My Fathers War And Other Stories:

My Father's War Hwang Ha-Yong, 2010 My Life and Other Stories Bob Elles, 2013-05-14 Intelligence comes from ignorance as wisdom comes from naivet and there is nothing like gathering both from people who represent a diverse swath of nations throughout the world As cultures require contact with each other in order to grow and remain viable and not succumb to atrophy man too requires contact with men of different beliefs and practices No one nation or culture or religion has a hold on logic or is immune to extremism I feel blessed that Ive had the opportunity to absorb and learn about aspects of life that Im sure I wouldnt have learned otherwise In fact my whole belief system was changed over the past forty five years through this contact I began to do some research on my family and what I learned coupled with what I had experienced in my life literally brought me to tears in gratitude and admiration and hopefully in wisdom If you like to sit down and listen to stories told by say an old friend an uncle or a person with wrinkles on his face grey in his hair and a sparkle of wisdom in his eyes coupled with a smile on his face then you should so bother If you dont then stop right here and go pick up and read a book on vampires or loves lost or whatever turns your fancy My life has been tragic and wondrous and I have what I call life lessons that I believe you will find helpful in your life Ill even go so far as to say that given even a fraction of introspection in you your life will be significantly altered after youve read this book I know that doesnt sound humble but I also know this to be true I have learned forgot and made up many a good story Keep this in mind when you read these chapters stories compiled within this book Are they all true Mostly with only the most embarrassing events removed An old retired Air Force fighter pilot once told me I have secrets only God and I know and thats the way it will remain Work in Progress and Other Stories New Internationalist, 2009 Short stories from the 2009 Caine Prize for African Writing Africa s leading literary prize awarded to an African writer published in English whether in Africa or elsewhere The collection includes the five shortlisted stories along with 12 stories written by the Caine Prize Writers workshop The Caine Prize is patronised by the four African winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature Wole Soyinka Nadine Gordimer Naguib Mahfouz and J M Coetzee My Father's Wars Alisse Waterston, 2024-09-17 Winner International Congress of Qualitative Inquiry Outstanding Book Award 2016 My father was born into war begins this remarkable saga in Alisse Waterston s intimate ethnography a story that is also twentieth century social history This is an anthropologist s vivid account of her father s journey across continents countries cultures languages generations and wars It is a daughter s moving portrait of a charming funny wounded and difficult man his relationships with those he loved and his most sacred of beliefs And it is a scholar s reflection on the dramatic forces of history the experience of exile and immigration the legacies of culture and the enduring power of memory This book is for Anthropology and Sociology courses in qualitative methods ethnography violence migration and ethnicity Night Train at Deoli and Other Stories Ruskin Bond, 2016-04-01 An enchanting collection of stories from the heartland of India Ruskin Bond s simple characters living amidst the lush forests of the Himalayan foothills are remarkable for their quiet heroism courage and grace and age old values of honesty and fidelity Residents of nondescript villages and towns they lead lives that are touched by natural beauty as well as suffering the loss of a loved parent unfulfilled dreams natural calamities ghostly visitations a respected teacher turned crooked strangers who make a nuisance of themselves which only reinforces their abiding faith in God family and neighbour Told in Bond's distinctive style these stories are a magnificent evocation of an India that may be fast disappearing

Doctor Bianco and Other Stories Maciek Bielawski, 2021-10-26 A postman who develops close friendships with everyone on his postal route an old man who stops buying the coal he needs to heat his flat so he can afford Christmas presents for his granddaughters a senile old Holocaust survivor who's suspicious of almost all her neighbours two young sisters who are fed up with their baby brother and an old woman squabbling with her tailor while a suit is being sewn for her to wear at her own funeral these are just some of the intriguing characters we meet in Doctor Bianco and Other Stories Written in terse spare unaffected prose devoid of sentimentality the nineteen stories in this collection gradually reveal the portraits of various people inhabiting one particular apartment building in an unspecified Polish town The gritty harsh realities faced by Bielawski's protagonists are at times darkly funny and other times gut wrenchingly sad Bielawski sets up a magnifying glass on a small corner of Polish life and allows us to glimpse fascinating surreal scenes from a tangle of human lives whose heartbreak despair and various anxieties might feel surprisingly familiar to readers from any walk of life Brilliant insightful snapshots of everyday reality Olga Tokarczuk winner of the 2018 Nobel Prize in Literature Bielawski's characters circulate in a greyish humdrum world but their hopes and concerns bleed out of the page and become ours in these strange and endearing fictions Jonathan Gibbs author of The Large Door

My Father's Bonus March Adam Langer, 2009-10-20 To his friends Seymour Langer was one of the brightest kids to emerge from Chicago's Depression era Jewish West Side To his family he was a driven and dedicated physician a devoted father and husband But to his Adam youngest son Seymour was also an enigma a somewhat distant figure to whom Adam could never quite measure up a worldly man who never left the city of Chicago during the last third of his life a would be author who spoke for years of writing a history of the Bonus March of 1932 when twenty thousand World War I veterans descended on the nation's capital to demand compensation Using this dramatic but overlooked event in U S history as a means of understanding his relationship with his father Adam Langer sets out to uncover why the Bonus March intrigued Seymour Langer whose personal history seemed to be artfully obscured by a mix of evasiveness and exaggeration The author interweaves the story of the Bonus March and interviews with such individuals as history aficionado Senator John Kerry and the writer and critic Norman Podhoretz with his own reminiscences and those of his father's relatives colleagues and contemporaries In the process he explores the nature of memory while creating a moving multilayered portrait of both his father and his father's generation The Girl Who Said No and Other Stories Clara Lukens Parks, 2003 The Girl Who Said No and other stories is full of good moral fun stories of romance and adventure that teenagers and adults will enjoy

Rough Waters and Other Stories Richard Lebow, 2023-11-24 Rough Waters and Other Stories is a collection of original stories addressing different ethical questions and dilemmas An introduction makes connections among the stories puts them in personal and political perspective and anchors them in a tragic understanding of life and ethics The characters in Rough Waters and Other Stories some based on real historical people must make or finesse ethical choices some of them straight forward others tragic in nature Tragic choices involve trade offs between seemingly irreconcilable but important goals Alternatively they entail committing ourselves to decisions or policies whose outcomes are uncertain We are desperate to avoid tragic choices and prone to convince ourselves often in the face of good evidence that we can satisfy all of our desires or needs instead of making difficult choices between or among them We also tend to convince ourselves that our decisions or policies will succeed in proportion to the degree that we feel compelled to commit to them A standard trope of Greek tragedy think here of Oedipus is that our choices sometimes lead directly to the outcomes we are trying desperately to avoid

Jesus in America and Other Stories from the Field Claudia Gould, 2009-10-09 Drawing on ethnographic field work she conducted among Christians in her home state of North Carolina Claudia Gould crafts stories that lay open the human heart and social complications of fundamentalist belief These stories and the compelling characters who inhabit them draw us into the complex essence of religious experience among southern American Christians The Paper Menagerie and Other Stories Ken Liu, 2016-03-08 Presents the author's selection of his best short stories as well as a new piece in a collection that includes The Man Who Ended History A Documentary Mono No Aware and The Waves The Picture Frame, and Other Stories Robert Drake, 2000 In this book of stories most never before published Robert Drake has written his most poignant collection thus far With the theme of the picture frame Drake has included people places and events of a most recent past Crowded in the picture are unforgettable images of memory and grace love and remorse But more than the characters and the subjects of the story the draw of this collection is once again Drake's use of language The language is the language of the South It is the language of humanity While the stories look back they do so without regret They were great times but so is the present From the town of Woodville to St Mark's Square in Venice Drake's powerful language draws the reader not only into the book but also into the photographs The Running Boy and Other Stories Megumu Sagisawa, 2020-04-15 With this newly translated version of The Running Boy the fiction of Megumu Sagisawa makes its long overdue first appearance in English Lovingly rendered with a critical introduction by the translator this collection of three stories written in 1989 sits on the thinnest part of Japan's economic bubble and provides a cautionary glimpse into the malaise of its impending collapse From the aging regulars of a shabby snack bar in Galactic City to the mental breakdowns of A Slender Back and the family secrets lurking within the title story between them Sagisawa offers a trilogy of laser focused character studies Exploring dichotomies of past versus present young versus old life versus death and countless shades of meaning beyond she elicits vibrant commonalities of the human condition from some of its most ennui laden examples A curious form of affirmation awaits her readers who may just come out of her monochromatic word paintings with more colorful realizations about themselves and the world at large Such insight is rare in a writer so young and this book is a fitting testament to her premature death the legacy of which is sure to inspire a new generation of readers in the post truth era
