Working-Class Courtship, Marriage, and Divorce in Scotland, 1855-1939 Eleanor Gordon, Jeff Meek, Katie Barclay, 2025-10-25 This is the first book length study of the history of working class courtship and marriage in Scotland from the establishment of civil registration to the introduction in 1939 of legislation which abolished irregular marriage and introduced civil marriage Adopting a life course approach the book explores the social economic and cultural contexts of romantic partnerships from courtship through to marital or family dissolution Drawing from a wide range of sources that capture official accounts and discourses on the one hand and the testimony and experience of working class people on the other the book offers a uniquely broad and textured view of courtship and marriage in this period In so doing it advances recent historiographical debates surrounding marriage in the Anglophone world particularly the mutability of love and whether the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries constituted a social and cultural turning point for the working classes in terms of choice of marriage partner the nature of the marital relationship and the parent child relationship The book also engages with debates about extra marital sexual activity in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries whether the family was more or less stable than the contemporary family and the different ways that marriages broke down before the advent of divorce reform This has important implications for wider European and North American historiography and raises timely questions about the primacy of the traditional family in policy and public discourse The Academy and Literature

T.P.'s Weekly Thomas Power O'Connor,Holbrook Jackson,1902 Arab Representations of the Occident Rasheed El-Enany,2006-04-18 This is one of the first books in English to explore Arab responses to Western culture and values in modern Arab literature Through in depth research El Enany examines the attitudes as expressed mainly through works of fiction written by Arab authors during the twentieth and to a lesser extent nineteenth century. It constitutes an original addition to the age-old East-West debate and is particularly relevant to the current discussion on Islam and the West. Alongside raising highly topical questions about stereotypical ideas concerning Arabs and Muslims in general, the book explores representations of the West by the foremost Arab intellectuals over a two-century period up to the present day and will appeal to those with an interest in Islam, the Middle East, nationalism, and the so-called Clash of Civilizations. Unseen City Ankhi Mukherjee, 2021-12-09. In Unseen City: The Psychic Lives of the Urban Poor, Ankhi Mukherjee offers a magisterial work of literary and cultural criticism which examines the relationship between global cities, poverty, and psychoanalysis. Spanning three continents, this hugely ambitious book reads fictional representations of poverty with each city's psychoanalytic and psychiatric culture, particularly as that culture is fostered by state policies toward the welfare needs of impoverished populations. It explores the causal relationship between precarity and mental health through clinical case studies, the product of extensive collaborations and knowledge sharing with community psychotherapeutic initiatives in six global cities. These are layered with twentieth and twenty-first century works of world literature that explore issues of identity, illness, and death at the intersections of class, race, globalisation, and migrancy. In Unseen City, Mukherjee argues that a humanistic and imaginative engagement with the psychic lives of the dispossessed is key to an adapted psychoanalysis for the poor and that seeking equity of the unconscious is key to poverty alleviation.
