Out To Play The Middle Years Of Childhood:

The Development of Play David Cohen, 2006-10-19 Play is an important part of our development In playing we learn to move think speak and imagine as well as cope with other people This second edition of The Development of Play addresses these key functions that play serves David Cohen examines how children play with objects with language and most importantly with each other and their parents He goes on to ask why we stop playing and looks at adult games The Development of Play argues that psychology has accepted too uncritically the Victorian opposition of work and play and argues that adults can learn to play more With its extensive account of recent work in this area this book is the most up to date work on the importance of play and will be of interest to child psychologists developmental psychologists and a wide number of professionals involved with children Seven Crucial Conversations in Early Childhood Education Nancy E. Barbour, Andrew J. Stremmel, 2024 Designed to spark an interchange of ideas this book presents early childhood education as a nuanced shifting and complex field Readers will bear witness to several decades of the lived experiences of influential leaders engaged in conversation about seven major topics systems of early care and education diversity and children's rights developmentally appropriate practice perspectives on play curriculum and pedagogy the care of infants and toddlers and families and family engagement Each chapter is accompanied by a Reflections on the Dialogue essay from one of the volume editors who include important source material and theoretical and research perspectives Readers are invited to reflect thoughtfully on each topic to construct their own understanding of where the field has been and why it matters Contributors reveal how they have been shaped by societal values and events as well as how they have helped to shape the field as we know it These reflective dialogues help readers develop greater understanding of the past and its influence on the present while preparing readers to make decisions throughout their careers about what matters and why it is important to young children and their families Contributors W Steven Barnett Gloria Swindler Boutte Sue Bredekamp Dina C Castro Katherine K Delaney J Amos Hatch Marilou Hyson Jacqueline Jones Marjorie Kostelnik Mary Benson McMullen Douglas R Powell Susan L Recchia Mari Riojas Cortez Jaipaul L Roopnarine Jeffrey Trawick Smith Serving School Age Children Donald J.
