

A watercolor illustration of a raccoon standing on a log in a forest. The raccoon is white with black facial markings and is looking towards the viewer. It is standing on a large, weathered log that lies horizontally across the middle of the scene. To the left of the raccoon is a large, round, light-brown object, possibly a tree stump or a large rock. The forest is lush with green foliage, including various types of leaves and ferns. Several tree trunks are visible in the background, some leaning at angles. The overall style is soft and painterly, with visible brushstrokes and a rich color palette of greens, browns, and whites.
