National Trust Of The Farm:

The National Trust Book of the Farm Gillian Darley, 1981 Nature and Farming David Andrew Norton, Nick Reid, 2013

Explains why it is important to sustain native plants animals in agricultural landscapes outlines issues in developing implementing practical approaches to safeguard native biodiversity in rural areas Considers ecological agricultural issues that determine what native biodiversity occurs in farmland Food Tourism Around The World C. Michael Hall, Liz Sharples, Richard Mitchell, Niki Macionis, Brock Cambourne, 2004-02-18 Food and wine are vital components of the tourism experience and are increasingly being seen as prime travel motivators in their own right Food Tourism Around The World Development Management and Markets offers a unique insight into this phenomenon looking at the interrelationship between food the tourism product and the tourist experience Using international case studies and examples from Europe North America Australasia and Singapore Food Tourism Around The World Development Management and Markets discusses the development range and repercussions of the food tourism phenomenon The multi national contributor team analyses such issues as the food tourism product food tourism and consumer behaviour cookery schools educational vacations food as an attraction in destination marketing Ideal for both students and practioners the book represents the most comprehensive and wide ranging treatment yet of this recent development in tourism Vacationland David E. Morine, 2015-10-30 David Morine s long love affair with Maine began when he was a boy in 1946 and his parents rented their first lakeside cabin in Fryeburg At first skeptical about the cost and the lack of plumbing or electricity the Morines quickly felt right at home There was plenty of good fishing and good company to fill the long summer days Although David didn t know it at the time his career began to take shape that summer when he first splashed his feet in the pristine waters of Lovewell Pond He went on to become an internationally recognized conservationist and served for fifteen years as the head of land acquisition for The Nature Conservancy He is also a natural storyteller and he recounts the fondly remembered pleasures of family vacations and reveals many adventures and misadventures he had along the way This second edition of Vacationland includes the same wonderful quirky personal stories as the first edition along with four new funny and nostalgia filled tales about summering in Maine The Best of Britain: The Peak District Roly Smith, Janette Sykes, 2009-05-26 Every year more and more people are choosing to snub the long haul flights and rigorous security checks and holiday in Britain 22 million people visit the Peak District every year making it one of the most popular national parks in the world No wonder given the range of stunning scenery and traditional life There are many walking guides to the Peaks but this is the first guidebook to focus on having a superb holiday in the area covering all the attractions and modern facilities for the visitor all written by locals who know the area like the back of their hand The Best of Britain series uniquely brings together local knowledge of the area and expert advice to make sure you get the most out of your visit The guide includes The best attractions for young couples families and groups of friends Recommendations from local characters and celebrities Where to find fresh organic and local produce and tucked away farm shops and delis Recommended places to eat out from quirky cafes to Michelin starred restaurants Wet weather options for when the unpredictable British weather lets you down Great things to do with children and where to go to get away from them The best places to stay from cosy cottages to boutique hotels Local legends festivals and pubs

Drivers of Environmental Change in Uplands Aletta Bonn,Tim Allott,Klaus Hubacek,Jon Stewart,2009-01-13 Addressing policy related issues providing up to date scientific background information and laying out pressing land management questions this interdisciplinary volume identifies and discusses key directions of environmental change in uplands as well as providing an outlook into future management and conservation options responding to these changes Holding Our Ground Deborah Bowers,Tom Daniels,1997-03-01 Farmers who own or rent most of the private land in America hold the key not only to the nation s food supply but also to managing community growth maintaining an attractive landscape and protecting water and wildlife resources While the issue of protecting farmland and open space is not new the intensity of the challenge has increased Farmers are harder pressed to make a living and rural and suburban communities are struggling to accommodate increasing populations and the development that comes with them Holding Our Ground can help landowners and communities devise and implement effective strategies for protecting farmland The book discusses the reasons for protecting farmland and how to make those reasons widely known and understood describes the business of farming federal government farm programs and the role of land in farmers s decisions analyzes federal state and local farmland protection efforts and techniques explores a variety of land protection options including purchase of development rights transfer of development rights private land trusts and financial tax and estate planning reviews the strengths and weaknesses of the farmland protection tools available The authors describe the many challenges involved in protecting farmland and explain how to create a package of techniques that can meet those challenges In addition they offer appendixes with model zoning ordinances nuisance disclaimers conservation easements and other documents that individuals and communities need to carry out the programs discussed Holding Our Ground provides citizens elected officials planners and landowners with a solid basis for understanding the issues behind farmland protection and will be an invaluable resource in developing techniques and programs for achieving long term protection goals Esme- Guardian of Snowdonia Teleri Bevan,2015-02-25 A profile of Esme Kirby the conservationist who formed the Snowdonia National Park Society Her career began as an actress and at 23 she married Thomas Firbank whose bestselling book I Bought a Mountain 1940 tells of their married life at Dyffryn a 3 000 acre farm near Capel Curig Canna John Lorne Campbell,2017-07-05 This is the definitive history of Canna one of the most beautiful of all the Scottish islands Fertile and with a sheltered harbour Canna has played an important part in the story of the Hebrides After the Reformation the island was of considerable importance to the Irish Franciscan mission of the 1620s and also the Jacobite risings before it was swept up in the tragedies of depopulation and clearances of the nineteenth century Gifted to the National Trust in 1981 the island is currently undergoing something of a revival with the creation of the St Edward Centre on Sanday and the proposed developments of Canna House Recent archaeological surveys and historical research has uncovered much new evidence about the island Hugh Cheape of the Royal Museum of Scotland who has been intimately involved in the Canna project has fully edited the book New contributions both update and fill out the account of the island Tasting Tourism: Travelling for Food and Drink Priscilla

Boniface,2017-03-02 Along with basic practical reasons our practices concerning food and drink are driven by context and environment belief and convention aspiration and desire to display in short by culture Similarly culture guides how tourism is used and operates This book examines food and drink tourism as it is now and is likely to develop through a cultural lens It asks what is food and drink tourism and why have food and drink provisions and information points become tourist destinations in their own right rather than remaining among a number of tourism features and components While it offers a range of international examples the main focus is on food and drink tourism in the UK What with the current diversification of tourism in rural areas the increased popularity of this type of tourism in the UK the series of BSE vCJD and foot and mouth crises in British food production and the cultural and ethnic fusion in British towns and cities it makes a particularly rich place in which to explore this subject The author concludes that the future of food and drink tourism lies in diversity and distinctiveness In an era of globalisation there is a particular desire to enjoy varied rather than mono cultural ambiance and experience She also notes that there is an immediacy of gratification in food and drink consumption which has become a general requirement of contemporary society Where to Go When Great Britain and Ireland DK

Eyewitness,2012-06-07 Whether you re after a stroll through the woods in springtime a canoe safari on the Norfolk Broads a day at the caber tossing Highland Games or afternoon tea at a fancy hotel this book will lead you to the best holiday destinations and experiences Great Britain and Ireland have to offer Its easy to use season by season format and six themes History and Heritage Wildlife and Landscape Cities Towns and Villages Outdoor Activities Family Getaways and Festivals and Events make planning your time on these beautiful isles easier than ever The Battle of the Fields Brian Short,2014 This book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front The Battle of the Fields tells the story of rural community and authority in Britain during the Second World War by looking at the County War Agricultural Executive Committees From 1939 they were imbued with powers to transform British farming to combat the loss of food imports caused by German naval activity and initial European mainland successes Their powers were sweeping and draconian When fully exercised against recalcitrant farmers dispossession in part or whole could and did result This book includes the most detailed analysis of these dispossessions including the tragic case of Ray Walden the Hampshire farmer who was killed by police after refusing to leave his farmhouse in 1940 The committees were deemed successful by Whitehall as harbingers of modernity mechanization draining artificial fertilizers reclamation of heaths marshes and woodlands We now deplore some of these changes but Britain did not starve in large part thanks to their efforts This book will appeal not only to historians and geographers but to many who maintain a deep interest in the British countryside and its past and to those who continue to share a fascination for the Second World War in particular the home front It will also demonstrate to all who are anxious about food security in the modern age how this question was dealt with 70 years ago BRIAN SHORT is Emeritus Professor of Historical Geography at the University of Sussex and formerly Dean of School and Head of the Department of Geography

Whose Land Is Our Land? Peter Hetherington, 2015-08-26 In recent decades rising land prices and ever increasing demand for housing have made it incredibly difficult for farms to sustain themselves in Britain with dangerous consequences for food supplies Government attention to the issue has been limited at best which has led to speculation and the loss of more and more farmland With Whose Land Is Our Land Peter Hetherington mounts a powerful argument for a more active forward thinking policy one that acknowledges the importance of farming rural society and food security and takes stronger action to curb speculation and rampant overbuilding

Specifications for Building Conservation Rory Cullen, Rick Meier, 2017-09-19 In Specifications for Building Conservation the National Trust draws on a range of case studies and specifications to provide a much needed guide to specification writing for building conservation Although traditional building accounts for approximately a quarter of all buildings in the UK the old skills and understanding required for their care and maintenance have been increasingly eroded over the last century As the largest heritage charity in Europe the National Trust has a first class reputation for high standards of conservation and care and in this three volume set the Trust brings together a remarkable pool of expertise to guide conservation professionals and students through the process of successful specification writing This first book focusses on the materials used for the external fabric detailing successful approaches employed by the National Trust at some of their most culturally significant sites A range of studies have been carefully selected for their interest diversity and practicality showcasing projects from stonework repairs on the magnificent Grade I listed Hardwick Hall to the re thatching of the traditional cottages of the Holnicote Estate Complete with a practical Conservation Management Plan checklist this book will enable practitioners to develop their skills allowing them to make informed decisions when working on a range of project types This is the first practical guide to specification writing for building conservation and the advice provided by the National Trust experts will be of interest to any practitioners and students involved in building conservation both in the UK and beyond Profits generated from the sale of this publication will go to the National Trust Building Apprenticeship Scheme This provides placements for traditional skills at National Trust properties
