Regional Government And Political Integration In Southwest China 1949 1954:

Regional Government and Political Integration Dorothy J. Solinger, 1975 Regional Government and Political Integration in Southwest China, 1949-1954 Dorothy J. Solinger, 1977-01-01 Dilemmas of Victory Jeremy Brown, Paul G. Pickowicz, 2012-11-26 Brown examines the social cultural political and economic dimensions of the Communist takeover of China He seeks to understand how the 1949 1953 period was experienced by various groups including industrialists filmmakers ethnic minorities educators rural midwives philanthropists standup comics and scientists China's Regions in an Era of Globalization Tim Summers, 2018-06-19 The rise of China has been shaped and driven by its engagement with the global economy during a period of intensified globalization yet China is a continent sized economy and society with substantial diversity across its different regions This means that its engagement with the global economy cannot just be understood at the national level but requires analysis of the differences in participation in the global economy across China's regions This book responds to this challenge by looking at the development of China's regions in this era of globalization It traces the evolution of regional policy in China and its implications in a global context Detailed chapters examine the global trajectory of what is now becoming known as the Greater Bay Area in southern China the globalization of the inland mega city of Chongqing and the role of China's regions in the globally focused belt and road initiative launched by the Chinese government in late 2013 The book will be of interest to practitioners and scholars engaging with contemporary China's political economy and international relations Centre and Province in the People's Republic of China David S. G. Goodman, 1986-10-09 According to common misconception the Chinese political system is highly centralized One result of this widely accepted view is that China specialists have often neglected the study of decision making as a process Concentrating upon the neighbouring but contrasting provinces of Sichuan and Guizhou during the decade before the Cultural Revolution this book examines the interaction between centre and province and without adopting a centralist or a pluralist viewpoint argues that a spatial dimension is of necessity part of the Chinese decision making process Particular attention is paid to the variability of this interaction over time Party Vs. State in Post-1949 China Shing Zheng, 1997-07-13 This book provides the most comprehensive analysis of one of the most important issues in China today the tensions between the Chinese Communist Party and the Chinese state legislative judicial administrative and military institutions Taking the neo institutionalist approach the author suggests that the Communist Party in post 1949 China faces an institutional dilemma the Party cannot live with the state and it cannot live without the state Zheng demonstrates that it is not only conceptually constructive but analytically imperative to distinguish the state from the Communist Party Secondly he integrates detailed study with broader generalizations about Chinese politics thus making efforts to overcome the tendency toward specialized scholarship at the expense of comparative and systemic understanding of China He also opens a new dimension of Chinese politics the uncertain and conflictual relationship between the Communist Party and the Chinese state

Scars of War Diana Lary, Stephen MacKinnon, 2011-11-01 Throughout its modern history China has suffered from immense destruction and loss of life from warfare In its worst periods of warfare the eight years of the Anti Japanese War 1937 45 millions of civilians lost their lives For China the story of modern war related death and suffering has remained hidden The Rape of Nanking is beginning to be known but hundreds of other massacres are still unrecognized by the outside world and even by China itself The focus of The Scars of War is the social and psychological not the economic costs of war on the country The book is illustrated with contemporary photographs and woodblock prints Each chapter is introduced by a traditional Chinese saying cheng yu on warfare Routledge Handbook of Revolutionary China Alan Baumler, 2019-08-12 The Routledge Handbook of Revolutionary China covers the evolution of Chinese society from the roots of the Republic of China in the early 1900s until the end of the Cultural Revolution in 1976 The chapters in this volume explain aspects of the process of revolution and how people adapted to the demands of the revolutionary situation Exploring changes in political leadership as well as transformation in culture it compares the differences in experiences in urban and rural areas and contrasts rapid changes such as the war with Japan and Communist liberation with evolutionary developments such as the gradual redefinition of public space Taking a comprehensive approach the themes covered include War occupation and liberation Religion and gender Education cities and travel This is an essential resource for students and scholars of Modern China Republican China Revolutionary China and Chinese Politics Chapter 20 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY 4.0 license China's Transition from Socialism? Dorothy J. Solinger, 2016-06-16 The essays in this volume address the industrial commercial urban and regional reforms of China's planned economy during the 1980s The emphasis is on the dominating institutional and bureaucratic presence of the state even as it sought to loosen the pre 1979 vertically structured centralised command system and to introduce some market principles to stimulate economic activity The essays fall into four categories theoretical and policy discussions and debates at the central leadership level reform of the urban economy and of inter regional relations industrial and commercial reforms and the rise and position of the new entrepreneurial class Many of the essays draw on interviews with Chinese economic officials in the Central China city of Wuhan and therefore this is the only study that uses local data on actual operations of reforms from a Chinese city the other sources are the Chinese press and Chinese official and scholarly journals In each of the categories there are pieces from different points in the chronological process of reform This study begins with the first theoretical discussions among China's economists and top political leaders in the late 1970s and concludes with experiments with bankruptcy and stock markets in the late 1980s The countervailing heavy presence of the state at both the policy and the practical levels throughout the reform decade is its unifying theme The Hump John D. Plating, 2011-02-08 Chronicling the most ambitious airlift in history Carried out over arguably the world's most rugged terrain in its most inhospitable weather system and under the constant threat of enemy attack the trans Himalayan airlift of World War II delivered nearly 740 000 tons of cargo to China making it possible for Chinese forces to wage war against Japan This operation dwarfed the supply delivery by land over the Burma and Ledo Roads and represented the fullest expression of the U S government s commitment to China In this groundbreaking work the first concentrated historical study of the world s first sustained combat airlift operation John D Plating argues that the Hump airlift was initially undertaken to serve as a display of American support for its Chinese ally which had been at war with Japan since 1937 However by 1944 with the airlift s capability gaining momentum American strategists shifted the purpose of air operations to focus on supplying American forces in China in preparation for the U S s final assault on Japan From the standpoint of war materiel the airlift was the precondition that made possible all other allied military action in the China Burma India theater where Allied troops were most commonly inserted supplied and extracted by air Drawing on extensive research that includes Chinese and Japanese archives Plating tells a spellbinding story in a context that relates it to the larger movements of the war and reveals its significance in terms of the development of military air power The Hump demonstrates the operation s far reaching legacy as it became the example and prototype of the Berlin Airlift the first air battle of the Cold War The Hump operation also bore significantly on the initial moves of the Chinese Civil War when Air Transport Command aircraft moved entire armies of Nationalist troops hundreds of miles in mere days in order to prevent Communist forces from being the ones to accept the Japanese surrender

Inflation and Investment Controls in China Yasheng Huang, 1999-11-13 How has the Chinese central government been able to avoid the crippling hyperinflation that has bedeviled so many developing and centrally planned economies China s unique de facto federalism Huang argues a combination of economic and fiscal decentralization and strong political centralization has spurred economic growth and allowed political institutions to impose restraints on inflation from the top down Focusing on central local relations and the controlling role of political institutions Yasheng Huang explains why local Chinese officials comply even against their own economic interests with the investment reduction and inflation control policies of the central government Drawing upon institutional economics he hypothesizes that the central government s powerful role in appointing and firing bureaucrats at the local level helps to reconcile some of the central local economic policy differences Huang uses systematic data analysis to test this proposition This book also offers detailed descriptions of the roles of local governments in economic and investment management

Bounding the Mekong Jim Glassman, 2010-09-16 Transnational economic integration has been described by globalization boosters as a rising tide that will lift all boats an opportunity for all participants to achieve greater prosperity through a combination of political cooperation and capitalist economic competition The Asian Development Bank ADB has championed such rhetoric in promoting the integration of China Southeast Asia s formerly socialist states and Thailand into a regional project called the Greater Mekong Subregion GMS But while the GMS project is in fact hastening regional economic integration Jim Glassman shows that the approach belies the ADB s idealized description of win win outcomes The process of actually existing globalization in the GMS does provide varied opportunities for different actors but it is less a rising tide that lifts all boats than an uneven flood of transnational capitalist development whose outcomes are determined by intense class struggles market competition and regulatory battles Glassman makes the case for adopting a class based approach to analysis of GMS development regionalization and actually existing globalization First he analyzes the interests and actions of various Thai participants in GMS development then the roles of different Chinese actors in GMS integration He next provides two cases illustrating the serious limits of any notion that GMS integration is a relatively egalitarian process Laos participation in GMS development and the role of migrant Burmese workers in the production of the GMS He finds that Burmese migrant workers displace Chinese and Laotian villagers and economically stressed Thai farmers and small businesses are relative losers compared to the powerful business interests that shape GMS integration from locations like Bangkok and Kunming as well as key sites outside the GMS like Beijing Singapore and Tokyo The final chapter blends geographical historical analysis with an assessment of uneven development and actually existing globalization in the GMS Cogent and persuasive Bounding the Mekong will attract attention from the growing number of scholars analyzing globalization neoliberalism regionalization and multiple scales of governance It is suitable for graduate courses in geography political science and sociology as well as courses with a regional focus Centrifugal Empire Jae Ho Chung, 2016-09-06

Despite the destabilizing potential of governing of a vast territory and a large multicultural population the centralized government of the People's Republic of China has held together for decades resisting efforts at local autonomy By analyzing Beijing's strategies for maintaining control even in the reformist post Mao era Centrifugal Empire reveals the unique thinking behind China's approach to local governance its historical roots and its deflection of divergent interests Centrifugal Empire examines the logic mode and instrument of local governance established by the People's Republic and then compares the current system to the practices of its dynastic predecessors The result is an expansive portrait of Chinese leaders attitudes toward regional autonomy and local challenges one concerned with territory specific preoccupations and manifesting in constant searches for an optimal design of control Jae Ho Chung reveals how current communist instruments of local governance echo imperial institutions while exposing the Leninist regime's savvy adaptation to contemporary issues and its need for more sophisticated inter local networks to keep its unitary rule intact He casts the challenges to China's central local relations as perennial since the dilution of the system's socialist or Communist character will only accentuate its fundamentally Chinese or centrifugal nature Decentralized Authoritarianism in China Pierre F. Landry, 2008-10-16

China like many authoritarian regimes struggles with the tension between the need to foster economic development by empowering local officials and the regime's imperative to control them politically Landry explores how the Chinese Communist Party CCP manages local officials in order to meet these goals and perpetuate an unusually decentralized authoritarian regime Using unique data collected at the municipal county and village level Landry examines in detail how the promotion mechanisms for local cadres have allowed the CCP to reward officials for the development of their localities without weakening political control His research shows that the CCP s personnel management system is a key factor in explaining China s enduring authoritarianism and proves convincingly that decentralization and authoritarianism can work hand in hand Deng Xiaoping Alexander Pantsov, Steven I. Levine, 2015 This book covers the entire life of Deng Xiaoping Starting with his childhood and student years to the post Tiananmen era Creating the Zhuang Katherine Palmer Kaup, 2000 Often dismissed by scholars as being no different than the Han majority of China the Zhuang of Guangxi were recognized by Chinese rulers for the first time when the Chinese Communist Party CCP offered them their own autonomous region Kaup political science Furman U analyzes the decision to recognize and effectively create the Zhuang identity by the CCP as an effort to shape regional and ethnic loyalties towards integration with the centralized state Discussing how Zhuang grassroots movements came into being as the CCP withdrew support for special treatment she finds that calls for integration from the Zhuang has increased Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Small Works John A. Donaldson, 2011-08-15 How can policymakers effectively reduce poverty Most mainstream economists advocate promoting economic growth on the grounds that it generally reduces poverty while bringing other economic benefits However this dominant hypothesis offers few alternatives for economies that are unable to grow or in places where economic growth fails to reduce or actually exacerbates poverty In Small Works John A Donaldson draws on his extensive fieldwork in two Chinese provinces Yunnan and Guizhou that are exceptions to the purported relationship between economic growth and poverty reduction In Yunnan an outward oriented developmental state one that focuses on large scale urban development has largely failed to reduce poverty even though it succeeded in stimulating economic growth Provincial policy shaped roads tourism and mining in ways that often precluded participation by poor people By contrast Guizhou is a micro oriented state one that promotes small scale low skill economic opportunities and so reduces poverty despite slow economic growth It is no coincidence that this Guizhou approach parallels the ideas encapsulated in the scientific development view of China s current president Hu Jintao After all Hu when Guizhou s leader helped establish the micro oriented state in the province Donaldson s conclusions have implications for our understanding of development and poverty reduction economic change in China and the thinking behind China s policy decisions Administrative Reform in Post-Mao China Stephen K. Ma, 1996 This book analyzes China s bureaucratic behavior since the inauguration of administrative reform in the late 1970s Although bureaucratic behavior in China in the past decade was increasingly corrupted this aspect of China s post Mao reform has not been subjected to a rigorous scrutiny This book explores the gulf between desired and the actual bureaucratic behavior among China s public administrators The author argues that this behavioral gap in China s modernization stems from several factors including the nation s cultural heritage the ruling party s approach to government and the absence of trusted full fledged academic groups assigned to advise on administrative reform The book then probes one of the gravest consequences of the behavioral gap reform corruption a phenomenon which seems to be a mixed blessing of modernization Building New China, Colonizing Kokonor Gregory Rohlf, 2016-03-04 Building New China Colonizing Kokonor Resettlement to Amdo and Qinghai in the 1950s examines rural resettlement to the Sino Tibetan cultural borderlands in the 1950s More than 100 000 eastern Han and Hui Chinese were sent to Qinghai province known in Mongolian as Kokonor and Amdo to Tibetans to plow up new fields in areas that were being incorporated into the Chinese state for the first time The settlers were to bring their skilled labor literacy and modern thinking to backward Qinghai to fully exploit its natural resources of oil natural gas gold and empty lands for the benefit of the industrializing nation The book is a social and political history of resettlement focusing on the people who were moved and the overall impact the program had on the province It is a frontier history but it also narrates a story of state building in modern China that spans the twentieth century and the opening years of the twenty first The Uyghurs Gardner Bovingdon, 2010 For more than half a century many Uyghurs members of a Muslim minority in northwestern China have sought to achieve greater autonomy or outright independence Yet the Chinese government has consistently resisted these efforts countering with repression and a sophisticated strategy of state sanctioned propaganda emphasizing interethnic harmony and Chinese nationalism After decades of struggle Uyghurs remain passionate about establishing and expanding their power within government and China s leaders continue to push back refusing to concede any physical or political ground Beginning with the history of Xinjiang and its unique population of Chinese Muslims Gardner Bovingdon follows fifty years of Uyghur discontent particularly the development of individual and collective acts of resistance since 1949 as well as the role of various transnational organizations in cultivating dissent Bovingdon s work provides fresh insight into the practices of nation building and nation challenging not only in relation to Xinjiang but also in reference to other regions of conflict His work highlights the influence of international institutions on growing regional autonomy and underscores the role of representation in nationalist politics as well as the local regional and global implications of the war on terror on antistate movements While both the Chinese state and foreign analysts have portrayed Uyghur activists as Muslim terrorists situating them within global terrorist networks Bovingdon argues that these assumptions are flawed drawing a clear line between Islamist ideology and Uyghur nationhood
