Muwin And The Magic Hare:

Muwin and the Magic Hare Susan Hand Shetterly, 2014-07-30 When Muwin the bear spies a lame snowshoe hare he decides to have rabbit for dinner What he doesn't realize is that the hare is Mahtogehs the Great Magic Hare of the Woods As Muwin pursues the creature the hare transforms himself into a hunter an herb woman and an old chief who on alternate nights entertains the bear and feeds him stew The book preserves the humor and beauty of the Passamaquoddy culture of Maine and eastern Canada New York Times Saturday Book Review Supplement, 1993-04 This Land Is Our Land Agnes Regan Perkins, Alethea K. Helbig, 1994-09-26 How do you select the best recent works of fiction oral tradition and poetry about African American Asian American Hispanic American and Native American Indian experiences and traditions from the profusion of titles being published today This annotated bibliography of titles for children and young adults published from 1985 through the end of 1993 with 60% published since 1990 provides a one stop selection tool Appraisals of 559 titles as well as information about an additional 188 recent books and 90 earlier ones of importance are provided Each entry features a plot summary incorporating themes critical comments with a judgment of the book's value as an example of its genre suggestions of other books by that writer and related books of importance The authors who are recognized authorities in children's literature and an advisory board of librarians and teachers each of whom specializes in the literature of a particular ethnic group have provided insightful critical appraisals and expertise and guidance in the selection of titles Helpful subject grade level author title and illustrator indexes are organized for ease of use Titles in the grade level and subject indexes are also identified by ethnic group Native Americans in Children's Literature Jon C. Stott, 1995-05-26 Build high interest theme lesson plans that accurately portray Native peoples and cultures with this authoritative guide to the best children's fiction Professor Jon Stott describes books on Native Americans and their cultures for readers through junior high school age This highly readable reference book also provides a balanced discussion of the disservice done to Native Americans by misleading inaccurate and insensitive books Stott's perceptive text explains how some well loved books make mistakes and reinforce stereotypes He also includes valuable ideas on incorporating stories about Native American traditions and experiences into your lesson plans Myths and Hero Tales Agnes Regan Perkins, 1997-11-25 This one stop cross cultural selective guide to recent retellings of myths and hero tales for children and young adults will enable teachers and library media specialists to select comparative myths and tales from various mostly non European cultures The focus is on stories from Native America Asia Africa the Middle East Central and South America and Oceania The Guide contains extensively annotated entries on 189 books of retellings of myths and hero tales both ancient and modern from around the world published between 1985 and 1996 Represented are 1 455 stories suitable for use with young people from mid elementary through high school The entries arranged alphabetically by writer contain complete bibliographic data age and grade levels and evaluative annotations Seven indexes title author illustrator culture story type name and grade level make searching easy The story type index will enable teachers to select comparative myths and tales from different cultures on more than 50 types of myths and hero tales Among the many myth types cited are origin of human beings and the world comparative social customs and rituals natural and heavenly phenomena animal appearance and behavior searches and quests and tricksters Among the hero tale types are fools and buffoons kings and queens warriors monster slayers important female figures magicians voyagers and adventurers and spiritual leaders The Guide concludes with a bibliography of retellings published earlier that have come to be considered standard works Connecting Cultures Rebecca L. Thomas,1996-01-30 A comprehensive guide to multicultural literature for children this valuable resource features more than 1 600 titles including fiction folktales poetry and song books that focus on diverse cultural groups The selected titles published between the 1970s and 1990s are suitable for use with preschoolers through sixth graders and are likely to be found on the shelves of school and public libraries Topics are timely with an emphasis on books that reflect the needs and interests of today s children Each detailed entry includes bibliographic information Use level is also included as are cultural designation subjects and a summary The invaluable Subject Access section incorporates use level culture information

Multicultural Children's Literature Beth Beutler Lind,1996 The over 1 100 works in this annotated bibliography cover a wide range of contemporary children s literature both fiction and nonfiction in which the protagonists are from four prominent ethnic groups African Americans Asian Americans Hispanic Americans and Native Americans Arranged first by ethnic group and then by appropriate grade level K 3 or 4 8 each entry includes a one to three sentence annotation in addition to complete bibliographic information A directory of children s publishers is also provided along with selected bibliographies of curricular sources and informational reading and research sources for teachers A Celebration of Maine Children's Books Lynn Plourde,Paul Knowles,1998 Settled in the Wild Susan Hand Shetterly,2025-05-01 Whether we live in cities suburbs or villages we are encroaching on nature and it in one way or another perseveres Naturalist Susan Shetterly looks at how animals humans and plants share the land observing her own neighborhood in rural Maine She tells tales of the locals humans yes but also snowshoe hares raccoons bobcats turtles salmon ravens hummingbirds cormorants sandpipers and spring peepers She expertly shows us how they all make their way in an ever changing habitat In writing about a displaced garter snake witnessing the paving of a beloved dirt road trapping a cricket with her young son rescuing a fledgling raven or the town s joy at the return of the alewife migration Shetterly issues warnings even as she pays tribute to the resilience that abounds Like the works of Annie Dillard and Aldo Leopold Settled in the Wild takes a magnifying glass to the wildness that surrounds us With keen perception and wit Shetterly offers us an education in nature one that should inspire us to preserve it Children's Books in Children's Hands Charles A. Temple,1998 Contents Part 1 Understanding Literature and the Child Reader Part 2 Exploring the Genres of Children s Literature Part 3 Creating the Literature Based Classroom Seaweed Chronicles Susan Hand Shetterly,2018-08-07 You might not expect unfettered passion on the topic of seaweed but Shetterly is such a great storyteller that you find yourself following along eagerly Mark Kurlansky Seaweed is ancient and basic a testament to the tenacious beginnings of life on earth writes Susan Hand Shetterly in this elegant fascinating book Why wouldn't seaweeds be a protean life source for the lives that have evolved since On a planet facing environmental change and diminishing natural resources seaweed is increasingly important as a source of food and as a fundamental part of our global ecosystem In Seaweed Chronicles Shetterly takes readers deep into the world of this essential organism by providing an immersive often poetic look at life on the rugged shores of her beloved Gulf of Maine where the growth and harvesting of seaweed is becoming a major industry While examining the life cycle of seaweed and its place in the environment she tells the stories of the men and women who farm and harvest it and who are fighting to protect this critical species against forces both natural and man made Ideal for readers of such books as The Hidden Life of Trees and How to Read Water Seaweed Chronicles is a deeply informative look at a little understood and too often unappreciated part of our habitat Children's Book Review, 1994 Beverly Baer, 1995-04 Provides access to reviews of children's books and periodicals that are indexed by Book Review Index Best Books for Children John Thomas Gillespie, Corinne J. Naden, 1994 Notes on the Landscape of Home Susan Hand Shetterly, 2022-09-01 If you pay attention to the land where you live you enter into conversation with it until it becomes a voice inside you and some of the boundaries between you and it dissolve write Susan Hand Shetterly In this collection of elegant spare and often passionate essays Shetterly explores what it is to live in a Down East coastal town and to pay attention over time to what it offers of land water wildlife and community She takes her cue from Henry David Thoreau and Wendell Berry who advocate for the virtues of staying in one place believing that as we delve deeper into the landscape of home the more we learn about the world As in many other places this particular home place is in trouble Shetterly celebrates the work of communities to restore environments their people know and love and takes a closeup look at what is changing and what has been lost Among her subjects are the reestablishment of the bald eagle the reintroduction of the American turkey in Maine and the turkey vulture's northward trend She also writes about shorebird migrations the bluefin tuna and the humpback and right whales in the Gulf of Maine counting alewives along a stream in the spring seaweed cultivation in a bay a forest's rebirth the island that gave her the imaginative space she needed and more She recounts how she and her neighbors kept each other company at a distance during the long months of the pandemic and she celebrates coastal culture its particular deep history that anchors a person's sense of place School Library Journal, 1993 The Publishers Weekly, 1996 Speaking Fire at Stones William Carpenter, 1992 When Robert Shetterly gave a collection of his drawings and etchings to William Carpenter he asked him to write an essay about them for a proposed book Instead Carpenter wrote one poem per picture delving deep into Shetterly's themes of searching for the truth the personal and the hero inside of us The resulting book Speaking Fire at Stones is an unusual collaboration Normally artists are asked to illustrate poems here the tables are turned and the result is elegant speaking in one new voice

Shetterly's drawings link the ether of emotion inspiration and impulse with the visible world His images are cauldrons of voyagers half human half animal creatures hermits and fantastic landscapes where earth and spirit mix forming new myths Carpenter ties these images together with the twine of revelation Everyone seeks something in these pairings some succeed and some fail in the quest yet all discover something or someone Echoes of the Odyssey abound The Elementary School Library Collection Lauren K.
