Beyond Right and Wrong Randall Kiser, 2010-01-07 Let us endeavor to see things as they are and then enquire whether we ought to complain Whether to see life as it is will give us much consolation I know not but the consolation which is drawn from truth if any there be is solid and durable that which may be derived from error must be like its original fallacious and fugitive Samuel Johnson Letter to Bennet Langton 1758 Attorneys and clients make hundreds of decisions in every litigation case From initially deciding which attorney to retain to deciding which witnesses to call at trial from deciding whether to file a complaint to deciding whether to appeal a verdict attorneys and clients make multiple critical decisions about strategies costs arguments valuations evidence and negotiations Once made these decisions are scrutinized by an opponent intent on exploiting the consequences of any mistake In this intense and adversarial arena decision making errors often are transparent irreversible and dispositive wielding the power to bankrupt clients and dissolve law firms Although attorneys and clients may regard sound decision making as incidental to effective lawyering sound decision making actually is the essence of effective lawyering An attorney's knowledge intelligence and experience are inert resources until the attorney decides how to deploy those skills to serve the client's interests Those decisions in turn largely determine a case's course and outcome
