J. Brody,1971 In this major work of criticism in art and social history Dr Brody demonstrates that modern Indian painting has been until 1962 not a truly native expression derived from aboriginal forms but merely a passive response to White paternalism It has been according to Dr Brody an art produced by Indians for Whites an invention rather than a revival with little or no relationship to earlier pictorial modes and functions among the Indians Dust jacket World Art Ben Burt,2020-07-12 What do we mean by art As a category of objects the concept belongs to a Western cultural tradition originally European and now increasingly global but how useful is it for understanding other traditions To understand art as a universal human value we need to look at how the concept was constructed in order to reconstruct it through an understanding of the wider world Western art values have a pervasive influence upon non Western cultures and upon Western attitudes to them This innovative yet accessible new text explores the ways theories of art developed as Western knowledge of the world expanded through exploration and trade conquest colonisation and research into other cultures present and past It considers the issues arising from the historical relationships which brought diverse artistic traditions together under the influence of Western art values looking at how art has been used by colonisers and colonised in the causes of collecting and commerce cultural hegemony and autonomous identities World Art questions conventional Western assumptions of art from an anthropological perspective which allows comparison between cultures It treats art as a property of artefacts rather than a category of objects reclaiming the idea of world art from the art world This book is essential reading for all students on anthropology of art courses as well as students of museum studies and art history based on a wide range of case studies and supported by learning features such as annotated further reading and chapter opening summaries Columbia River Basketry Mary Dodds Schlick,1994 Account of the basket weaving traditions of the Indians of the mid Columbia River region in Oregon and Washington I Will Tell of My War Story Scott M.
