Perth The Building Challenge:

Perth--the Building Challenge Ian Hocking, 1987

The Origins of Australia's Capital Cities Pamela

Statham, 1989 The Origins of Australia's Capital Cities is a comprehensive survey well illustrated with maps and plans which aims to answer two questions First why Australia's eight capital cities are situated where they are and second how they were established Pairs of chapters on each of the State capitals Sydney Hobart Perth Adelaide Melbourne and Brisbane are accompanied by studies of Canberra as the federal capital and Darwin as a territorial capital A capital is the administrative centre of a political entity and in Australia unlike many overseas countries a uniquely high proportion of the population resides in the capitals Companion chapters examine the causes of initial European settlement in each area and reasons for the actual establishment of each capital city Attention is given to such topics as planning and layout the basis of growth potential rivals the social nature of the cities and the nature of their spread While there have been no other volume covering all the capitals to seek answers to the same basic questions This will therefore be an invaluable source book and provide a stimulus to further enquiry in the social history of Australia An introduction by the editor pulls together the general strands which link the chapters and highlights the ways in which the Australian experience contrasts with the urban experience overseas

Building Urban Resilience through Change of Use Sara J. Wilkinson, Hilde Remøy, 2018-02-12 Describes all aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation of existing buildings and provides solutions for making urban settlements resilient to climate change This comprehensive book explores the potential to change the character of cities with residential conversion of office space in order to withstand the negative effects of climate change It investigates the nature and extent of sustainable conversion in a number of global cities as well as the political economic social technological environmental and legal drivers and barriers to successful conversion The book also identifies the key lessons learned through international comparisons with cases in the UK US Australia and the Netherlands Building Urban Resilience Through Change of Use covers the benefits and aspects of sustainable conversion adaptation through the whole lifecycle from inception planning and design to procurement construction and management and operational issues It illustrates and quantifies through empirical research the changes that have been achieved or delivered in sustainable conversion adaptation The book gives an overview of all aspects of performance characteristics and the conversion adaptation of existing buildings In the end it enables planners to make more informed decisions about whether conversion adaptation is a good choice and if so which types of sustainability measures are best suited for projects Provides detailed empirical knowledge based on real world research undertaken in five countries over three continents on both a citywide scale and on individual buildings Case studies and exemplars demonstrate the application of the knowledge in North and South America Canada Australia New Zealand and in Europe Addresses the key themes of technology finance and procurement and the regulatory framework The first research based book to examine how to improve resilience to climate change through sustainable reuse of buildings Building Urban

Resilience Through Change of Use is a welcome book for researchers and academics involved in building surveying urban development and sustainability planning Bond Rob Mundle,2015-08-01 Every Australian has formed their own opinion of Alan Bond the high flyer who stayed to face the music Bond the autobiography is his chance to tell it how it really was In Alan Bond s long awaited autobiography Bond written with bestselling author Rob Mundle the famous Australian answers his critics and reflects on his mistakes as well as the outside influences that were working to bring him down He deals with family tragedies including the death of his daughter Susanne and gives his own engaging account of how he went from working class signwriter to national hero to jail inmate There are the first tentative forays into property development in the Perth suburbs while his family lived in a garage the America s Cup win that stopped the nation his part in the creation of the Australian icon the Boxing Kangaroo his bankruptcy trials and his imprisonment for over three and a half years as well as the subsequent rebuilding of his life Along the way Alan Bond provides a telling snapshot of how business was done in the 1980s of how the normal caution of banks and corporate leaders was tossed aside at the first smell of success and profits Bond tackles the myths and rumours that have developed around this former Australian of the Year He concedes he has made mistakes personally and professionally Here he talks about where he went wrong and why he fell so far In 2015 aged seventy seven Alan Bond died after complications from open heart surgery International Bibliography of Business History

Francis Goodall,Terry Gourvish,Steven Tolliday,2013-12-16 The field of business history has changed and grown dramatically over the last few years There is less interest in the traditional company centred approach and more concern about the wider business context With the growth of multi national corporations in the 1980s international and inter firm comparisons have gained in importance In addition there has been a move towards improving links with mainstream economic financial and social history through techniques and outlook The International Bibliography of Business History brings all of the strands together and provides the user with a comprehensive guide to the literature in the field The Bibliography is a unique volume which covers the depth and breadth of research in business history This exhaustive volume has been compiled by a team of subject specialists from around the world under the editorship of three prestigious business historians Building,
