uniquely positioned to mother teach and lead in personal and professional spaces
