People and Planet Tom Woodhouse,1987 The edited acceptance speeches of 28 social and environmental pioneers including Leopold Kohr Petra Kelly Bill Mollison Hassan Fathy Sir George Trevelyan Wangari Maathai Mike Cooley and Manfred Max Neef A New World Order Paul Ekins,2005-08-04 First published in 1992 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company People, Land, and Community Nancy Jack Todd,1997-01-01 Degradation of environment and community along with its economic causes has been the subject of much concern in recent years In this book some authorities in the field discuss the historical cultural social political and economic implications of this degradation and suggest citizen initiatives that may halt it Prosperity for All Matthew Hilton,2011-05-02 The history of consumerism is about much more than just shopping Ever since the eighteenth century citizen consumers have protested against the abuses of the market by boycotting products and promoting fair instead of free trade In recent decades consumer activism has responded to the challenges of affluence by helping to guide consumers through an increasingly complex and alien marketplace In doing so it has challenged the very meaning of consumer society and tackled some of the key economic social and political issues associated with the era of globalization In Prosperity for All the first international history of consumer activism Matthew Hilton shows that modern consumer advocacy reached the peak of its influence in the decades after World War II Growing out of the product testing activities of Consumer Reports and its international counterparts including Which in the United Kingdom Que Choisir in France and Test in Germany consumerism evolved into a truly global social movement Consumer unions NGOs and individual activists like Ralph Nader emerged in countries around the world including developing countries in Southeast Asia and Latin America concerned with creating a more equitable marketplace and articulating a politics of consumption that addressed the needs of both individuals and society as a whole Consumer activists achieved many victories from making cars safer to highlighting the dangers of using baby formula instead of breast milk in countries with no access to clean water The 1980s saw a reversal in the consumer movement s fortunes thanks in large part to the rise of an antiregulatory agenda both in the United States and internationally In the process the definition of consumerism changed focusing more on choice than on access As Hilton shows this change reflects more broadly on the dilemmas we all face as consumers Do we want more stuff and more prosperity for ourselves or do we want others less fortunate to be able to enjoy the same opportunities and standard of living that we do Prosperity for All makes clear that by abandoning a more idealistic vision for consumer society we reduce consumers to little more than shoppers and we deny the vast majority of the world s population the fruits of affluence Teaching Right Livelihood.
