Book Lust Nancy Pearl, 2009-09-29 What to read next is every book lover's greatest dilemma Nancy Pearl comes to the rescue with this wide ranging and fun guide to the best reading new and old Pearl who inspired legions of litterateurs with What If All name the city Read the Same Book has devised reading lists that cater to every mood occasion and personality These annotated lists cover such topics as mother daughter relationships science for nonscientists mysteries of all stripes African American fiction from a female point of view must reads for kids books on bicycling chick lit and many more Pearl's enthusiasm and taste shine throughout

The Written Dead Kyle William Bishop, Angela Tenga, 2017-06-29 From Victor Halperin's White Zombie 1932 to George A Romero's landmark Night of the Living Dead 1968 and AMC's hugely successful The Walking Dead 2010 zombie mythology has become an integral part of popular culture In a reversal of the typical pattern of adaptation the zombie developed onscreen before appearing in short stories and comic books during the 20th century and more recently as subjects of more traditional novels This collection of new essays examines some of the most influential and inventive zombie literature from the early stories to the most recent narratives including some told from a zombie perspective

Curating and Re-Curating the American Wars in Vietnam and Iraq Christine Sylvester, 2019-03-04 We have long saved and curated objects from wars to commemorate the war experience These objects appear at national museums and memorials and are often mentioned in war novels and memoirs Through them we institutionalize narratives and memories of national identity as well as international power and purpose While people interpret war in different ways and there is no ultimate authority on the experiences of any war curators of war objects make different choices about what to display or write about none of which are entirely problematic good or accurate This book asks whose vantage points on war are made available and where for public consumption it also questions whose war experiences are not represented are minimized or ignored in ways that advantage contemporary militarism Christine Sylvester looks at four sites of war memory the National Museum of American History the Vietnam Veterans Memorial Arlington National Cemetery and selected novels and memoirs of the American wars in Vietnam and Iraq to consider the way war knowledge is embedded in differing sites of memory and display While the museum shows war aircraft and a laptop computer used by a journalist covering the American war in Iraq visitors to the Vietnam Memorial or Arlington Cemetery find more prosaic and civilian items on view such as baby pictures slices of birthday cake or even car keys In addition memoirs and novels of these wars tend to curate ghastly horrors of wars as experienced by soldiers or civilians For Sylvester these sites of war memory and curation provide ways to understand dispersed war authority and interpretation and to consider which sites invite viewers to revere a war and which reflect personal experiences that show the undersides of these wars Sylvester shows that scholars policymakers and other citizens need to consider different types of situated memory and knowledge in order to fully grasp war rather than idealize it

The People's Right to the Novel Eleni Coundouriotis, 2014-09-15 This study offers a literary history of the war novel in Africa Coundouriotis argues that this genre aimed more specifically at African readers than the continent's better known bildungsroman tradition nevertheless makes an important intervention in global understandings of human rights The African war novel lies at the convergence of two sensibilities it encounters in European traditions the naturalist aesthetic and the discourse of humanitarianism whether in the form of sentimentalism or of human rights law Both these sensibilities are present in culturally hybrid forms in the African war novel reflecting its syncretism as a narrative practice engaged with the colonial and postcolonial history of the continent The war novel Coundouriotis argues stakes claims to collective rights that contrast with the individualism of the bildungsroman tradition The genre is a form of people's history that participates in a political struggle for the rights of the dispossessed

The Deadly Brotherhood John McManus, 2003-08-26 In his book Men Against Fire historian S L A Marshall asserted that only 15 to 25 percent of American soldiers ever fired their weapons in combat in World War II Shooting at the enemy made a man part of the team or brotherhood There were of course many times when soldiers did not want to shoot such as at night when they did not want to give away a position or on reconnaissance patrols But in the main no combat soldier in his right mind would have deliberately sought to go through the entire war without ever firing his weapon because he would have been excluded from the brotherhood but also because it would have been detrimental to his own survival One of rifle company commander Harold Leinbaugh's NCOs summed it up best when discussing Marshall Did the SOB think we clubbed the Germans to death

Tolstoy's Major Fiction Edward Wasiolek, 1978 Edward Wasiolek after much valuable work on Dostoevsky has now written one of the best books on Tolstoy in recent decades This may be in part because of his preoccupation with Tolstoy's most challenging contemporary and the resulting sense of their unlikeness in a common pursuit But there are other unspeculative reasons Few studies of Tolstoy have been so carefully pondered and so firmly organized to convince and not so many show the flexibility and variety of its approach Wasiolek proposes an essentially simple and consistent reading but he advances it with subtlety and discretion Henry Gifford Times Literary Supplement

The Book F. J. F. Suarez, H. R. The American Popular Novel After World War II David Willbern, 2013-04-05 Through the perspectives of selected best selling novels from the end of World War II to the end of the 20th century including The Catcher in the Rye To Kill a Mockingbird The Godfather Jaws Beloved The Silence of the Lambs and Jurassic Park this book examines the crucial issues the U S was experiencing during those decades These novels represent the voices of popular conversations as Americans considered issues of family class racism and sexism feminism economic ambition sexual violence war law religion and science Through the windows of fiction the book surveys the Cold War and anti communism the prefeminist era of the 1950s and the sexual revolution of the 1970s forms of corporate power in the 1960s and 1980s the traumatic legacies of slavery and Vietnam the American fascination with lawyers cops and criminals alternate styles of romance in the era of late capitalism our abiding distrust of science and our steadfast wonder about the Great Mysteries      The Outlook Lyman Abbott, Hamilton Wright Mabie, Ernest Hamlin Abbott, Francis Rufus Bellamy, 1927      The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels Drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of Cloud Atlas 2004 Black Swan Green 2006 and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet 2010 and dissects the author's strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines      Proceedings American Library Association, 1916      Kobo: A Story of the Russo-Japanese War Herbert Strang, 2020-09-28      The World's Work Walter Hines Page, Arthur Wilson Page, 1918 A history of our time      Charles Austin Beard Richard Drake, 2018-12-15 Richard Drake presents a new interpretation of Charles Austin Beard's life and work The foremost American historian and a leading public intellectual in the first half of the twentieth century Beard participated actively in the debates about American politics and foreign policy surrounding the two world wars In a radical change of critical focus Charles Austin Beard places the European dimension of Beard's thought at the center correcting previous biographers oversights and presenting a far more nuanced appreciation for Beard's life Drake analyzes the stages of Beard's development as a historian and critic his role as an intellectual leader in the Progressive movement the support that he gave to the cause of American intervention in World War I and his subsequent revisionist repudiation of Wilsonian ideals and embrace of non interventionism in the lead up to World War II Charles Austin Beard shows that as Americans tally the ruinous costs both financial and moral of nation building and informal empire the life and work of this prophet of history merit a thorough reexamination      The Norton Book of Modern War Paul Fussell, 1991 Selections from poetry and fiction describe the 20th century's major conflicts
