A Social History of Women in Ireland, 1870-1970 Rosemary Cullen Owens, 2005-10-25 A Social History of Women in Ireland is an important and overdue book that explores the role and status of women in Ireland from 1870 until 1970 looking at politics sociology marriage patterns religion education and work among other topics It provides a vital missing piece in the jigsaw of modern Irish history Using a combination of primary research and published works A Social History of Women in Ireland explores the role and status of women in Ireland It examines lifestyle options available to women during this period as well as providing an overview of the forces working for change within Irish society In bringing together a wide ranging portfolio of material A Social History of Women in Ireland 1870 1970 fills an important gap in the literature of the period by focusing on the experiences of Irish women a group so often overlooked in histories of revolutionary men and prominent politicians Crucial to a determination of the status of women throughout this period is an examination of the choices available regarding work marriage and emigration Rosemary Cullen Owens stresses at all times the importance of class and land ownership as key determinants for women's lives A decrease in home industries allied to increasing mechanisation on the farm resulted in a contraction of labour opportunities for rural women With the establishment of an independent farming class the distinguishing criteria for status in rural Ireland became ownership of land in which single minded patriarchal figures dominated In this context the position of women declined and a society evolved with a high pattern of late age marriages large numbers of unwed sons and daughters and an accepted pattern of emigration In the cities and towns the condition of lower working class women was especially distressing for most of the period with particular problems regarding housing health and sanitation Through the work of campaigning activists equal educational and political rights were eventually attained From the early 1900s there was some expansion in female employment in shops offices and industry but domestic service remained a high source of employment For middle class women employment opportunities were limited and usually disappeared on marriage The civil service a major employer in an economy that was generally un dynamic and stagnant operated a bar on married women for much of the period Rosemary Cullen Owens not merely traces these injustices but also the campaigns fought to right them She locates these struggles in the wider social context in which they took place This important book restores balance to the narrative of modern Irish history changing the focus from key male political figures to society at large by unveiling the often forgotten story of the country's women over a tumultuous century of change In doing so Rosemary Cullen Owens enriches our understanding of Irish history from 1870 to 1970 A Social History of Women in Ireland Table of Contents Introduction Part 1 Irishwomen in the

Parsons,2000-03-02 Can there be a flaneuse and what form might she take This is the central question of Streetwalking the Metropolis an important contribution to ongoing debates on the city and modernity in which Deborah Parsons re draws the gendered map of urban modernism Assessing the cultural and literary history of the concept of the flaneur the urban observer writer traditionally gendered as masculine the author advances critical space for the discussion of a female flaneuse focused around a range of women writers from the 1880 s to World War Two Cutting across period boundaries this wide ranging study offers stimulating accounts of works by writers including Amy Levy Dorothy Richardson Virginia Woolf Rosamund Lehmann Jean Rhys Janet Flanner Djuna Barnes Anais Nin Elizabeth Bowen and Doris Lessing highlighting women s changing relationship with the social and psychic spaces of the city and drawing attention to the ways in which the perceptions and experiences of the street are translated into the dynamics of literary texts Dead Woman Walking Anette Ballinger,2019-05-24 This title was first published in 2000 Between 1900 and 1950 130 women were sentenced to death for murder in England and Wales Only 12 of these women were actually executed Thus 91 per cent of women murderers had their sentence commuted whereas if we examine the corresponding figures for men only 39 per cent had their sentence commuted It would appear that state servants working within the criminal justice system were far more reluctant to hang women than men However this text argues that a closer examination of this apparent discrepancy reveals it to be a misconception which has come about as a result of the statistics regarding infanticide That is to say unlike men the vast majority of women murderers have killed their own child or children Once this is taken into account we find that women who had murdered an adult had less hope of a reprieve than men Thus the author shows that the large proportion of women murderers as killers of their own children has created a false impression of how female murderers fared inside the criminal justice system Wild Irish Women Marian Broderick,2004 Writers killers nuns patriots artists healers pirates politicians entertainers saints courtesans leaders revolutionaries lovers warriors witches record breakers and eccentrics are among the eclectic roster of Irishwomen resurrected from the dustbins of history by this rollicking read according to Books Ireland In times when women were expected to marry and have children they traveled the world and sought out adventures In times when women were expected to be seen and not heard they spoke out against oppression and used every creative means available to express their ideas and beliefs Editor and writer Marian Broderick provides us with a series of lively portraits of seventy five unorthodox Irishwomen In these pages you will meet women you will never forget Maria Edworth Lady Jane Wilde Lady Augusta Gregory Peig Sayers Nora Barnacle Kitty Kiernan Anne Bonny Anne Devlin Mother Jones Countess Constance Markievicz Hanna Sheey Skeffington Fanny and Anna Parnell Maud Gonne St Brigid Margaret Leeson Lady Betty Queen Maeve of Connacht Molly Brown Kathleen Behan Lola Monez Daisy Bates Greer Garson Lilly and Lolly Yeats and many more Co published with the O Brien Press Dublin Wisconsin edition is for sale only in the U S A it s territories and dependencies and Canada

Mná Na Héireann Nicola Depuis,2009 From Queen Medbh to Mary McAleese Constance Markiewicz to Nell McCafferty this is a collection of profiles of women who have shaped Ireland For too long when people discuss Irish heroes and important figures only men have been cited Mn na hireann addresses that tendency and offers an impressive array of women who have brought change and progress to Ireland From the mythical era through the Middle Ages the Plantation the Famine the struggle for independence and the early years of the state right up to the twenty first century Mn na hireann profiles over 50 formidable Irish women

Women and the Noose Richard Clark,2011-10-24 From Sarah Malcolm sentenced to be executed for multiple murders in the early eighteenth century to Ruth Ellis the last woman to be hanged in Britain in 1955 Women and the Noose traces the history of female crime through the cases of seventy women who met their end on the hangman s gallows In this detailed account each woman s story is revealed her background criminal acts and execution Through their tales historian Richard Clark highlights the wide range of crimes once punishable by death from cold blooded murder and crimes of passion to burglary and petty theft He also shows how as time went on execution methods evolved from burning at the stake to death by hanging and how the public came to prefer a more humane private death over the cruel public scenes of earlier periods Clark s frank treatment of events combined with sympathetic revelations about the women s private lives makes this revised and updated edition of Women and the Noose a chilling and surprisingly moving read

Germaine de Staël, George Sand, and the Victorian Woman Artist Linda M. Lewis,2003 By examining literary portraits of the woman as artist Linda M Lewis traces the matrilineal inheritance of four Victorian novelists and poets George Eliot Elizabeth Barrett Browning Geraldine Jewsbury and Mrs Humphry Ward She argues that while the male Romantic artist saw himself as god and hero the woman of genius lacked a guiding myth until Germaine de Stael and George Sand created one The protagonists of Stael s Corinne and Sand s Consuelo combine attributes of the goddess Athena the Virgin Mary Virgil s Sibyl and Dante s Beatrice Lewis illustrates how the resulting Corinne Consuelo effect is exhibited in scores of English artist as heroine narratives particularly in the works of these four prominent writers who most consciously and elaborately allude to the French literary matriarchs Exploring a connection between French and English literature and providing fresh insight Germaine de Stael George Sand and the Victorian Woman Artist makes a major contribution to our understanding of nineteenth century feminism Jacket

Women in the Struggle for Irish Independence Joseph McKenna,2019-11-13 Women have too often been written out of history This is especially true in the fight for Irish independence The women s struggle was three fold beginning with the suffragettes fight to win the vote Then came the push for fair pay and working conditions Binding them together became part of the national struggle first for home rule then for the establishment of an Irish Republic The Easter Rising of 1916 brought them together as soldiers of the Republic Through the terrible years that followed they became the conscience of Republicanism Following independence they were betrayed by the men they had served alongside DeValera and the Catholic Church restricted their roles in society they were to be wives and mothers without a voice It was not until Ireland s entry into the European community and the self destruction of a corrupt Church that Irish women were acknowledged for what they had achieved Mulberry Ridge John F.
