Classifying the Cosmos Steven J. Dick, 2019-03-21

Since the invention of the telescope 400 years ago astronomers have rapidly discovered countless celestial objects But how does one make sense of it all Astronomer and former NASA Chief Historian Steven J Dick brings order to this menagerie by defining 82 classes of astronomical objects which he places in a beginner friendly system known as Astronomy's Three Kingdoms Rather than concentrating on technicalities this system focuses on the history of each object the nature of its discovery and our current knowledge about it The ensuing book can therefore be read on at least two levels On one level it is an illustrated guide to various types of astronomical wonders On another level it is considerably more the first comprehensive classification system to cover all celestial objects in a consistent manner Accompanying each spread are spectacular historical and modern images The result is a pedagogical tour de force whereby readers can easily master astronomy's three realms of planets stars and galaxies

It Came From Outer Space Wearing an RAF Blazer! Martin

Mobberley, 2013-07-23 To British television viewers the name Patrick Moore has been synonymous with Astronomy and Space Travel since he first appeared on The Sky at Night in 1957 To amateur astronomers he has been a source of inspiration joy humour and even an eccentric role model since that time Most people know that his 55 years of presenting The Sky at Night is a world record but what was he really like in person What did he do away from the TV cameras in his observatory and within the British Astronomical Association the organisation that inspired him as a youngster Also precisely what did he do during the War Years a subject that has always been shrouded in mystery Martin Mobberley a friend of Patrick Moore's for 30 years and a former President of the British Astronomical Association has spent ten years exhaustively researching Patrick's real life away from the TV cameras His childhood RAF service tireless voluntary work for astronomy and charity and his endless book writing are all examined in detail His astronomical observations are also examined in unprecedented detail along with the battles he fought along the way and his hatred of bureaucracy and political correctness No fan of Sir Patrick Moore can possibly live without this work on their bookshelf

Dark Companions of Stars P.

Kamp, 2012-12-06 If you want to understand the invisible look careful at the visible The Talmud A bird's eye or rather a distant spacecraft's view of the solar system reveals an assembly of planets terrestrial giant and Pluto The orbital motions are in the same sense counter clockwise as seen from the north of the general flattened space within which the planetary motions are confined This state of affairs is corevolving and more or less coplanar The rotations are in the same sense as the revolutions with the striking exception of Uranus whose sense of rotation is perpendicular to its plane of revolution As time goes by most of the planets remain fairly close to a general plane and at no time stray unduly far from it they remain confined within a rather narrow box or disk with a large equatorial extent The most distant planet Pluto requires a diameter of some 80 astronomical units for the disk One astronomical unit is the distance of the Earth to the Sun to be more precise the length of half the major axis of the Earth's slightly elliptical orbit around the Sun and amounts to nearly 149600000 km

Dynamics and Astrometry of Natural and Artificial Celestial Bodies I.M. Wytrzyszczak, J.H. Lieske, R.A.

Feldman, 2012-12-06 IAU Colloquium 165 Dynamics and Astrometry of Natural and Artificial Celestial Bodies was held in Poznan Poland in July 1996 bringing together over 200 scientists from 27 countries who discussed their work in 179 oral and poster presentations The present volume contains 83 of the papers presented at the meeting The meeting brought together specialists from diverse fields who focused on the very close collaboration between dynamics and astrometry where one discipline contributes to the progress of the other The oral sessions were organized into general categories pertaining to solar system dynamics new observational techniques catalogues and astrometry dynamics and observational problems of artificial satellites and space debris rotation of solar system objects reference systems and astronomical standards new mathematical techniques and three all day poster sessions This volume is divided into seven parts comprising 83 contributions a list of participants and an index Atlas of Uranus Garry E. Hunt, Patrick Moore, 1989-03-02 The first atlas of Uranus and its satellites based largely on NASA images obtained by the Voyager 2 mission in 1986 Distant Worlds Peter Bond, 2010-01-08 This book recounts the epic saga of how we as human beings have come to understand the Solar System The story of our exploration of the heavens Peter Bond reminds us began thousands of years ago with the naked eye observations of the earliest scientists and philosophers Over the centuries as our knowledge and understanding inexorably broadened and deepened we faltered many times frequently labored under misconceptions and faced seemingly insurmountable obstacles to understanding Yet despite overwhelming obstacles a combination of determined observers brilliant thinkers courageous explorers scientists and engineers has brought us particularly over the last five decades into a second great age of human discovery At our present level of understanding some fifty years into the Space Age the sheer volume of images and other data being returned to us from space has only increased our appetite for more and more detailed information about the planets moons asteroids and comets of the Solar System Taking a much needed overview of how we now understand these distant worlds in our cosmic neighborhood Bond not only celebrates the extraordinary successes of planetary exploration but reaffirms an important truth For seekers of knowledge there will always be more to explore An astonishing saga of exploration In this much needed overview of where we stand today Peter Bond describes the achievements of the astronomers space scientists and engineers who have made the exploration of our Solar System possible A clearly written and compelling account of the Space Age the book includes Dramatic accounts of the daring resourcefulness and ferocious competitive zeal of renowned as well as almost forgotten space pioneers Clear explanations of the precursors to modern astronomy including how ancient natural philosophers and observers first took the measure of the heavens More than a hundred informative photographs maps simulated scenarios and technical illustrations many of them in full color Information dense appendices on the physical properties of our Solar System as well as a comprehensive list of 50 years of Solar System missions Organized into twelve chapters focused on the objects of our exploration the individual planets our Moon the asteroids and comets Bond s text shows how the great human enterprise of space exploration may on occasion have faltered or wandered off the path but taken as a whole amounts to one of the great triumphs of human civilization Discovery and Classification in Astronomy Steven J. Dick, 2013-09-09 This book shows that astronomical discovery is a complex and ongoing process comprising various stages of research interpretation and understanding

Patrick Moore Sir Patrick Moore, 2011-10-24 Throughout his distinguished career Patrick Moore has without a doubt done more to raise the profile of astronomy among the British public than any other figure in the scientific world As the presenter of The Sky at Night on BBC television for nearly 50 years he was honoured with an OBE in 1968 and a CBE in 1988 In 2001 he was knighted for services to the popularisation of science and to broadcasting The BBC first aired The Sky at Night in April 1957 and it is now in the record books as the world s longest running TV series with the same presenter He is also the author of over 60 books on astronomy all of which including his autobiography have been written on his 1908 typewriter Partly thanks to his larger than life personality Sir Patrick s own fame extends far beyond astronomical circles A self taught musician and talented composer he has displayed his xylophone playing skills at the Royal Variety Performance and as a passionate supporter of cricket he has played for the Lord s Taverners charity cricket team
